CANDIDATES HERE END RACE AGAINST TWO INCUMBENTS

Slagle And Tucker Announce Withdrawals From Race Saturday

MONROE HEADS ASSURED FOR FULL 4-YEAR TERM

Some Observers Surprised By Action Of Pair In Announcements

Monroe's incumbent city officials all were assured of full four-year terms Saturday when the two opposing candidates for mayor and commissioner of finance and utilities withdrew from the second primary.

Shortly before noon Elmer C. Slagle who was second in the four-way contest for mayor in last Tuesday's Democratic primary formally announced the withdrawal of his candidacy. Simultaneously, Bob Ed Tucker withdrew his candidacy in the second primary race for commissioner of finance and utilities against W. D. H. Rodriguez who led in the first primary.

A few minutes after the formal announcements by Slagle and Tucker, the city Democratic Executive committee met to promulgate the vote in the primary and declared Mayor Benoit and Commissioners Tidwell and Rodriguez the official Democratic party nominees.

Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

It was the first election victory for Mayor Benoit and Commissioner Tidwell, both of whome were serving by appointment in their present capacities.

The withdrawal of both Slagle and Tucker from the contests came as a surprise to some observers. It was agreed generally that Slagle had little chance to win over Mayor Benoit who polled only 224 votes short of a majority over four candidates, but Tucker was rated an even chance of winning in a second primary against Commissioner Rodriguez.

In his formal statement of withdrawal from the second primary Slagle said, "I wish to thank my many friends for the support accorded me in the first primary for mayor.

"After due consideration, I have decided that I will not be a candidate for mayor in the second primary.

"In making this decision, I wish to extend to Mayor Harvey Benoit my sincere wishes for a most successful administration during the coming four years."

Tucker's statement of withdrawal said, "I take this means of making formal announcement of my withdrawal as a candidate for the office of commissioner of finance and public utilities of Monroe.

" In doing so I want to extend my sincerest thanks and appreciation to my many friends who worked tirelessly in my behalf, and to the hundreds who so loyally supported me in the first primary. My gratitude to you is more than I can express in words.

"I hope that my friends and supporters will understand that this step on my part has been taken only after consultation and mature reflection, and in the interest of peace and harmony among our people; and I am myself consoled, in part at least, by the knowledge that my action will relieve the people of Monroe of the bitterness

Radio Patrol Cars In Monroe Assured

City Police Are Granted Permit To Operate Station Here

A telegram yesterday from T. J. Slowie, federal communications commission secretary, to Mayor H. H. Benoit, announced that the commission will grant the city of Monroe's application for police radio equipment to send and receive calls. The application was filed some time ago.

The permit allows a 500-watt radio transmitter which will be installed by the RCA-Victor corporation at a total cost of approximately $70,000.

The Ouachita police jury, which worked in cooperation with the police department in seeking the permit, will pay half the cost of installation. The city of Monroe will pay the other. Four police cars will be equipped with two-way sets and two motorcycles will have receiving sets. The sheriff's department will equip three cars with two-way sets.

Ordinarily the station will be heard within a radius of 100 miles and under good atmospheric conditions it may be received by Canadian listeners. Surrounding parishes and towns will equip official cars with receiving sets.

"The radio station is expected to increase the efficiency of the police department and to expedite the answering of calls," Police Chief Frank Reitzell said.

Preliminary work on construction will begin within the next few days. A telegram was sent Saturday to the RCA company, authorizing them to begin work. The station is expected to be completed 30 days after work begins. Call letters will be WMLP. The station will be on the air 24 hours daily.

A few days after the application was made the federal communications commission sent it back for minor corrections. They were promptly made and the application returned. The police jury, Mayor Benoit and the police department were unceasing in their efforts to obtain the permit.

OUACHITA ALUMNI DINNER PLANNED

Mrs. Mitchell, Judge Heard Are In Charge Of Arrangements

The program for the annual dinner of Ouachita Parish High school alumni at 8 p.m. May 17 on the Frances hotel roof, was announced Saturday by Mrs Fred Mitchell, West Monroe.

Mrs. Mitchell and City Judge Jesse Heard, West Monroe, are in charge of arrangements.

James H. Trousdale, Jr., class of '27, will be toastmaster, J. C. Wallace, '40, will pronounce invocation, followed by a vocal solo, "Irish Hills," from Londonderry Air, sung by Charles Chapman, '40.

J. Norman Coon, '22, will welcome the class of 1940, and the response will be by Nelson Abell, class president. Miss Jane Humphries, '39, will play a marimba solo, accompanied by Miss Beth Harper Rinehart, '38.

A trio, Miss Georgia Bell Goza, Miss Bonnie Crenshaw and Miss Irvie Lee Humble, will sing Reigger's "In My Garden," which will be followed by the election of officers. After the installation Miss Elbertine Moore will play a piano solo, "Bolero de Concert," by Mana Zucca.

James D. Sparks, '27, will make the evening's address and the banquet will end with the singing of "How We Love to Go to Ouachita."

Tickets may be obtained from Miss Mable Hood at the Palace, the bookstore at Northeast Junior college, the New South Drug store, and in West Monroe from Miss Helen Grant at Durrett's Hardware and Furniture company.

MERCURY THIEVES STRANGE PROBLEM OF SHERIFF STAFF

Parish Pipeline Meters Drained By Robbers In Daring Jobs

OFFER $100 REWARD FOR INFORMATION IN ARREST

Experts Blamed For Job By Sheriff Coverdale In Rare Case

Sheriff Milton Coverdale last night offered $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons who drained mercury from 31 pipeline meters in Ouachita and Morehouse parishes Thursday night.

Sheriff Coverdale said that the knowledge required to extract the mercury valued at between $800 and $1,000 from the meters indicated conclusively that the novel crime was committed by someone with a working knowledge of pipeline meters.

The meters are located in meter-houses stationed along the lines and have from one to four meters to a house.

To get the mercury the gas pressure through the meters has to be regulated, and the job must have been done by persons who know how and where the gas can be cut off on the meters in order to release the pressure which allows the mercury to be extracted, the sheriff said.

The task of looting 31 meters in one night was no small one, the sheriff pointed out. The pipelines run for miles and the stations in some cases are from a mile to a mile and a half from the nearest road.

The sheriff further pointed out that there is a hidden opening in the backs of the meters which it requires someone with a knowledge of meters to find, and only an expert can tamper with the pressure valves to allow the mercury to be released.

In offering the reward Sheriff Coverdale said that the source of the information would be kept secret.

HERBERT FINK TO HEAD CREDIT MEN

Officers Named At Annual Banquet; Ryland Renamed Secretary

New officers for the ensuing year have been elected by the Monroe Credit Men's association, H. B. Ryland, secretary of the association, announced Saturday.

Herbert J. Fink was named president, Ivy Jordan, vice-president, and Mr. Ryland, secretary-treasurer. E. Jack Selig is the retiring president.

Named to the board of directors were A. B. Clarkson, David C. Silverstein, Hal Hodges, Ben Downing, P. E. Ventioner, Bernard Levy, L. J. Hayes, T. H. Woods, Sam Davis, J. W. Webster and Bert Gregory.

The election was held at the annual banquet of the association Thursday at the Virginia hotel.

Speaking at the banquet Mr. Davis discussed the convention of the Louisiana Retail Credit association, to be held in Lake Charles May 20-21, and urged all members to attend.

Jones' Inauguration Scheduled Tuesday

Long Dynasty's Fall Will Be Complete As New Chief Executive Assumes Office; Sam Faces Many Problems

By Norman Walker

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(AP)—Louisiana will turn a fresh page in history as Huey Long's political dynasty completes its rise and fall.

The cycle ends at noon Tuesday when a plain, 42-year-old lawyer with a plainer name takes over a government left plundered and unwieldy from a dozen years' dictatorship.

A throng exceeding 100,000 will exalt in song as Sam Jones becomes Louisiana's 49th governor, pledged to cleanse its scandal-ridden affairs and eliminate possibilities for future graft and corruption.

The inauguration will take place in the huge horseshoe football stadium on the state university campus where, less than a year ago, the school's president fled a thief and Huey's domain began tottering toward its ultimate fall.

Outgoing Governor Earl K. Long, the late Huey's brother and his smashed machine's unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate against Jones in the spring elections, will be absent.

Bitter and disappointed over his defeat, Long said that he would not be on hand to congratulate his successor, but would leave the capitol ahead of time in order to avoid any "embarrassing" situations.

Neither will the outgoing executive address the legislature when it convenes Monday noon in biennial session, ready for work on the new administration's ambitious program.

"What would I have to say to the legislature?" Long asked.

That the incoming governor will have plenty to say already is assured. His plans include broad reform measures aimed at throttling expensive bureaucracy—consolidations which will

Germans' Foothold In Belgium Proves Costly To Troops

Luxembourg Outposts Continue To Hold Following Plans

By Robert Okin

BRUSSELS, May 11.—(AP)—Supported by planes and armored cars powerful German forces won a foothold in Belgian defense positions near the Netherlands city of Maastricht today.

But a government communique tonight reported the Nazis had sustained heavy losses in attacks on Belgian fortifications and claimed "our positions remained intact" around the fortified town of Liege.

(The German high command claimed capture of Eben Emael, strongest fort in the Liege chain commanding the crossing of the Albert canal and the Meuse river at and west of Maastricht, 15 miles north of Liege itself. DNB, official German news agency, said another Liege port fell into German hands yesterday.)

Tonight's communique said:

"During the day important enemy forces, with the aid of incessant bombardments carried out by powerful aerial units and supported by armored cars, attacked in the Maastricht region.

"They succeeded in getting a foothold in our defense line.

"Our troops in Luxembourg continued their operations following a preconceived plan and vigorously held their own against the invaders.

"Around Liege our positions remain intact. The enemy has suffered heavy losses before certain of our fortifications.

"The enemy aviation has carried out systematic bombardments, attacking numerous localities over a great part of our territory."

An earlier communique said Belgian troops in the first line of defense had established contact with German advance units "in several sectors" of the front, and claimed at least 13 German planes were shot down. "Very active" operations of Belgian fliers and anti-aircraft batteries were cited.

Chief points of contact between the Belgian and German forces were said to be along the Albert canal and the Meuse river and in the Ardennes mountains facing German-occupied Luxembourg.

Heavily-equipped British and French troops, bringing up artillery, tanks and engineering equipment, moved through Belgium to undisclosed positions and Nazi bombers raided Brussels and other communication centers through the second day of the German attack on the low countries.

German planes also continued to drop parachute troops.

But the Belgian communique claimed neither of these branches of the German air army had been particularly effective. It reported the enemy bombardments, two of which were aimed at Brussels, had caused no "important damage," and that most of the parachute troops were "captured or neutralized."

Brussels was bombed twice this morning, and two persons were killed while seeking shelter.

A report from Rizensart, about 10 miles from Brussels, said four soldiers were killed in a bombardment there. Alost, 15 miles west of the capital, also was reported bombed, and flights of German planes were sighted over Namur and Dinant, southeast of Brussels.

(DNB, official German news agency, reported that further to the southeast, at Liege, 62 miles from Brussels, Ger-

Sub-Committee Head, Pair Will Inspect Games In This Area

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The war department announced today that Chairman Snyder, Democrat, Pennsylvania, of the house military appropriations subcommittee and two other representatives would inspect maneuvers of the Third Army in progress in Louisiana and Texas.

Representatives Snyder, Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, and Case, Republican, South Dakota, arranged to leave Bolling field in army planes at 8 a.m. eastern standard time Sunday. Snyder said one purpose of the trip was to determine what additional funds were needed to put American defenses in "first class condition."

En route to Camp Beauregard, La., the party will stop at Fort Benning, Ga., where they will be guests of Brigadier General Asa Singleton and then proceed to New Orleans. Boarding an army engineer boat there, they will inspect Mississippi river improvements as far as Plaquemine, La.

WAR FUND DRIVE OPENS THURSDAY

Ouachita Parish Quota Is $4,000; Leaders To Speak On Air

A campaign to raise $4,000, Ouachita parish's quota of the American Red Cross $10,000,000 war chest drive, will be launched Thursday by the local chapter.

In quick response to a challenge to raise a fund for relief of innocent victims in war-torn European nations, a meeting of the board of directors of the Ouachita parish Red Cross chapter was held Saturday morning at Community Chest headquarters in the Virginia hotel.

Named to the executive committee for the local drive were A. V. Miller, general chairman; H. R. Hodges, S. A. Moss, Mrs. DeWitt Milam, Rev. C. Karlos Smith, Tom E. Hicks, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Rabbi F. K. Hirsch and A. B. Clarkson.

Mr. Clarkson was appointed personnel chairman and Rev. R. T. Watson, publicity chairman.

A second meeting of the executive committee will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Community Chest headquarters to make final plans for the drive.

E. C. Gibson, chiarman of the local chapter, will make an appeal over radio station KMLB at 10 a.m. Sunday and Mr. Miller will broadcast at 2 p.m.

TELEPHONE MARRIAGE NOT FOR SHREVEPORTER

SHREVEPORT, La., May 11.—(AP)—The long-distance telephone marriage last November 1 of a Shreveport man and a Dallas woman proved to have been the wrong number for both parties when it ended Saturday in a divorce court.

R. W. Worley, local boilermaker, and Mrs. Nettie Kottle were married over a telephone, Worley being in his home here and Mrs. Kottle and the minister being in Dallas. Today Mrs. Worley was granted a divorce in Judge E. P. Mills' district court after the wedding "just didn't pan out."

MOTHERS OF THE YEAR: These Made Headlines

MRS. HAROLD L. ICKES, wife of the United States secretary of the interior, is one of the mothers who made news since the last Mother's Day. Considerably younger than her husband, she gave birth to a boy in September, 1939. Their 1938 marriage was a big news event.

MARTHA, Crown Princess of Norway, left her three little children behind when she and Crown Prince Olav visited the United States in the summer of 1939. The whereabouts of the Norwegian royal family is unknown since it fled before the invading German army.

MRS. CLYDE SHORT became one mother in 1,000,000 when she gave birth to quadruplets last January. Records show quad births are that rare. The babies—Faith, Hope, Charity and Franklin—were born in the Shorts' home near Nauvoo, Ala. A month later Hope died.

MRS. GRACE VOLKMAN, of Minneapolis, infantile paralysis sufferer, gave birth to a daughter, Jean, in an iron lung. This is the smile she gave her daughter when she was allowed to leave the lung for a short time. Mrs. Volkman's sister is caring for her niece.

MOTHER OF THE DALAI LAMA was the destiny of this 40-year-old Chinese peasant. Her six-year-old son, born in Koko-nor, Mongolia, was chosen for one of the greatest honors that can come to a Chinese . . . Dalai Lama, or ruler, of forbidden, far-away Tibet.

AMERICAN MOTHER for 1940 is the title conferred on Mrs. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., widow of the famous surgeon. Chosen as "representative of the best there is in womanhood," she will personify United States mothers in New York today.

BRUSSELS, May 11.—(AP)—Supported by planes and armored cars, powerful German forces won a foothold in Belgian defense positions near the Netherlands city of Maastricht today.

But a government communique tonight reported the Nazis had sustained "heavy losses" in attacks on Belgian fortifications, and claimed "our positions remained intact" around the fortified town of Liege.

(The German high command claimed capture of Eben Emael, strongest fort in the Liege chain commanding the crossing of the Albert canal and the Meuse river at and west of Maastricht, 15 miles north of Liege itself. DNB, official German news agency, said another Liege port fell into German hands yesterday.)

Tonight's communique said:

"During the day important enemy forces, with the aid of incessant bombardments carried out by powerful aerial units and supported by armored cars, attacked in the Maastricht region.

"They succeeded in getting a foothold in our defense line.

"Our troops in Luxembourg continued their operations following a preconceived plan and vigorously held their own against the invaders.

"Around Liege our positions remain intact. The enemy has suffered heavy losses before certain of our fortifications.

"The enemy aviation has carried out systematic bombardments, attacking numerous localities over a great part of our territory."

An earlier communique said Belgian troops in the first line of defense had established contact with German advance units "in several sectors" of the front, and claimed at least 15 German planes were shot down. "Very active" operations of Belgian fliers and anti-aircraft batteries were cited.

Chief points of contact between the Belgian and German forces were said to be along the Albert canal and the Meuse river and in the Ardennes mountains facing German-occupied Luxembourg.

Heavily-equipped British and French troops, bringing up artillery, tanks and engineering equipment, moved through Belgium to undisclosed positions and Nazi bombers raided Brussels and other communication centers through the second day of the German attack on the low countries.

German planes also continued to drop parachute troops.

But the Belgian communique claimed neither of these branches of the German air army had been particularly effective. It reported the enemy bombardments, two of which were aimed at Brussels, had caused no "important damage," and that most of the parachute troops were "captured or neutralized."

Brussels was bombed twice this morning, and two persons were killed while seeking shelter.

A report from Rizensart, about 10 miles from Brussels, said four soldiers were killed in a bombardment there. Alost, 15 miles west of the capital, also was reported bombed, and flights of German planes were sighted over Namur and Dinant, southeast of Brussels.

ARMY MANEUVERS WILL BE STUDIED BY SOLONS' GROUP

Sub-Committee Head, Pair Will Inspect Games In This Area

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The war department announced today that Chairman Snyder, Democrat, Pennsylvania, of the house military appropriations subcommittee and two other representatives would inspect maneuvers of the Third Army in progress in Louisiana and Texas.

Representatives Snyder, Brooks, Democrat, Louisiana, and Case, Republican, South Dakota, arranged to leave Bolling field in army planes at 8 a.m. eastern standard time Sunday. Snyder said one purpose of the trip was to determine what additional funds were needed to put American defenses in "first class condition."

En route to Camp Beauregard, La., the party will stop at Fort Benning, Ga., where they will be guests of Brigadier General Asa Singleton and then proceed to New Orleans. Boarding an army engineer boat there, they will inspect Mississippi river improvements as far as Plaquemine, La.

Representatives Brooks and Case are World war veterans, the former hav-

WAR FUND DRIVE OPENS THURSDAY

Ouachita Parish Quota Is $4,000; Leaders To Speak On Air

A campaign to raise $4,000, Ouachita parish's quota of the American Red Cross $10,000,000 war chest drive, will be launched Thursday by the local chapter.

In quick response to a challenge to raise a fund for relief of innocent victims in war-torn European nations, a meeting of the board of directors of the Ouachita parish Red Cross chapter was held Saturday morning at Community Chest headquarters in the Virginia hotel.

Named to the executive committee for the local drive were A. V. Miller, general chairman; H. R. Hodges, S. A. Moss, Mrs. DeWitt Milam, Rev. C. Karlos Smith, Tom E. Hicks, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Rabbi F. K. Hirsch and A. B. Clarkson.

Mr. Clarkson was appointed personnel chairman and Rev. R. T. Watson, publicity chairman.

A second meeting of the executive committee will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Community Chest headquarters to make final plans for the drive.

E. C. Gibson, chiarman of the local chapter, will make an appeal over radio station KMLB at 10 a.m. Sunday and Mr. Miller will broadcast at 2 p.m.

Speakers to appear before various civic clubs are Mr. Moss, Lions club; Mr. Miller, Kiwanis clubs of Monroe and West Monroe; Rabbi Hirsch, Rotary club, and E. C. Gibson, Y's Men's club.

EDEN AS WAR MINISTER CAUSES FURTHER STRAINS

ROME, May 11.—(AP)—The inclusion of Anthony Eden as war minister in Winston Churchill's new British war cabinet means no good for the strained Italian-British relations, in the opinion of fascists. The news of his appointment, however, came too late tonight for official comment.

The name of Eden is indelibly linked in Italy with the sanctions imposed during her Ethiopian campaign—a move in which he took the lead as British delegate to Geneva.

INVOLUNTARY HOMICIDE CHARGED IN SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., May 11.—(AP)—A charge of involuntary homicide was filed against Dr. Albert McKinney, 34, of Texarkana, in the district attorney's office after Henry L. Ramey, 58, of Mira, died early today from injuries suffered when he was struck by a car driven by McKinney in Mira Friday night. Dr. McKinney was released from the parish jail under $500 bond.

MOTHERS OF THE YEAR: These Made Headlines

MRS. HAROLD L. ICKES, wife of the United States secretary of the interior, is one of the mothers who made news since the last Mother's Day. Considerably younger than her husband, she gave birth to a boy in September, 1939. Their 1938 marriage was a big news event.

MARTHA, Crown Princess of Norway, left her three little children behind when she and Crown Prince Olav visited the United States in the summer of 1939. The whereabouts of the Norwegian royal family is unknown since it fled before the invading German army.

MRS. CLYDE SHORT became one mother in 1,000,000 when she gave birth to quadruplets last January. Records show quad births are that rare. The babies—Faith, Hope, Charity and Franklin—were born in the Shorts' home near Nauvoo, Ala. A month later Hope died.

MRS. GRACE VOLKMAN, of Minneapolis, infantile paralysis sufferer, gave birth to a daughter, Jean, in an iron lung. This is the smile she gave her daughter when she was allowed to leave the lung for a short time. Mrs. Volkman's sister is caring for her niece.

MOTHER OF THE DALAI LAMA was the destiny of this 40-year-old Chinese peasant. Her six-year-old son, born in Kokonor, Mongolia, was chosen for one of the greatest honors that can come to a Chinese . . . Dalai Lama, or ruler, of forbidden, faraway Tibet.

AMERICAN MOTHER for 1940 is the title conferred on Mrs. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., widow of the famous surgeon. Chosen as "representative of the best there is in womanhood," she will personify United States mothers in New York today.

FRENCH DECLARE GERMANS HALTED

Claim Whole Division In Greatest Attack Is Hurled Back

By Roy B. Porter

PARIS, May 11.—(AP)—Seasoned French troops in the Sierck region of the Moselle river valley today beat off the largest German attack on the Maginot line since the war started, military sources reported. An entire German division of 15,000 men was said to have been halted in its tracks.

The Nazi movement just east of Luxembourg reportedly was crushed from the strongly fortified front-line positions to which outpost units withdrew yesterday at the first assault by Nazi advance guards.

Additional forces quartered in the subterranean Maginot line supported the battle squads with artillery and machine gun fire and tonight the military spokesman here said the battle area was quieting down.

At the same time a French high command communique said the Germans had lost heavily in fighting in the southern part of Luxembourg.

German troop landings on beaches in the vicinity of The Hague have caused a "troubled" situation in Holland, military authorities said. Dutch troops are reported resisting the new threat with the aid of British aviation.

Some British troops have moved up to reinforce Belgian forces, a military source said, while others are advancing northward to support the Dutch.

He indicated preparations were going ahead for large-scale fighting which forecasters have said might result in the "most gigantic battle of all times."

France counted her civilian dead in two days of air raids at 14 7tonight, reports from various towns swelling the first total of more than 100 persons killed.

The report indicated that air fields, railway centers and stations appeared to be the principal objects of the Nazi air force.

Other reports said German planes bombarded Reims, Epernay and Chalons-Sur-Marne in France but results of the attacks were not given.

Official French reports said 36 more German planes had been shot down in France and Belgium during a day of intense aerial activity on both sides.

This brings the Nazi plane losses in France and Belgium along during the first two days of extended warfare to 80.

In the Maginot line fighting, the Germans apparently were attempting to divert military forces from a series of sharp engagements inside Luxembourg.

West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

Today is Mother's day and the services will be directed in honor of mothers. As a token of our appreciation of the mothers we are giving some little gifts to the oldest mother, the youngest mother and the mother who has the most children present at services. Evangelist Mrs. Clara Classen will speak to the mothers at 11:00 a.m. Sunday school meets in all departments at 9:45 a.m., S. W. Hamilton superintendent. Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:30 p.m. at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Glassen, who has been conducting special services all week will give her life's story. We invite you to hear this interesting story, how God protected an orphan girl and kept her from many pitfalls and finally healed her body after twenty-four doctors had given her up to die and called her into His vineyard to labor for Him. Do not miss this service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

"The Influence and Power of Womanhood" will be the subject for the pastor's "Mother's day" sermon this morning at 11 o'clock. Music appropriate for the occasion will be rendered by Mrs. J. Norman Coon and Miss Mary Jeanette Ziegler. We extend a special invitation to the United States army officers and men encamped in Monroe to be with us at all services while they are here, but especially for "Mother's day" service since they are away from home and cannot be with their mothers today.

At the evening hour we will have the privilege of hearing Rev. J. J. Cowsert from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a seminary classmate and friend of the pastor. Don't miss his message. All other services at the regular time. Let us pray that today may be the greatest in many a day. How we do need the Lord!

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.
Dr. A. E. Prince, Pastor
Professor Dallas Goss, Music Director
Miss Beulah Doerr, Educational Director

Today is Mother's day and will be celebrated in all the churches. The churches of the Southern Baptist convention are asked to place emphasis this week on the Christian home. This church will celebrate Mother's day and inaugurate this Christian Home week by a sermon by Dr. Prince at 10:50 a.m. today on "Dedicating the Home." In view of conditions prevailing in America today, this subject is timely. The pastor will also preach at the evening service.

The schedule for worship in this church today is as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.; B. T. U. leaders' meeting, 7 p.m.; evening service, 8 p.m. Note that all evening services are 15 minutes later effective today.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street

"There are thousands of stars that shine at night,
Thousands of flowers that make
summer bright,
Thousands of dewdrops the morning to greet,
Thousands of birds with voices
sweet,
Thousands of bees in the purple
clover—
But only one mother the whole world over."

Make her heart rejoice today by giving her some token of your heart's love, and by going to church and joining God's people in rendering honor to mother. The pastor's subject for the morning service will be: "An Old Time Mother" (I Samuel, 1:27, 28). Special recognition will be given to the oldest mother, and to the youngest mother present at the morning service.

The evening subject will be: "A Son of Shame—Jepthah" (Judges, 11:35). Calvary church invites you to its services.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
Dale Cobb, Choir Director

Sunday school begins today at 9:30 a.m. All adults and young people's classes will meet in the Lida Benton scshool building for their classes. All Intermediate, Junior, Primary, Beginners and Cradle roll will meet at the church for their classes, meeting 9:30 to 10:40 a.m. We are now growing a great Sunday school and urge all this neighborhood to give the best of your cooperation for the safety and help of your family and friends in this, the Lord's great work.

The week of study course recently had should greatly strengthen our Baptist Training union work and we anticipate that from this day on we shall have much better programs and work in all these unions. Let all the membership be on time in the blessing at 6:45 p.m.

The pastor's sermon subject will be in keeping with the special Mothers' day, "A Woman's Memorial." Three beautiful bouquets will be given to mothers; the oldest mother, the mother with most children and the youngest mother. Families are invited to sit together for the worship service. The evening sermon subject is "The Man Who Was Too Good."

The W. M. S. will meet Monday at 2 p.m. Circle No. 1, Mrs. A. Osborn, 405 Dixie; No. 2 with Mrs. Morrison, 2804 South Grand; No. 3, Mrs. Spruel, 218 Eagin. These meetings are within easy reach for all and we invite all to attend and share the good work now being done by this group of the Lord's laborers.

The fact that the shock of shell and the thunder of war is on is all the greater reason for your loyalty to the church and her great work now that our Christ kingdom is also subjected to the enemy.

PENIEL BAPTIST CHURCH
Pastor, Rev. J. T. Hinkie

This church, situated below the Brown Paper mill, invites you to attend Sunday school at 10 o'clock and services at 11 o'clock. There will be a special Mother's day program Sunday night at 7:15. The program consists of a pantomime "Mothers of Men" and a playlet "Because We Love You," under the direction of Mrs. Johnnie Bowman. After the program Rev. J. T. Hinkie will bring a special Mother's day sermon, his subject being "Just Like Mother."

RIDGE AVENUE BAPTIST TABERNACLE

Following our custom, three plants will be presented to three mothers, one to the oldest mother present, one to the youngest mother presnt, and one to the mother with the most children present.

Evening service at 7:30 p.m. Sermon theme, "For Me to Live Is Christ."

Today is Mother's day. Honor her by attending church.

Our state convention will be held at Shreveport in our Central church, May 14 to 17. It will be a joint convention. Our Arkansas churches will meet with us. Plan now to go. The program will be challenging. Among the guest speakers will be Dr. Floyd Bash of Des Moines, Ia., and Dr. O. L. Shelton of Wichita Falls, Tex.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Corner Auburn Avenue And North Second Street

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 12, 1940.

The golden text is: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit" (John 3:6).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." (Gen. 2.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man reflects God; mankind represents the Adamic race, and is a human, not a divine, creation." (Page 525.)

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Sunday is Pentecost. It is so called because it is 50 days after the first day of the Passover which originally celebrated the completion of the harvest, but later came to commemorate the giving of the law on Sanai. The arrival of the feast would stimulate the expectancy of the little company of believers (120) to whom our Lord promised to send another Comforter who would abide with them forever. The outpouring of the Spirit was commonly associated with the coming of the new age.

The neglect of the Holy Spirit is the source of our troubles today—materialism, indifference to religion, neglect of Christian practises and the lowering of standards of morals and life. We need to revive in ourselves and in the church a greater devotion to the Holy Spirit. Let us begin it on this coming Pentecost (Whitsunday).

Services in Grace church are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. for the express purpose for the faithful to make their Whitsunday communion. The church school will assemble at 9:30 a.m., and the mid-day service will be a choral Eucharist with sermon by the rector.

The church has given us a special collect, epistle and gospel for Monday and Tuesday of this week. And Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember days. Services during the week are as follows: Tuesday at 9 a.m. and Friday at 7:30 a.m. The Eucharist will be celebrated on each of these days.

The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m., until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks. You are welcome.

MOTHER

"Her love outlasts all human love;
Her faith endures the longest, hardest
test,
Her grace and patience through a life-time prove
That she's a friend, the noblest and the best. —Selected.

Go to church today and worship you Mother's God. Whether your rose is white or red you can find no better way of honoring her.

The pastor will use as his theme at the morning service, "Slaves For Liberty" and at the evening hour, "Meaning of Stewardship."

Each morning through the week at the radio hour he will have as his topics "Larger Things," "Right, and What We Have," "Higher Claims First," "Poignant Questions," "Lines of Development" and "Teaching Christian Practice."

Help your class in the church school to have a hundred per cent attendance today. The Epworth league meets at 6:45 in the Church annex. Monday evening at 7 o'clock there will be regular sessions of the board of stewards and the second quarterly conference. Supper will be served.

The Society of Christian Service will meet in circles Tuesday.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
J. M. Alford, Pastor

We had 126 at Sunday school last Sunday and have as our goal for today 150. We hope everyone will help us to make this day—"Mother's day"—the best of the entire year. We earnestly request and cordially invite one and all to attend our Sunday school and remain for the special Mother's day program at 11:00 o'clock. At this time the pastor will preach on "Christian Mothers." At the evening hour, 7:30 o'clock, the young people of the Intermediate Epworth league, under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert Branch, will render a program suitable to the occasion. Both leagues will meet at 6:30 p.m. A large number of our members and friends assembled at the church last Monday evening for a social meeting, which was a great success in every way. About twenty-five of our young people attended the Union league meeting at Sterlington Friday evening. Let every member of all the churches and everybody honor mother today by attending religious services somewhere!

What could we do, were it not for you
When it is sorrowing time?
You're always true, the whole year
through
O mother, sweet mother of mine.

In your lullaby songs, you forget our wrongs
And love us even if we are bad,
To no other one belongs such heavenly
"wands"
To cheer us when we are sad!

You nourished me night and day, In your own sweet way,
And when I was sufficiently fed
You taught me to pray, and watched
me as I lay
Snugly in my little trundle-bed!

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
C. Karlos Smith, Pastor-Evangelist

Today will be observed throughout the whole of the United States "Mother's Day" and we are expecting the greatest congregation of the year in attendance upon all the services of the day. Special Mother's Day services will be the order of all services. In this strange day of world upheaval when the desire to kill and destroy dominates the minds of so many men, surely this is a time when Christian people should look to Christ Jesus and the church to bring order out of chaos. The Christians of America have before them the greatest opportunity ever presented to them in history. If Christian America fails; what next? You are invited and urged to turn to the church and to the worship of our Lord Jesus Christ. Our services begin at 9:45 a.m. with the Sunday school. At 11:00 a.m. special Mother's day services. If there is a mother who does not have a way to get to church, if a call will be made to 1112 a car will be sent. The services of the evening will be in keeping with the spirit of the day. The subject for the morning services will be: "Mother." For the evening services the subject will be: "The Debt We Owe To Our Parents." You are invited to attend all services.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

"If you have a gray-haired mother
In the old home far away,
Sit you down and write the letter
You put off from day to day.
Don't wait until her weary steps
Reach heaven's pearly gate,
But show her that you think of her
Before it is too late."

To all who are not attending regularly the house of God, we extend a cordial invitation to worship with us. Sunday school begins at 9:45, with a class for every age group. With efficient, understanding teachers, we feel that your visit with us will not be a disappointment. The 11 o'clock service will be a "Mother's Day" observance. "Mothers of Men" will be the subject. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Mrs. Henry Leckie will direct the meeting. Eevening services at 7:30. The service will begin with spirited singing and earnest prayer. The subject of the evening will be "A Sermon on a Raised Window Shade."

Yes, a bit odd, but impressive. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Circle No. 1 will meet with Mrs. Ira Waldroup, 212 Apple St. Circle No. 2 will meet with Mrs. R. W. Irby, 4500 Jackson. Midweek prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30. Mr. Wallace Reeves will lead the service.

What if this country should go to war? Of course, we don't want our boys to die on the battlefields of France again. Then, too, we are a peaceful nation. We have the "good neighbor" policy toward other nations.

But, as a people and as an individual, do we honor God as we should? Do we attend Sunday school, the church services, the prayer meetings, and are we devotional in our own personal lives—in other words, does the church, the ministry, and God mean anything to us? If sacred things are worthwhile to the young person, they certainly should contribute happiness to the adult. The church is the only institution known to man, which offers a living, meaningful, salvation message to all mankind, everywhere. Let us "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

Bible school at 9:45 a.m., Mr. S. P. Quigley, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. by the pastor. Young people's meetings at 6:30 p.m., Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Mrs. Alameda Brown, Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. T. J. Gardiner, sponsors. The W. F. M. S. will meet with Mrs. Ina Lee Akin, 2806 Gordon avenue, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Akin will be in charge of the meeting. We cordially invite you to worship with us this Lord's day.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

During the past week we have had the pleasure and privilege of hearing the Rev. C. L. King, D. D., Houston, Tex. His messages have enriched us. Today he delivers the last two messages of the revival. Will you hear him? He speaks at the morning and evening hours of worship, the time 11:00 and 7:30 o'clock.

A special Mother's day program will be given at the Men's Bible class and in the young people's department of the Sabbath school. You are urged to attend. If you will attend, the goal, which is 400, will be reached.

The women of the church are anticipating the presence of all the women of the congregation at the birthday party, Tuesday, May 21, 3:00 p.m. The offering is for the daily vacation Bible school program.

You are inivted to worship with us.

By Roy B. Porter

PARIS, May 11. — (AP) — Seasoned French troops in the Sierck region of the Moselle river valley today beat off the largest German attack on the Maginot line since the war started, military sources reported. An entire German division of 14,000 men was said to have been halted in its tracks.

The Nazi movement just east of Luxembourg reportedly was crushed from the strongly fortified front-line positions to which outpost units withdrew yesterday at the first assault by Nazi advance guards.

Additional forces quartered in the subterranean Maginot line supported the battle squads with artillery and machine gun fire and tonight the military spokesman here said the battle area was quieting down.

At the same time, a French high command communique said the Germans had lost heavily in fighting in the southern part of Luxembourg.

German troop landings on beaches in the vicinity of The Hague have caused a "troubled" situation in Holland, military authorities said. Dutch troops are reported resisting the new threat with the aid of British aviation.

Some British troops have moved up to reinforce Belgian forces, a military source said, while others are advancing northward to support the Dutch.

He indicated preparations were going ahead for large-scale fighting which forecasters have said might result in the "most gigantic battle of all times."

France counted her civilian dead in two days of air raids at 14 7tonight, reports from various towns swelling the first total of more than 100 persons killed.

The report indicated that air fields, railway centers and stations appeared to be the principal objects of the Nazi air force.

Other reports said German planes bombarded Reims, Epernay and Chalons-Sur-Marne in France but results of the attacks were not given.

Official French reports said 36 more German planes had been shot down in France and Belgium during a day of intense aerial activity on both sides.

This brings the Nazi plane losses in France and Belgium along during the first two days of extended warfare to 80.

In the Maginot line fighting, the Germans apparently were attempting to divert military forces from a series of sharp engagements inside Luxembourg.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
Cypress And Crosley Streets
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

Today is Mother's day and the services will be directed in honor of mother. As a token of our appreciation of the mothers we are giving some little gifts to the oldest mother, the youngest mother and the mother who has the most children present at services. Evangelist Mrs. Clara Classen will speak to the mothers at 11:00 a.m. Sunday school meets in all departments at 9:45 a.m., S. W. Hamilton, superintendent. Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:30 p.m. at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Glassen, who has been conducting special services all week will give her life's story. We invite you to hear this interesting story how God protected an orphan girl and kept her from many pitfalls and finally healed her body after twenty-four doctors had given her up to die and called her into His vineyard to labor for Him. Do not miss this service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

"The Influence and Power of Womanhood" will be the subject for the pastor's "Mother's day" sermon this morning at 11 o'clock. Music appropriate for the occasion will be rendered by Mrs. J. Norman Coon and Miss Mary Jeanette Ziegler. We extend a special invitation to the United States army officers and men encamped in Monroe to be with us at all services while they are here, but especially for "Mother's day" service since they are away from home and cannot be with their mothers today.

At the evening hour we will have the privilege of hearing Rev. J. J. Cowsert from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a seminary classmate and friend of the pastor. Don't miss his message. All other services at the regular time. Let us pray that today may be the greatest in many a day. How we do need the Lord!

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.
Dr. A. E. Prince, Pastor
Miss Beulah Doerr, Educational Director

Today is Mother's day and will be celebrated in all the churches. The churches of the Southern Baptist convention are asked to place emphasis this week on the Christian home. This church will celebrate Mother's day and inaugurate this Christian Home week by a sermon by Dr. Prince at 10:50 a.m. today on "Dedicating the Home." In view of conditions prevailing in America today, this subject is timely. The pastor will also preach at the evening service.

The schedule for worship in this church today is as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.; B. T. U. leaders' meeting, 7 p.m.; evening service, 8 p.m. Note that all evening services are 15 minutes later effective today.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street
I. J. Brooks, Pastor
Max Braswell, Choir Director

"There are thousands of stars that
shine at night,
Thousands of flowers that make
summer bright,
Thousands of dewdrops the
morning to greet,
Thousands of birds with voices
sweet,
Thousands of bees in the purple
clover—
But only one mother the whole
world over."

Make her heart rejoice today by giving her some token of your heart's love, and by going to church and joining God's people in rendering honor to mother. The pastor's subject for the morning service will be: "An Old Time Mother" (I Samuel, 1:27, 28). Special recognition will be given to the oldest mother, and to the youngest mother present at the morning service. The evening subject will be: "A Son of Shame—Jepthah" (Judges, 11:35). Calvary church invites you to its services.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
Dale Cobb, Choir Director

Sunday school begins today at 9:30 a.m. All adults and young people's classes will meet in the Lida Benton scshool building for their classes. All Intermediate, Junior, Primary, Beginners and Cradle roll will meet at the church for their classes, meeting 9:30 to 10:40 a.m. We are now growing a great Sunday school and urge all this neighborhood to give the best of your cooperation for the safety and help of your family and friends in this, the Lord's great work.

The week of study course recently had should greatly strengthen our Baptist Training union work and we anticipate that from this day on we shall have much better programs and work in all these unions. Let all the membership be on time in the blessing at 6:45 p.m.

The pastor's sermon subject will be in keeping with the special Mothers' day, "A Woman's Memorial." Three beautiful bouquets will be given to mothers; the oldest mother, the mother with most children and the youngest mother. Families are invited to sit together for the worship service. The evening sermon subject is "The Man Who Was Too Good."

The W. M. S. will meet Monday at 2 p.m. Circle No. 1, Mrs. A. Osborn, 405 Dixie; No. 2 with Mrs. Morrison, 2804 South Grand; No. 3, Mrs. Spruel, 218 Eagin. These meetings are within easy reach for all and we invite all to attend and share the good work now being done by this group of the Lord's laborers.

The fact that the shock of shell and the thunder of war is on is all the greater reason for your loyalty to the church and her great work now that our Christ kingdom is also subjected to the enemy.

PENIEL BAPTIST CHURCH
Pastor, Rev. J. T. Hinkie

This church, situated below the Brown Paper mill, invites you to attend Sunday school at 10 o'clock and services at 11 o'clock. There will be a special Mother's day program Sunday night at 7:15. The program consists of a pantomime "Mothers of Men" and a playlet "Because We Love You," under the direction of Mrs. Johnnie Bowman. After the program Rev. J. T. Hinkie will bring a special Mother's day sermon, his subject being "Just Like Mother."

RIDGE AVENUE BAPTIST TABERNACLE
1701 Trenton Street
West Monroe

The Baptist revival meeting on Ridge avenue being conducted by Rev. A. T. Mitchell, Baptist minister, went into the third week today with 41 additions and a goal for Sunday school Sunday of 100.

Baptists in this locality have bought a beautiful plot of ground in a central place for the purpose of building a new Baptist church after the permanent church is organized. The Rev. Mitchell says the church will be organized if he has to carry the meeting on until frost.

Divine worship at 10:50 a.m. Sermon theme, "Mary the Mother of Jesus."

Following our custom, three plants will be presented to three mothers, one to the oldest mother present, one to the youngest mother presnt, and one to the mother with the most children present.

Evening service at 7:30 p.m. Sermon theme, "For Me to Live Is Christ."

Today is Mother's day. Honor her by attending church.

Our state convention will be held at Shreveport in our Central church, May 14 to 17. It will be a joint convention. Our Arkansas churches will meet with us. Plan now to go. The program will be challenging. Among the guest speakers will be Dr. Floyd Bash of Des Moines, Ia., and Dr. O. L. Shelton of Wichita Falls, Tex.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Corner Auburn Avenue And North Second Street

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 12, 1940.

The golden text is: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit" (John 3:6).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." (Gen. 2.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man reflects God; mankind represents the Adamic race, and is a human, not a divine, creation." (Page 525.)

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Sunday is Pentecost. It is so called because it is 50 days after the first day of the Passover which originally celebrated the completion of the harvest, but later came to commemorate the giving of the law on Sanai. The arrival of the feast would stimulate the expectancy of the little company of believers (120) to whom our Lord promised to send another Comforter who would abide with them forever. The outpouring of the Spirit was commonly associated with the coming of the new age.

The neglect of the Holy Spirit is the source of our troubles today—materialism, indifference to religion, neglect of Christian practises and the lowering of standards of morals and life. We need to revive in ourselves and in the church a greater devotion to the Holy Spirit. Let us begin it on this coming Pentecost (Whitsunday).

Services in Grace church are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. for the express purpose for the faithful to make their Whitsunday communion. The church school will assemble at 9:30 a.m., and the mid-day service will be a choral Eucharist with sermon by the rector.

The church has given us a special collect, epistle and gospel for Monday and Tuesday of this week. And Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember days. Services during the week are as follows: Tuesday at 9 a.m. and Friday at 7:30 a.m. The Eucharist will be celebrated on each of these days.

The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m., until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks. You are welcome.

MOTHER

"Her love outlasts all human love;
Her faith endures the longest, hardest
test,
Her grace and patience through a
life-time prove
That she's a friend, the noblest and the best. —Selected.

Go to church today and worship you Mother's God. Whether your rose is white or red you can find no better way of honoring her.

The pastor will use as his theme at the morning service, "Slaves For Liberty" and at the evening hour, "Meaning of Stewardship."

Each morning through the week at the radio hour he will have as his topics "Larger Things," "Right, and What We Have," "Higher Claims First," "Poignant Questions," "Lines of Development" and "Teaching Christian Practice."

Help your class in the church school to have a hundred per cent attendance today. The Epworth league meets at 6:45 in the Church annex. Monday evening at 7 o'clock there will be regular sessions of the board of stewards and the second quarterly conference. Supper will be served.

The Society of Christian Service will meet in circles Tuesday.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
J. M. Alford, Pastor

We had 126 at Sunday school last Sunday and have as our goal for today 150. We hope everyone will help us to make this day—"Mother's day"—the best of the entire year. We earnestly request and cordially invite one and all to attend our Sunday school and remain for the special Mother's day program at 11:00 o'clock. At this time the pastor will preach on "Christian Mothers." At the evening hour, 7:30 o'clock, the young people of the Intermediate Epworth league, under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert Branch, will render a program suitable to the occasion. Both leagues will meet at 6:30 p.m. A large number of our members and friends assembled at the church last Monday evening for a social meeting, which was a great success in every way. About twenty-five of our young people attended the Union league meeting at Sterlington Friday evening. Let every member of all the churches and everybody honor mother today by attending religious services somewhere!

What could we do, were it not for you
When it is sorrowing time?
You're always true, the whole year
through
O mother, sweet mother of mine.

In your lullaby songs, you forget our wrongs
And love us even if we are bad,
To no other one belongs such heavenly
"wands"
To cheer us when we are sad!

You nourished me night and day, In your own sweet way,
And when I was sufficiently fed
You taught me to pray, and watched
me as I lay
Snugly in my little trundle-bed!

C. Karlos Smith, Pastor-Evangelist

Today will be observed throughout the whole of the United States "Mother's Day" and we are expecting the greatest congregation of the year in attendance upon all the services of the day. Special Mother's Day services will be the order of all services. In this strange day of world upheaval when the desire to kill and destroy dominates the minds of so many men, surely this is a time when Christian people should look to Christ Jesus and the church to bring order out of chaos. The Christians of America have before them the greatest opportunity ever presented to them in history. If Christian America fails; what next? You are invited and urged to turn to the church and to the worship of our Lord Jesus Christ. Our services begin at 9:45 a.m. with the Sunday school. At 11:00 a.m. special Mother's day services. If there is a mother who does not have a way to get to church, if a call will be made to 1112 a car will be sent. The services of the evening will be in keeping with the spirit of the day. The subject for the morning services will be: "Mother." For the evening services the subject will be: "The Debt We Owe To Our Parents." You are invited to attend all services.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

"If you have a gray-haired mother
In the old home far away,
Sit you down and write the letter
You put off from day to day.
Don't wait until her weary steps
Reach heaven's pearly gate,
But show her that you think of her
Before it is too late."

To all who are not attending regularly the house of God, we extend a cordial invitation to worship with us. Sunday school begins at 9:45, with a class for every age group. With efficient, understanding teachers, we feel that your visit with us will not be a disappointment. The 11 o'clock service will be a "Mother's Day" observance. "Mothers of Men" will be the subject. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Mrs. Henry Leckie will direct the meeting. Eevening services at 7:30. The service will begin with spirited singing and earnest prayer. The subject of the evening will be "A Sermon on a Raised Window Shade."

Yes, a bit odd, but impressive. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Circle No. 1 will meet with Mrs. Ira Waldroup, 212 Apple St. Circle No. 2 will meet with Mrs. R. W. Irby, 4500 Jackson. Midweek prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30. Mr. Wallace Reeves will lead the service.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Thomas Avenue At Richmond Street
G. M. And Ina Lee Akin, Pastors

What if this country should go to war? Of course, we don't want our boys to die on the battlefields of France again. Then, too, we are a peaceful nation. We have the "good neighbor" policy toward other nations.

But, as a people and as an individual, do we honor God as we should? Do we attend Sunday school, the church services, the prayer meetings, and are we devotional in our own personal lives—in other words, does the church, the ministry, and God mean anything to us? If sacred things are worthwhile to the young person, they certainly should contribute happiness to the adult. The church is the only institution known to man, which offers a living, meaningful, salvation message to all mankind, everywhere. Let us "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

Bible school at 9:45 a.m., Mr. S. P. Quigley, superintendent. Preaching at 1' a.m. and 7:30 p.m. by the pastor. Young people's meetings at 6:30 p.m., Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Mrs. Alameda Brown, Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. T. J. Gardner, sponsors. The W. F. M. S. will meet with Mrs. Ina Lee Akin, 2806 Gordon avenue, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Akin will be in charge of the meeting. We cordially invite you to worship with us this Lord's day.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

During the past week we have had the pleasure and privilege of hearing the Rev. C. L. King, D. D., Houston, Tex. His messages have enriched us. Today he delivers the last two messages of the revival. Will you hear him? He speaks at the morning and evening hours of worship, the time 11:00 and 7:30 o'clock.

A special Mother's day program will be given at the Men's Bible class and in the young people's department of the Sabbath school. You are urged to attend. If you will attend, the goal, which is 400, will be reached.

The women of the church are anticipating the presence of all the women of the congregation at the birthday party, Tuesday, May 21, 3:00 p.m. The offering is for the daily vacation Bible school program .

You are inivted to worship with us.

FREEDOM IS GIVEN CONVICTS BY LONG

Outgoing Governor Holds Stubbornly To Post Until Last Minute

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(AP)—Stubbornly holding the capitol executive offices to his term's very end, Governor Earl K. Long today freed a new batch of convicts from the penitentiary, including a notorious murderer his brother Huey Long saved from the gallows.

Still bitterly disappointed over his election defeat, Governor Long let it be known he would not vacate the executive suite until his term expires at noon Tuesday when Governor-Elect Sam H. Jones will be inaugurated his successor.

Inconvenienced for weeks by having to form his administration plans from a distant downtown hotel, Jones moved his headquarters this morning to space loaned him by Secretary of State E. A. Conway on the capitol's 13th floor.

The incoming executive has seen neither the interior of his capitol offices nor the executive mansion. In planning his office setup he has had to use a blueprint.

Among Long's latest clemency orders, bringing to more than 60 the number of convicts he has freed in a fortnight, was one ordering release of J. Pleasant Harris, convicted in December, 1928, of murdering his sweetheart in New Orleans. The late Huey Long, as governor, saved Harris from hanging by commuting his death sentence to life imprisonment.

None convicted in the recent New Orleans election day violence cases received freedom from Governor Long today, but he pardoned certain offenses for three under multiple sentences, Eugene Gill, Ralph Chong and Jerome Chong.

Long trimmed from 30 to 10 years the sentence being served by his cousin, Sidney P. Tannehill, convicted a year ago in Caddo parish for immorality. Two negroes sentenced to hang were given life instead.

The resignation of District Judge J. D. Womack, Baton Rouge, as a member of the Louisiana State university board of supervisors, a post he refused to resign during the school's scandals, was revealed when Long appointed J. D. Weaver, Baton Rouge, in Judge Womack's place.

BOMB AMERICAN PLANT IN NEUTRAL COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—American diplomats in the European war zone reported to the state department that German planes had bombed the Ford automobile plant in Antwerp, neutral Switzerland and 18 towns in France.

The automobile plant was struck by three small bombs at 2:30 p. m. Friday, without serious damage, a dispatch from Consul General Louis Sussdorff, Jr., said. No Americans were hurt but four Belgian employes were wounded. Damage to the plant consisted mostly of broken glass.

● SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC

CHAPTER VII

Val Douglas went up on the bridge and watched Eddie Cavalier jog around deck. He ran tirelessly, effortlessly. Probably would give Glenn Cunningham a good battle over a mile, she figured.

She didn't have to be told by Mike Kelly that Cavalier was a perfect athlete. He had never smoked a cigaret in his life. He steered clear of liquor and followed Pop Grimes' instructions to the letter.

She remembered he had taken up golf just a year ago and already was breaking 90. A famous pro once had called him the ideal example of muscular co-ordination and nerves and insisted Cavalier could be playing in the National Open within two years if he wanted to concentrate on the game.

Val Douglas long ago had decided—in print, too— that Eddie Cavalier, with his dark, curly hair and handsome features, was too good-looking to be a fighter. Once she had hinted that he could have been a greater riot as a slugger instead of the boxer he was—but that he preferred to protect his good looks.

That, in fact, was what had started the whole feud. He had never forgiven her for that and threatened to eject her bodily himself if she tried to pay a visit to his Pompton lakes training camp.

From her position of vantage overlooking the deck, Val Douglas smiled sardonically. Here, at least, was one training camp he couldn't pitch her out of.

Duffy Kelso, spattered and smelly from paint, fixed her with a vindictive eye at lunch. "We're gonna work out on the bags this afternoon and maybe spar three rounds with Kelly. Any objections?" he inquired belligerently.

"Not at all," she answered brightly. "I'm anxious to see if his surroundings affect his ring disposition."

"I'll try not to disappoint you," Eddie said meaningly, and she wondered if he'd vent his spite on Mike Kelly. That, however, might be a boomerang. Mike Kelly, after all, was a heavyweight and still in good condition despite his long absence from the ring.

Cavalier donned Kelly's old ring togs and they fitted him somewhat grotesquely. The shoes were a half size too large but he wore an extra pair of sox to take up some of the slack.

Kelly was forced to wear makeshift garb. He borrowed a pair of sneakers from a member of the crew and cut down the legs of an old pair of trousers to serve as trunks. Both fighters wore heavy sweaters to protect them from the tangy ocean breezes.

Val could hardly suppress a snicker, they looked so funny. Duffy Kelso, noticing, tapped her on the shoulder familiarly.

"Please, lady—cut the comics. If he sees you enjoyin' this too much it'll throw him so far off he'll never get back."

While Mike skipped rope to get himself warmed up Cavalier went to work on the light bag. Coolly, expertly he beat out a rhythmic tatoo of leather on board. Faster, faster he worked until the bag became an indistinct blur of motion and the noise became a flat, rolling wave that sounded like a muffled machine gun.

Val found herself admiring the sight. Eddie lifted his eyes from the bag without breaking the rhythm and noticed the rapt look on her face. As though it were a sudden, spiteful gesture he slammed the bag one terrific punch and ended the show. The gesture startled her and he smirked.

A message sent down by the radio operator interrupted the workout. "It's from Sam Golden," said Duffy Kelso, reading it quickly.

"Golden, hey? What's up?" Pop Grimes asked.

"Plenty," Duffy moaned. "He says the newspaper guys don't believe he didn't know a thing about this and they ain't even talking to him, and if I know Sam Golden, he's tearing out his hair for fear maybe they'll boycott the fight.

"But that ain't all," Duffy continued. "The state boxing commission had to be notified, of course, and they demand that we put up a $5,000 bond that we'll show up for weighin' in ceremonies on time.

"Who'll we get to dig up the $5,000 for us?" Kelso demanded. "We gotta think fast."

"We'll think about that later," Cavalier said impatiently. "I'm getting cold. Let's go Mike."

They climbed in between the ropes and Kelso and Grimes looked at each other questioningly. It wasn't like the kid to be so impatient. He was like a race horse at the post. It was something new and they didn't like it. Duffy Kelso forgot all about the $5,000 bond.

"Okay," Pop grunted, taking out his watch. "Start slow and take it easy."

Cavalier danced forward and flicked a straight left without a preliminary motion of any sort. It caught Mike on the bridge of his nose and tilted his head back sharply. Mike looked surprised and advanced more cautiously.

Val tried to read Cavalier's expression but the padded head guard he wore obscured his features. All she could see were a pair of piercing eyes, and she didn't like the way they were being directed at Mike.

Mike Kelly went a good 195 pounds and there wasn't an ounce of fat on him. The years had slowed him down a little but he could still maneuver surprisingly well.

Kelly tucked his chin behind his left shoulder and went to work. He muscled in close and worked a short right to Eddie's ribs. Cavalier jabbed him sharply twice in the face but Mike let them bounce off and shuffled in for more.

He swung a heavy right but wraithlike Cavalier weaved away, stepped inside smartly and whistled a right cross to Kelly's chin. Mike reeled back against the ropes and Cavalier followed him.

"Hey, you're supposed to be sparring," Pop Grimes roared, but if Eddie Cavalier heard he gave no heed.

He planted a savage left in Mike's midsection and then as Mike's guard came down he banged over a solid right that turned Kelly's face half way around.

Doggedly, his mouth cut, Mike hung on and tried to bring his weight into play. Eddie rocketed a right to the heart and Make gasped.

Val rushed over to Kelso and Grimes. "Pop, make him quit that! He's just letting his spite out on poor Mike."

But Duffy Kelso was already in the ring, breaking them up. "Take it easy," he ordered softly. "You okay, Mike?"

"Sure," said Mike. "Sure, I'm okay. He can hit, that boy can. Hits like a light heavy."

Val walked over to Cavalier's corner. "You're a heel," she grated. "And I don't think I have to tell you why."

He looked as though he were going to reply hotly to her accusation, changed his mind and fidgeted with his gloves.

FREEDOM IS GIVEN CONVICTS BY LONG

Outgoing Governor Holds Stubbornly To Post Until Last Minute

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(AP)—Stubbornly holding the capitol executive offices to his term's very end, Governor Earl K. Long today freed a new batch of convicts from the penitentiary, including a notorious murderer his brother Huey Long saved from the gallows.

Still bitterly disappointed over his election defeat, Governor Long let it be known he would not vacate the executive suite until his term expires at noon Tuesday when Governor-Elect Sam H. Jones will be inaugurated his successor.

Inconvenienced for weeks by having to form his administration plans from a distant downtown hotel, Jones moved his headquarters this morning to space loaned him by Secretary of State E. A. Conway on the capitol's 13th floor.

The incoming executive has seen neither the interior of his capitol offices nor the executive mansion. In planning his office setup he has had to use a blueprint.

Among Long's latest clemency orders, bringing to more than 60 the number of convicts he has freed in a fortnight, was one ordering release of J. Pleasant Harris, convicted in December, 1928, of murdering his sweetheart in New Orleans. The late Huey Long, as governor, saved Harris from hanging by commuting his death sentence to life imprisonment.

None convicted in the recent New Orleans election day violence cases received freedom from Governor Long today, but he pardoned certain offenses for three under multiple sentences, Eugene Gill, Ralph Chong and Jerome Chong.

Long trimmed from 30 to 10 years the sentence being served by his cousin, Sidney P. Tannehill, convicted a year ago in Caddo parish for immorality. Two negroes sentenced to hang were given life instead.

The resignation of District Judge J. D. Womack, Baton Rouge, as a member of the Louisiana State university board of supervisors, a post he refused to resign during the school's scandals, was revealed when Long appointed J. D. Weaver, Baton Rouge, in Judge Womack's place.

BOMB AMERICAN PLANT IN NEUTRAL COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—American diplomats in the European war zone reported to the state department that German planes had bombed the Ford automobile plant in Antwerp, neutral Switzerland and 18 towns in France.

The automobile plant was struck by three small bombs at 2:30 p. m. Friday, without serious damage, a dispatch from Consul General Louis Sussdorff, Jr., said. No Americans were hurt but four Belgian employes were wounded. Damage to the plant consisted mostly of broken glass.

SCUTTLE VESSEL

PARIMARIBO, Netherlands Guiana, May 11.—(AP)—The crew of the 6,040-ton German merchant vessel Goslar, which took refuge here early in the war, scuttled their vessel in Parimaribo harbor today.

- SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER VII

Val Douglas went up on the bridge and watched Eddie Cavalier jog around deck. He ran tirelessly, effortlessly. Probably would give Glenn Cunningham a good battle over a mile, she figured.

She didn't have to be told by Mike Kelly that Cavalier was a perfect athlete. He had never smoked a cigaret in his life. He steered clear of liquor and followed Pop Grimes' instructions to the letter.

She remembered he had taken up golf just a year ago and already was breaking 90. A famous pro once had called him the ideal example of muscular co-ordination and nerves and insisted Cavalier could be playing in the National Open within two years if he wanted to concentrate on the game.

Val Douglas long ago had decided—in print, too— that Eddie Cavalier, with his dark, curly hair and handsome features, was too good-looking to be a fighter. Once she had hinted that he could have been a greater riot as a slugger instead of the boxer he was—but that he preferred to protect his good looks.

That, in fact, was what had started the whole feud. He had never forgiven her for that and threatened to eject her bodily himself if she tried to pay a visit to his Pompton lakes training camp.

From her position of vantage overlooking the deck, Val Douglas smiled sardonically. Here, at least, was one training camp he couldn't pitch her out of.

Duffy Kelso, spattered and smelly from paint, fixed her with a vindictive eye at lunch. "We're gonna work out on the bags this afternoon and maybe spar three rounds with Kelly. Any objections?" he inquired belligerently.

"Not at all," she answered brightly. "I'm anxious to see if his surroundings affect his ring disposition."

"I'll try not to disappoint you," Eddie said meaningly, and she wondered if he'd vent his spite on Mike Kelly. That, however, might be a boomerang. Mike Kelly, after all, was a heavyweight and still in good condition despite his long absence from the ring.

Cavalier donned Kelly's old ring togs and they fitted him somewhat grotesquely. The shoes were a half size too large but he wore an extra pair of sox to take up some of the slack.

Kelly was forced to wear makeshift garb. He borrowed a pair of sneakers from a member of the crew and cut down the legs of an old pair of trousers to serve as trunks. Both fighters wore heavy sweaters to protect them from the tangy ocean breezes.

Val could hardly suppress a snicker, they looked so funny. Duffy Kelso, noticing, tapped her on the shoulder familiarly.

"Please, lady—cut the comics. If he sees you enjoyin' this too much it'll throw him so far off he'll never get back."

While Mike skipped rope to get himself warmed up Cavalier went to work on the light bag. Coolly, expertly he beat out a rhythmic tatoo of leather on board. Faster, faster he worked until the bag became an indistinct blur of motion and the noise became a flat, rolling wave that sounded like a muffled machine gun.

Val found herself admiring the sight. Eddie lifted his eyes from the bag without breaking the rhythm and noticed the rapt look on her face. As though it were a sudden, spiteful gesture he slammed the bag one terrific punch and ended the show. The gesture startled her and he smirked.

A Mother's Day Thought

Mother's day brings the world thoughts of the love and devotion and ceaseless care which mothers give their children.

In this world of selfishness and grasping spirit that affection shines like a good deed in a naughty world, as Mr. Shakespeare said. Amid all the darkness of human conduct in its more repellant aspects, that selfless service is one of the most glorious aspects of human nature.

It is amazing how women will toil and struggle for their children. Their labors are ceaseless and untiring. They rise early in the morning to get good breakfasts for the little ones and send them off to school. They labor while they are gone to make the home comfortable and healthful. When the youngsters return, the mothers listen patiently to their complaints, they put up with their grouches and often with disobedience.

Mothers work day and night to help the children appear neat and stylish before the world. They are often up late nights to finish the day's toil. Often they lie awake nights studying over the children's problems.

They think little of themselves, but everything is for the children. No sacrifice is too great if it will advance the future of these youngsters.

A great deal of this service is given with little recognition. Children often accept these things as something to which they are entitled, and for which they do not need to make any return. If asked to help lighten the labors of the home, many of them are affronted.

Mother's day should be a time when people recognize to the full all these blessings of maternal love that they received, and for which in so many cases they made little return.

The heart should overflow with gratitude, and if mother is still here this feeling should be manifested in a substantial material way.

'THERE ARE NO CHILDREN ANY MORE'

The brandished fist, traditional salute of the Communist party and in general of all Marxist parties devoted to inevitable class war, is a symbol which suggests defiance and violence, hatred and death.

In New York's May day parade, a tiny girl of five or six was carried on the shoulders of an elder, waving a tiny fist.

Must the very babies be dragged down into the weltering mass of antagonisms and hatreds which their elders have created? Then what hope is there that they will do better than we?

It is true, bitterly true, that we elders have robbed millions of children of their right to a happy childhood. It is true that numberless children are victims of war, and greed, and stupidity. But it is not their fault. Nor can they, as babies, do anything about it. It is our fight, the fight of the mature, to do better for them than we have done.

Soon enough, too soon, the children will find themselves pitchforked into the struggles, the antagonisms, the prejudices and hatreds that are not natural to them, but which they acquire from contact with life. Must we force hatred into their lisping mouths in the very cradle?

Rather than teach them as babies the shibboleths of class and racial hatreds, ought not we to dress ourselves manfully to the task of eliminating the injustices from which those hatreds spring? Their turn to fight will come in time, and may they fight with greater understanding and clearer vision than ours.

"Know you what it is to be a child?" asked Shelley. "It is to be something very different from the man of today. It is . . . to believe in love, to believe in loveliness, to believe in belief . . ."

Surely there are enough to hate, and fight, and brandish fists. Surely we can afford to let the children wait their turn.

WAR'S AFTERMATH

No greater mistake was ever made than to believe that when the wrench of war on a nation has stopped that the blessings of peace snap back into place automatically. The fallacy of this belief is being demonstrated to Spain now.

The Spanish government has halved the bread ration because of a shortage of wheat. Spanish wheat yields are falling down because of excessive rains, with outside supplies failing. France is holding back shipments. Argentina, which granted a credit of 400,000 tons, can not find bottoms deliver the grain. Australia, Portugal and Jugoslavia

WASHINGTON—If you want a good third-term tip-off, maybe you can find it in FDR's suggestion about the new WPA appropriation.

He proposed congress give WPA slightly less than a billion and let WPA spend it all in eight months, beginning July 1, instead of making it last a year. That way two political birds are killed with one stone: sharp election year cuts in relief rolls are dodged, and the government's debt isn't put over the $45,000,000,000 limit.

But here's the catch. The administration that's in office next winter will inherit lots of trouble. It will almost certainly have to meet a WPA deficiency bill early in the winter. It will have to boost the debt limit, or economize as no New Deal administration ever economized. So, for your tip-off—

If FDR figured he was going to be in the White House next winter, would he arrange to bequeath himself a mess like that?

Too Much Farm Produce

If someone would kindly tell Uncle Sam how he can unload the vast quantities of farm produce he now owns, the old gentleman would be very much obliged indeed.

As of the end of March, the Commodity Credit corporation held title to more than 6,600,000 bales of cotton and 91,000,000 bushels of corn—the whole business worth, roughly, $370,000,000. In addition, farm loans are now outstanding on 2,600,000 bales of cotton and 460,000,000 bushels of corn, and before another year ends the government may be stuck with most of that.

"Stuck" is the right word. Situation is worse in regard to cotton; law says none of the government-owned bales may be sold unless the price received equals the money put out in loans, plus the carrying charges—which have been about $1,500,000 monthly. Practical effect is that it just can't be sold at all; even Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, which gives cotton away, can't buy any of it. About 600,000 bales will go to England in the barter arrangement for rubber. What will happen to the rest, no one seems to know.

If corn prices go up this year, the government may get rid of the 460,000,000 bushels on which it has made loans. If they go down, on the other hand, it may get the whole ball of wax. Storage charges, by the way, are about $3,500,000 a month.

Too Much Money

Nothing will happen at this session, but next year congress is apt to cast some inquiring and critical glances at the money which is piling up under the social security law.

During the next fiscal year, payroll tax money collected for the old age and unemployment insurance funds will amount to $1,300,000,000. Of this, around $740,000,000 will be paid out in benefits; the rest will go to swell the reserve funds.

Unemployment insurance fund will go up the fastest. It stands now at $1,600,000,000-odd, and will rise by around $360,000,000 during the year, unless the bottom falls out of things. On the double-barreled plea that such a setup is deflationary and that business can't stand the gaff anyhow, you can look for a drive to cut it down pretty sharply.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 11.—Dead Staff: Recently, I advised you to lay the foundations of Hollywood social success by launching yachts and planting gardens. Now I want to complete your education by listing a few important rules of Filmville conduct. Obey these and your popularity will be assured.

(1) Attract all possible attention in public places, preferred methods being "arranged" telephone calls and reprimands to undersized waiters. (2) Refer casually to all big studio executives, especially those you've never met, by nicknames. (3) Address all women as "Darling." (4) Address all men as "Darling." (5) Acquire a stock of first-person anecdotes—and introduce each one with "This'll slay yuh." (6) Be sure to mention the high cost of everything you possess. (7) Refer often to "the servants" and detail all your troubles with them. (8) Always tell how swacked you were at last night's party. (9) Wear, at all informal affairs, the loudest, most unorthodox clothes obtainable. (10) Under no circumstances say anything requiring more than a split second's thought.

The eleventh—and most important rule is: Be related to the right people (those with ample bank accounts or studio influence.) If you are successful in observing this one, you can forget the other ten, do just as you darned please, and still be a colossal success!

JIMMIE FIDDLER.

Dear Jimmie: For three weeks, we've been wracking our poor brains in the effort to understand this sudden worry about our social welfare. Today, reading your "Rule 9," the light dawned. You're simply trying to justify that horse blanket you wear for a sport coat—the one with the ultra-violet background and the two-inch color squares. Perhaps similar bedizenment on our part would make you feel less conspicuous—but boss, there's a limt! And, after all, you picked it out yourself.

Here's today's odds-and-ends: Ken Murray's next party (speaking of things social) ought to be as much fun as a cageful of monkeys—at least he's installed a cageful in his South seas playroom and plans a brawl to introduce them to Hollywood sassiety . . . An amusing production delay on the "Brigham Young" location—someone swiped all the prop beards. . . . Ted North, 20th Century recruit, is trying to change Arleen Whelan's sense of direction. . . . That pretty who rhumbas so gracefully—and so often—with Cesar Romero these eves is Bobby Molyneaux, a socialite. . . . Wonder if that publicity director who trailed his lot's big star to Honolulu knows that he's drawing chuckles?

Henry (fond husband) Fonda, locationing at Bishop, California, has chartered a plane for week-end visits to the missus. . . . Arthur Murray nixed a bid to dance-direct Irving Berlin's Bdwy show to ditto "Thank You Columbus," local offering now in rehearsal. . . . Maria Ouspenskaya claims her protege, 17-year-old Carolyn Butler, for whom studios are already bidding, will be the next Bette Davis. . . . No honeymoon for Anita Louise and Buddy Adler, who altarate next Saturday—the groom can't get leave-of-absence from MGM. . . . John Carroll, who drives his ex, Stefi Duna, home from work each day, haunts the Sphinx club each eve to ogle torchanteuse Mary Downs.

Boss, keep an eye on Paramount's Betty Brewer, for there's a gal with drive. A few weeks ago, when she succeeded in landing a role in "Rangers of Fortune," the Brewer family was on relief. In two weeks she has (1) got her mother a board of education job, supervising juvenile set workers; (2) placed her brother in an important bit in the same pic; (3) sold her sister as her own stand-in. Pa Brewer, a carpenter by trade, is as yet unemployed, but Betty will undoubtedly take care of that.

Spencer Tracy jaunts to Wisconsin on completion of "Boom Town" to accept that honorary degree from Ripon college. . . . Guy Kibbee, who finds gags anent his baldness tiresome, is having a sky piece made "for social reasons" . . . Bob Montgomery post-cards from England details of a week-end trek to France to see a German bomber shot down behind the lines. . . The NY museum of modern art has persuaded Dolores del Rio to loan Diego Revera's portrait of her for exhibition. . . . Otto Kruger will vacation at Saranac lake on completing his current role.

Maureen O'Sullivan's visit to hubby John Farrow in Toronto will last indefinitely—she's instructed agents to lease a house there. . . . Have you heard Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's reply to an interviewer who asked how far he had progressed in school? "Thoid grade," said Maxie. "My pop was in the fourt' grade—and I couldn't pass him widout makin' my mudder sore!"

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

This department has at hand a letter from an angry citizen of Peekskill, N. Y., castigating us for not giving support to the national committee for religious recovery in its new crusade to "sell" religion. Just why we should be singled out as the culprit in this instance is not clear, as we aren't supposed to be "selling" anything and neither religion nor politics is our special responsibility.

We share the gentleman's zeal for righteousness—heaven knows it's needed—but unfortunately his letter is too intemperate to be printed, especially at a time when too many hate words are spawning everywhere in this troubled world. My correspondent apparently was stirred to fighting talk by an address by Bainbridge Colby at a recent luncheon at which the above national committee launched its campaign for a return to religion. He enclosed a newspaper clipping, reporting Mr. Colby's speech, and on the margin he had written: "This means you!"

Mr. Colby specified newspapers, and motion picture theaters as the principal purveyors of sin, heading a dreadful pack stampeding us all right down to hell. He specifically included "authors, writers and those concerned with the theater" in this evil crew. To make clear his characterization of these offenders, he quoted James Douglas of the London Express, who tags us as follows: "Menaces, cads, bounders, sniggerers, innuendoists, pronocrats, garbage mongers, purveyors of impurity, venders of vice, sewer rats, blowflies, carrion crows, maggots of decadence, hookworms of salacity, literary lepers."

We have, at times, been unhappily conscious of the shortcomings of our craft, but we didn't know we were as bad as all that. But Mr. Colby lists many other defects. He bids for "some man with excoriating utterance, with blistering tongue, and fearless heart to flay and scourage, to destroy and drive pell-mell in disgraceful flight these evil forces in our theater, in our motion-picture houses, in our fiction, in our press and in our parlors." He pleads for a religion of "fire and anger."

Pertinent to the above, one of my friends tells me a story about the late Fremont Older, editor of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, famous fighter and crusader. Mr. Older set my friend to shelling the ramparts of certain evil-doers in exactly the same spirit as that which Mr. Colby invokes. It was, as my friend described it, one of the most lurid outbursts of invective that ever appeared in a newspaper. The accused had powerful and respectable backing, and presently the town had something like a range war on its hands.

One day Mr. Older called my friend from his smoking-hot typewriter. "It is a great mistake," he said, "to call a man a swine and punch him on the nose and then try to convince him of anything. If he's still dumb and still a scoundrel when you get through, you're right where you were and you'll have another fight on your hands. If your ultimate aim is arouse righteous indigation, try to convince a man first, and if indigation comes it will be informed and powerful. If you make him mad first, you'll never convince him of anything. Throw away this screaming denunciation, take plenty of time and space, and explain, rather than denounce, these people. When the people really understand, they do not need to be lashed to a fury."

I have written my angry Peekskill correspondent to come in and see me next week. I think I will be able to convince him of the following: That the average American newspaper devotes at least twice as much space to religion as it did twenty years ago.

That there hasn't been a single national religious, cultural or educational campaign that hasn't received generous and helpful support from the newspapers.

That newspapers and magazines which go in for smut are quickly stifled in their own fumes, and that the brief outbreak of livery stable journalism of ten years ago is gone and forgotten.

That the moving picture of today, compared to the early-day output, is cleaner, brighter and in every way more fit entertainment for decent and intelligent people.

But we don't want to get steamed up about it. We just want to talk it over. We can't quite agree that even the pursuit of righteousness calls for more "fire and anger" in these days.

• HOW to EAT to BEAT the HEAT

By Alice H. Smith
(Nutritionist, Cleveland Health Council)

We Begin on Milk and End on It; We Ought to Drink More Meantime

Man starts off life on a milk diet and quite often he ends up the same way. Milk never lets the human race down. And there's a reason. It is the most nearly perfect food. It furnishes the body more of the building and regulating substances than any other food —and more cheaply at that.

The statement that children need the equivalent of one quart of milk daily is the result of long and careful scientific experiments. Milk protein, the builder of muscle and other soft tissue, is of the highest quality found in any food. One pint (two cups) of milk compares favorably in protein content with any one of the following:

Two large eggs, 25 (3½-inch) strips of bacon; one small serving of meat or fish; five medium-sized potatoes; five slices of bread; one half cup of peanuts.

Probably the biggest gift of milk is its calcium (lime). The body needs lime to build bones and teeth. Serving for serving, no other food can substitute for milk in supplying calcium. Milk also contains appreciable amounts of the mineral, phosphorus, another bone and tooth builder.

One pint of milk (two cups) contains the same amount of calcium as any of the following foods:

Eighty apples, 65 medium bananas, 24 medium oranges, 35 medium potatoes, 10-12 servings of 3 1/3-ounce carrots, 12 servings of same weight cabbage, 17 to 18 eggs, 38 slices whole wheat bread, 40 slices of white bread (made with milk), 140 cups of cornflakes or 22 cups cooked oatmeal.

Studying this list it is easy to understand why children can't possibly eat sufficient food to get their calcium from non-milk foods. Many other foods contain calcium, but for the most part only in small quantities.

But protein and calcium is not all of the story of milk it contains other vitally necessary minerals and an abundant supply of Vitamin A and ribo-flavin, along with a generous amount of Vitamin B1 (thiamin) and nicotinic acid and variable amount of Vitamin C. Some milks have been fortified with Vitamin D and are so labeled.

Next: Why you are eating what you think you can't.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

NEW SURROUNDINGS ERASE FEAR

Tommy went to bed gladly, slept soundly, so his mother had no bedtime difficulty with him. One night there was an accident with the electric apparatus in the bedroom where he slept and the fire department had to be called. Since then Tommy won't go to bed without someone with him and if the fire department apparatus passes the house he goes into a panic. His experience with fire frightened him.

When something like this happens and a child is conditioned to fear there is no shortcut to his cure. We have to be patient and hopeful and very gentle. Talking is not helpful and often it does harm by keeping the unfortunate experience to the fore. We want the child to forget it as soon as possible, so the less said the better.

One of the most helpful things we can do is to change his surroundings so that they no longer remind him of the bad experience. Tommy had to have his bed placed in another room so that he would not be reminded every time he went to bed of what was, for him, a dreadful fright.

When a child has formed an unfortunate habit of any kind, changing the surroundings that suggest the habit is of great help. If a child has tantrums at table every mealtime, try changing his eating place, changing the dishes he uses, the hour for his meals, and the person who waits on him. Give him a fresh start under new conditions and see if that will help.

When a child has gotten into trouble with an associate, or with a grown person in charge of him, do what is possible to change the material conditions under which the unfortunate experience occurred. Then, and this is the heart of the matter, do all you can to change the mental attitude of all concerned about the matter.

Try to get the child to see where he was wrong and get him to want to be right. Until you can do that you can have no assurance that he is not headed for the same mistake. Try to get the grown person concerned to forget all grudging, all blame, all feeling of personal injury in relation to the child's conduct.

If a teacher feels that this child has given him a personal affront, and is consequently set against him, the child will be forced to make another mistake because of that attitude. If one of the family holds a grudge against the child because of his mistake, he must be treated as well as the child for he is equally wrong. Certain conditions surround every experience and they suggest a repetition of that experience. If it has been a bad one you can see that change is imperative.

Force is not helpful here. Mind controls all action and if the mind is set the wrong way the action must follow in the wrong way. Force does not affect the mind in happy ways. It tends to rouse bad feelings and increase wrong actions. Understanding, gentleness, reason, open the mind and direct it to ways of pleasantness and peace.

Then discipline fear-stricken children and children of poor habits not by force, but by gentleness; not by force but by happy experiences that dislodge the memory of the bad ones. Change the setting or direct it toward good ends and good will come.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—It's the easiest thing in the world to fight a war on a map on your library table.

Any ordinary fellow with a knack for strategy can beat any full fledged general, hands down. As Napoleon observed, anybody can map a masterful piece of strategy. But it takes a genius to carry it out.

The trouble with you and me when we map strategy is that we leave out factors, including the weather, and what it does to armies and navies, and the elements they use for travel—water, air, and terrain.

More often than not, it's the weather that wins and loses battles, and not armed forces.

In this battle for Scandinavia, two extremely important weather factors don't appear on your map.

1. The North sea is the foggiest area on the earth's surface in the spring and,

2. Norwegian roads at this time of year look like the lane to the pasture after a spring rain.

That means the Germans have an ally in the Scandinavian weather, just as they had the weather for a friend in Poland, and just as the Russians tried to use the weather against the Finns—and darn near lost the war.

Weather Beat Poland

In Poland, Germany wanted to stage a blitzkrieg with a mechanized army. So her generals took the weather map for 70 years back, picked the average driest month of the year—August—and struck. Motorized armies run best in dry country. You know the rest of the story.

In Finland Russia chose December. Finland has been invaded eight times, you see, and every time, the attacking force chose December. It's the one time the lake ice is frozen deep enough to hold up marching columns. At other times, an invading army could be cut up, and its units beaten by guerillas.

Dame Nature almost beat the Russians, because she sent the worst package of weather in 50 years to northern Europe.

In Scandinavia, the Germans are playing the weather to the hilt, and the law of averages, too.

Usually, the fog closes in 40 per cent of the time along the coast of Norway at this time of year. Add to that some 10 hours of darkness in every 24, and you have increased hiding time for German transports and naval units—perhaps up to 60 per cent of the time.

That's just what the Germans want to slip past the British fleet. German ships navigate along the Norwegian coast only during fog or darkness. When the weather clears they hide in fjords.

Fog Favors The Germans

Now that Germany has her armed forces in command of land positions at Trondheim, Oslo, Bergen, Stavanger, Kristiansand, and other points, she has the drop on both naval and aerial forces because of the fog. And for an attacking army, the roads are terrific—all slush, now freezing, now thawing.

Victor Hugo, in Les Miserables, wrote: "If it had not rained on the night of June 17, 1815, the future of Europe would have changed." He meant the rain delayed units of Napoleon's armies. Subsequent historians think Napoleon's confusing orders had something to do with Waterloo, too, but anyway, rain was an important factor.

At Jutland in 1916, the weather almost beat the British fleet, and suddenly changed, and helped the British gunners find their targets.

Today the weather is more important than it ever was before. The weather man has a word for it. Visibility. He tells us what visibility is in his daily charts, and on his daily maps.

As visibility goes, so goes the war.

WESTERN SAMOA

Western Samoa Set Honors Stevenson

THE new Western Samoa series of four stamps, commemorating the 25th anniversary of New Zealand's control of the islands, also honors the 50th anniversary of the arrival in the island of Samoa's most famous resident—Robert Louis Stevenson. The author's portrait is shown on the highest value of the set, reproduced above.

Stevenson was born in Edinburgh, studied engineering before turning to literature. Ill most of his life, Stevenson lived in England, France and United States. In 1889 he sailed on a pleasure cruise in the Pacific, and after six months sailing, decided to make his home on the island of Upolu, shown on the stamp of the same series, below.

Other stamps of the issue show a typical Samoan village and a Samoan dancing party.

A Mother's Day Thought

Mother's day brings the world thoughts of the love and devotion and ceaseless care which mothers give their children.

In this world of selfishness and grasping spirit that affection shines like a good deed in a naughty world, as Mr. Shakespeare said. Amid all the darkness of human conduct in its more repellant aspects, that selfless service is one of the most glorious aspects of human nature.

It is amazing how women will toil and struggle for their children. Their labors are ceaseless and untiring. They rise early in the morning to get good breakfasts for the little ones and send them off to school. They labor while they are gone to make the home comfortable and healthful. When the youngsters return, the mothers listen patiently to their complaints, they put up with their grouches and often with disobedience.

Mothers work day and night to help the children appear neat and stylish before the world. They are often up late nights to finish the day's toil. Often they lie awake nights studying over the children's problems.

They think little of themselves, but everything is for the children. No sacrifice is too great if it will advance the future of these youngsters.

A great deal of this service is given with little recognition. Children often accept these things as something to which they are entitled, and for which they do not need to make any return. If asked to help lighten the labors of the home, many of them are affronted.

Mother's day should be a time when people recognize to the full all these blessings of maternal love that they received, and for which in so many cases they made little return.

The heart should overflow with gratitude, and if mother is still here this feeling should be manifested in a substantial material way.

'THERE ARE NO CHILDREN ANY MORE'

The brandished fist, traditional salute of the Communist party and in general of all Marxist parties devoted to inevitable class war, is a symbol which suggests defiance and violence, hatred and death.

In New York's May day parade, a tiny girl of five or six was carried on the shoulders of an elder, waving a tiny fist.

Must the very babies be dragged down into the weltering mass of antagonisms and hatreds which their elders have created? Then what hope is there that they will do better than we?

It is true, bitterly true, that we elders have robbed millions of children of their right to a happy childhood. It is true that numberless children are victims of war, and greed, and stupidity. But it is not their fault. Nor can they, as babies, do anything about it. It is our fight, the fight of the mature, to do better for them than we have done.

Soon enough, too soon, the children will find themselves pitchforked into the struggles, the antagonisms, the prejudices and hatreds that are not natural to them, but which they acquire from contact with life. Must we force hatred into their lisping mouths in the very cradle?

Rather than teach them as babies the shibboleths of class and racial hatreds, ought not we to dress ourselves manfully to the task of eliminating the injustices from which those hatreds spring? Their turn to fight will come in time, and may they fight with greater understanding and clearer vision than ours.

"Know you what it is to be a child?" asked Shelley. "It is to be something very different from the man of today. It is . . . to believe in love, to believe in loveliness, to believe in belief . . ."

Surely there are enough to hate, and fight, and brandish fists. Surely we can afford to let the children wait their turn.

WAR'S AFTERMATH

No greater mistake was ever made than to believe that when the wrench of war on a nation has stopped that the blessings of peace snap back into place automatically. The fallacy of this belief is being demonstrated to Spain now.

The Spanish government has halved the bread ration because of a shortage of wheat. Spanish wheat yields are falling down because of excessive rains, with outside supplies failing. France is holding back shipments. Argentina, which granted a credit of 400,000 tons, can not find bottoms deliver the grain. Australia, Portugal and Jugoslavia been approached for cereal supplies, but have little or spare. Now Franco is said to be making overtures ited States.

rationing is brought about in Spain not by re- f but by forbidding bakeries to sell bread ex- days. Almost all food, save vegetables and ulated in the country with sugar, olive eas and beans in the list. Meat is available th and butter not at all.

Too Much Farm Produce

If someone would kindly tell Uncle Sam how he can unload the vast quantities of farm produce he now owns, the old gentleman would be very much obliged indeed.

As of the end of March, the Commodity Credit corporation held title to more than 6,600,000 bales of cotton and 91,000,000 bushels of corn—the whole business worth, roughly, $370,000,000. In addition, farm loans are now outstanding on 2,600,000 bales of cotton and 460,000,000 bushels of corn, and before another year ends the government may be stuck with most of that.

"Stuck" is the right word. Situation is worse in regard to cotton; law says none of the government-owned bales may be sold unless the price received equals the money put out in loans, plus the carrying charges—which have been about $1,500,000 monthly. Practical effect is that it just can't be sold at all; even Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, which gives cotton away, can't buy any of it. About 600,000 bales will go to England in the barter arrangement for rubber. What will happen to the rest, no one seems to know.

If corn prices go up this year, the government may get rid of the 460,000,000 bushels on which it has made loans. If they go down, on the other hand, it may get the whole ball of wax. Storage charges, by the way, are about $3,500,000 a month.

Too Much Money

Nothing will happen at this session, but next year congress is apt to cast some inquiring and critical glances at the money which is piling up under the social security law.

During the next fiscal year, payroll tax money collected for the old age and unemployment insurance funds will amount to $1,300,000,000. Of this, around $740,000,000 will be paid out in benefits; the rest will go to swell the reserve funds.

Unemployment insurance fund will go up the fastest. It stands now at $1,600,000,000-odd, and will rise by around $360,000,000 during the year, unless the bottom falls out of things. On the double-barreled plea that such a setup is deflationary and that business can't stand the gaff anyhow, you can look for a drive to cut it down pretty sharply.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 11.—Dead Staff: Recently, I advised you to lay the foundations of Hollywood social success by launching yachts and planting gardens. Now I want to complete your education by listing a few important rules of Filmville conduct. Obey these and your popularity will be assured.

(1) Attract all possible attention in public places, preferred methods being "arranged" telephone calls and reprimands to undersized waiters. (2) Refer casually to all big studio executives, especially those you've never met, by nicknames. (3) Address all women as "Darling." (4) Address all men as "Darling." (5) Acquire a stock of first-person anecdotes—and introduce each one with "This'll slay yuh." (6) Be sure to mention the high cost of everything you possess. (7) Refer often to "the servants" and detail all your troubles with them. (8) Always tell how swacked you were at last night's party. (9) Wear, at all informal affairs, the loudest, most unorthodox clothes obtainable. (10) Under no circumstances say anything requiring more than a split second's thought.

The eleventh—and most important rule is: Be related to the right people (those with ample bank accounts or studio influence.) If you are successful in observing this one, you can forget the other ten, do just as you darned please, and still be a colossal success!

JIMMIE FIDDLER.

Dear Jimmie: For three weeks, we've been wracking our poor brains in the effort to understand this sudden worry about our social welfare. Today, reading your "Rule 9," the light dawned. You're simply trying to justify that horse blanket you wear for a sport coat—the one with the ultra-violet background and the two-inch color squares. Perhaps similar bedizenment on our part would make you feel less conspicuous—but boss, there's a limt! And, after all, you picked it out yourself.

Here's today's odds-and-ends: Ken Murray's next party (speaking of things social) ought to be as much fun as a cageful of monkeys—at least he's installed a cageful in his South seas playroom and plans a brawl to introduce them to Hollywood sassiety . . . An amusing production delay on the "Brigham Young" location—someone swiped all the prop beards. . . . Ted North, 20th Century recruit, is trying to change Arleen Whelan's sense of direction. . . . That pretty who rhumbas so gracefully—and so often—with Cesar Romero these eves is Bobby Molyneaux, a socialite. . . . Wonder if that publicity director who trailed his lot's big star to Honolulu knows that he's drawing chuckles?

Henry (fond husband) Fonda, locationing at Bishop, California, has chartered a plane for week-end visits to the missus. . . . Arthur Murray nixed a bid to dance-direct Irving Berlin's Bdwy show to ditto "Thank You Columbus," local offering now in rehearsal. . . . Maria Ouspenskaya claims her protege, 17-year-old Carolyn Butler, for whom studios are already bidding, will be the next Bette Davis. . . . No honeymoon for Anita Louise and Buddy Adler, who altarate next Saturday—the groom can't get leave-of-absence from MGM. . . . John Carroll, who drives his ex, Stefi Duna, home from work each day, haunts the Sphinx club each eve to ogle torchanteuse Mary Downs.

Boss, keep an eye on Paramount's Betty Brewer, for there's a gal with drive. A few weeks ago, when she succeeded in landing a role in "Rangers of Fortune," the Brewer family was on relief. In two weeks she has (1) got her mother a board of education job, supervising juvenile set workers; (2) placed her brother in an important bit in the same pic; (3) sold her sister as her own stand-in. Pa Brewer, a carpenter by trade, is as yet unemployed, but Betty will undoubtedly take care of that.

Spencer Tracy jaunts to Wisconsin on completion of "Boom Town" to accept that honorary degree from Ripon college. . . . Guy Kibbee, who finds gags anent his baldness tiresome, is having a sky piece made "for social reasons" . . . Bob Montgomery post-cards from England details of a week-end trek to France to see a German bomber shot down behind the lines. . . . The NY museum of modern art has persuaded Dolores del Rio to loan Diego Revera's portrait of her for exhibition. . . . Otto Kruger will vacation at Saranac lake on completing his current role.

Maureen O'Sullivan's visit to hubby John Farrow in Toronto will last indefinitely—she's instructed agents to lease a house there. . . . Have you heard Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's reply to an interviewer who asked how far he had progressed in school? "Thoid grade," said Maxie. "My pop was in the fourt' grade—and I couldn't pass him widout makin' my mudder sore!"

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

This department has at hand a letter from an angry citizen of Peekskill, N. Y., castigating us for not giving support to the national committee for religious recovery in its new crusade to "sell" religion. Just why we should be singled out as the culprit in this instance is not clear, as we aren't supposed to be "selling" anything and neither religion nor politics is our special responsibility.

We share the gentleman's zeal for righteousness—heaven knows it's needed—but unfortunately his letter is too intemperate to be printed, especially at a time when too many hate words are spawning everywhere in this troubled world. My correspondent apparently was stirred to fighting talk by an address by Bainbridge Colby at a recent luncheon at which the above national committee launched its campaign for a return to religion. He enclosed a newspaper clipping, reporting Mr. Colby's speech, and on the margin he had written: "This means you!"

Mr. Colby specified newspapers, and motion picture theaters as the principal purveyors of sin, heading a dreadful pack stampeding us all right down to hell. He specifically included "authors, writers and those concerned with the theater" in this evil crew. To make clear his characterization of these offenders, he quoted James Douglas of the London Express, who tags us as follows: "Menaces, cads, bounders, sniggerers, innuendoists, pronocrats, garbage mongers, purveyors of impurity, venders of vice, sewer rats, blowflies, carrion crows, maggots of decadence, hookworms of salacity, literary lepers."

We have, at times, been unhappily conscious of the shortcomings of our craft, but we didn't know we were as bad as all that. But Mr. Colby lists many other defects. He bids for "some man with excoriating utterance, with blistering tongue, and fearless heart to flay and scourage, to destroy and drive pell-mell in disgraceful flight these evil forces in our theater, in our motion-picture houses, in our fiction, in our press and in our parlors." He pleads for a religion of "fire and anger."

Pertinent to the above, one of my friends tells me a story about the late Fremont Older, editor of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, famous fighter and crusader. Mr. Older set my friend to shelling the ramparts of certain evil-doers in exactly the same spirit as that which Mr. Colby invokes. It was, as my friend described it, one of the most lurid outbursts of invective that ever appeared in a newspaper. The accused had powerful and respectable backing, and presently the town had something like a range war on its hands.

One day Mr. Older called my friend from his smoking-hot typewriter. "It is a great mistake," he said, "to call a man a swine and punch him on the nose and then try to convince him of anything. If he's still dumb and still a scoundrel when you get through, you're right where you were and you'll have another fight on your hands. If your ultimate aim is arouse righteous indigation, try to convince a man first, and if indigation comes it will be informed and powerful. If you make him mad first, you'll never convince him of anything. Throw away this screaming denunciation, take plenty of time and space, and explain, rather than denounce, these people. When the people really understand, they do not need to be lashed to a fury."

I have written my angry Peekskill correspondent to come in and see me next week. I think I will be able to convince him of the following: That the average American newspaper devotes at least twice as much space to religion as it did twenty years ago.

That there hasn't been a single national religious, cultural or educational campaign that hasn't received generous and helpful support from the newspapers.

That newspapers and magazines which go in for smut are quickly stifled in their own fumes, and that the brief outbreak of livery stable journalism of ten years ago is gone and forgotten.

That the moving picture of today, compared to the early-day output, is cleaner, brighter and in every way more fit entertainment for decent and intelligent people.

But we don't want to get steamed up about it. We just want to talk it over. We can't quite agree that even the pursuit of righteousness calls for more "fire and anger" in these days.

• HOW to EAT to BEAT the HEAT

By Alice H. Smith
(Nutritionist, Cleveland Health Council)

We Begin on Milk and End on It; We Ought to Drink More Meantime

Man starts off life on a milk diet and quite often he ends up the same way. Milk never lets the human race down. And there's a reason. It is the most nearly perfect food. It furnishes the body more of the building and regulating substances than any other food—and more cheaply at that.

The statement that children need the equivalent of one quart of milk daily is the result of long and careful scientific experiments. Milk protein, the builder of muscle and other soft tissue, is of the highest quality found in any food. One pint (two cups) of milk compares favorably in protein content with any one of the following:

Two large eggs, 25 (3½-inch) strips of bacon; one small serving of meat or fish; five medium-sized potatoes; five slices of bread; one half cup of peanuts.

Probably the biggest gift of milk is its calcium (lime). The body needs lime to build bones and teeth. Serving for serving, no other food can substitute for milk in supplying calcium. Milk also contains appreciable amounts of the mineral, phosphorus, another bone and tooth builder.

One pint of milk (two cups) contains the same amount of calcium as any of the following foods:

Eighty apples, 65 medium bananas, 24 medium oranges, 35 medium potatoes, 10-12 servings of 3 1/3-ounce carrots, 12 servings of same weight cabbage, 17 to 18 eggs, 38 slices whole wheat bread, 40 slices of white bread (made with milk), 140 cups of cornflakes or 22 cups cooked oatmeal.

Studying this list it is easy to understand why children can't possibly eat sufficient food to get their calcium from non-milk foods. Many other foods contain calcium, but for the most part only in small quantities.

But protein and calcium is not all of the story of milk it contains other vitally necessary minerals and an abundant supply of Vitamin A and ribo-flavin, along with a generous amount of Vitamin B1 (thiamin) and nicotinic acid and variable amount of Vitamin C. Some milks have been fortified with Vitamin D and are so labeled.

Next: Why you are eating what you think you can't.

It is believed that the first fire insurance company in America was organized at Charleston, S. C., in 1736.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

NEW SURROUNDINGS ERASE FEAR

Tommy went to bed gladly, slept soundly, so his mother had no bedtime difficulty with him. One night there was an accident with the electric apparatus in the bedroom where he slept and the fire department had to be called. Since then Tommy won't go to bed without someone with him and if the fire department apparatus passes the house he goes into a panic. His experience with fire frightened him.

When something like this happens and a child is conditioned to fear there is no shortcut to his cure. We have to be patient and hopeful and very gentle. Talking is not helpful and often it does harm by keeping the unfortunate experience to the fore. We want the child to forget it as soon as possible, so the less said the better.

One of the most helpful things we can do is to change his surroundings so that they no longer remind him of the bad experience. Tommy had to have his bed placed in another room so that he would not be reminded every time he went to bed of what was, for him, a dreadful fright.

When a child has formed an unfortunate habit of any kind, changing the surroundings that suggest the habit is of great help. If a child has tantrums at table every mealtime, try changing his eating place, changing the dishes he uses, the hour for his meals, and the person who waits on him. Give him a fresh start under new conditions and see if that will help.

When a child has gotten into trouble with an associate, or with a grown person in charge of him, do what is possible to change the material conditions under which the unfortunate experience occurred. Then, and this is the heart of the matter, do all you can to change the mental attitude of all concerned about the matter.

Try to get the child to see where he was wrong and get him to want to be right. Until you can do that you can have no assurance that he is not headed for the same mistake. Try to get the grown person concerned to forget all grudging, all blame, all feeling of personal injury in relation to the child's conduct.

If a teacher feels that this child has given him a personal affront, and is consequently set against him, the child will be forced to make another mistake because of that attitude. If one of the family holds a grudge against the child because of his mistake, he must be treated as well as the child for he is equally wrong. Certain conditions surround every experience and they suggest a repetition of that experience. If it has been a bad one you can see that change is imperative.

Force is not helpful here. Mind controls all action and if the mind is set the wrong way the action must follow in the wrong way. Force does not affect the mind in happy ways. It tends to rouse bad feelings and increase wrong actions. Understanding, gentleness, reason, open the mind and direct it to ways of pleasantness and peace.

Then discipline fear-stricken children and children of poor habits not by force, but by gentleness; not by force but by happy experiences that dislodge the memory of the bad ones. Change the setting or direct it toward good ends and good will come.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—It's the easiest thing in the world to fight a war on a map on your library table.

Any ordinary fellow with a knack for strategy can beat any full fledged general, hands down. As Napoleon observed, anybody can map a masterful piece of strategy. But it takes a genius to carry it out.

The trouble with you and me when we map strategy is that we leave out factors, including the weather, and what it does to armies and navies, and the elements they use for travel—water, air, and terrain.

More often than not, it's the weather that wins and loses battles, and not armed forces.

In this battle for Scandinavia, two extremely important weather factors don't appear on your map.

1. The North sea is the foggiest area on the earth's surface in the spring and,

2. Norwegian roads at this time of year look like the lane to the pasture after a spring rain.

That means the Germans have an ally in the Scandinavian weather, just as they had the weather for a friend in Poland, and just as the Russians tried to use the weather against the Finns—and darn near lost the war.

Weather Beat Poland

In Poland, Germany wanted to stage a blitzkrieg with a mechanized army. So her generals took the weather map for 70 years back, picked the average driest month of the year—August—and struck. Motorized armies run best in dry country. You know the rest of the story.

In Finland Russia chose December. Finland has been invaded eight times, you see, and every time, the attacking force chose December. It's the one time the lake ice is frozen deep enough to hold up marching columns. At other times, an invading army could be cut up, and its units beaten by guerillas.

Dame Nature almost beat the Russians, because she sent the worst package of weather in 50 years to northern Europe.

In Scandinavia, the Germans are playing the weather to the hilt, and the law of averages, too.

Usually, the fog closes in 40 per cent of the time along the coast of Norway at this time of year. Add to that some 10 hours of darkness in every 24, and you have increased hiding time for German transports and naval units—perhaps up to 60 per cent of the time.

That's just what the Germans want to slip past the British fleet. German ships navigate along the Norwegian coast only during fog or darkness. When the weather clears they hide in fjords.

Fog Favors The Germans

Now that Germany has her armed forces in command of land positions at Trondheim, Oslo, Bergen, Stavanger, Kristiansand, and other points, she has the drop on both naval and aerial forces because of the fog. And for an attacking army, the roads are terrific—all slush, now freezing, now thawing.

Victor Hugo, in Les Miserables, wrote: "If it had not rained on the night of June 17, 1815, the future of Europe would have changed." He meant the rain delayed units of Napoleon's armies. Subsequent historians think Napoleon's conflicting orders had something to do with Waterloo, too, but anyway, rain was an important factor.

At Jutland in 1916, the weather almost beat the British fleet, then suddenly changed, and helped the British gunners find their targets.

Today the weather is more important than it ever was before. The weather man has a word for it, Visibility. He tells us what visibility is in his daily charts, and on his daily maps.

As visibility goes, so goes the war

Western Samoa Set Honors Stevenson

THE new Western Samoa series of four stamps, commemorating the 25th anniversary of New Zealand's control of the islands, also honors the 50th anniversary of the arrival in the islands of Samoa's most famous resident—Robert Louis Stevenson. The author's portrait is shown on the highest value of the set, reproduced above.

Stevenson was born in Edinburgh, studied engineering before turning to literature. Ill most of his life, Stevenson lived in England, France and United States. In 1889 he sailed on a pleasure cruise in the Pacific, and after six months sailing, decided to make his home on the island of Upolu, shown on the stamp of the same series, below.

Other stamps of the issue show a typical Samoan village and a Samoan dancing party.

FAMILY DIES IN MURDER-SUICIDE

Dispute Between Negro Couple In West Monroe Brings Two Deaths

A murder-suicide shortly before midnight Friday in West Monroe climaxed an argument between a young negro and his wife.

Scanty informafoin available pending report of the coroner's investigation revealed that the couple, Leon and Essie Mae Holmes, lived in Monroe and that after an argument Essie Mae had gone to the home of her brother, Beniman Kyles, at 314 Railroad avenue, in West Monroe, to spend the night.

West Monroe police who arrived on the scene a few minutes after the shooting said that Holmes had followed his wife and fired one shot into her left temple at close range with a 25-caliber automatic, killing her instantly.

The husband then turned the gun on himself, firing once into his right temple. He was taken by ambulance to the St. Francis sanitarium, where he died at 2.15 a.m. Saturday.

HOT STUFF

ROLLA, Mo.—Harold Heflin, 19, stood too close to a burning truck and his clothes caught fire. Excited, he ran into a nearby woods, starting a blaze there.

Three acres of timber burned—Heflin's only injury was a badly scorched hand.

ONE WAR'S ENOUGH

BOSTON, Mass.—William Brown, charged with assault and battery by Ethel Brooks, explained to Judge Elijah Adlow in municipal court that the argument started because he gave an "honest criticism" of her new hat.

Then, he continued, she criticized his necktie and grabbed it. This, Brown said, he did not find comfortable so he grabbed the lady.

"Not guilty," said Judge Adlow. "There's enough trouble on the other side of the ocean without starting a war here over a woman's hat."

MEOW—PHFFFFT!!

KEMMERER, Wyo.—The job of clearing debris from a jammed culvert stumped a highway crew attempting to get a drag chain through.

Then one of the workmen submitted this plan to Foreman William Reynolds:

Place several baby kittens at one end of culvert. Put mother at other end with string tied to tail. Kittens cry. Mother scurries to them pulling string through culvert. Workmen tie heavier cord to string then attach cable.

It worked.

RUDE AWAKENING

OCONOMOWOC, Wis.—A hit-and-run automobile jarred Mrs. Jennie Wood out of bed in a second floor room at her inn. The car smashed into the side of the building.

TWO GOOD REASONS

BELLEVILLE, Ill.—"What's the hurry?" Motorcycle Policeman William Klotz asked a speeder he had stopped.

"I'm naturally excited," replied Driver Walter Ernst, "I just had twins."

Dispute Between Negro Couple In West Monroe Brings Two Deaths

A murder-suicide shortly before midnight Friday in West Monroe climaxed an argument between a young negro and his wife.

Scanty informatoin available pending report of the coroner's investigation revealed that the couple, Leon and Essie Mae Holmes, lived in Monroe and that after an argument Essie Mae had gone to the home of her brother, Beniman Kyles, at 314 Railroad avenue, in West Monroe, to spend the night.

West Monroe police who arrived on the scene a few minutes after the shooting said that Holmes had followed his wife and fired one shot into her left temple at close range with a .25-caliber automatic, killing her instantly.

The husband then turned the gun on himself, firing once into his right temple. He was taken by ambulance to the St. Francis sanitarium, where he died at 2:15 a.m. Saturday.

HOT STUFF

ROLLA, Mo.—Harold Heflin, 19, stood too close to a burning truck and his clothes caught fire. Excited, he ran into a nearby woods, starting a blaze there.

Three acres of timber burned—Heflin's only injury was a badly scorched hand.

ONE WAR'S ENOUGH

BOSTON, Mass.—William Brown, charged with assault and battery by Ethel Brooks, explained to Judge Elijah Adlow in municipal court that the argument started because he gave an "honest criticism" of her new hat.

Then, he continued, she criticized his necktie and grabbed it. This, Brown said, he did not find comfortable so he grabbed the lady.

"Not guilty," said Judge Adlow. "There's enough trouble on the other side of the ocean without starting a war here over a woman's hat."

MEOW—PHFFFFT!!

KEMMERER, Wyo.—The job of clearing debris from a jammed culvert stumped a highway crew attempting to get a drag chain through.

Then one of the workmen submitted this plan to Foreman William Reynolds:

Place several baby kittens at one end of culvert. Put mother at other end with string tied to tail. Kittens cry. Mother scurries to them pulling string through culvert. Workmen tie heavier cord to string then attach cable.

It worked.

RUDE AWAKENING

OCONOMOWOC, Wis.—A hit-and-run automobile jarred Mrs. Jennie Wood cut of bed in a second floor room at her inn. The car smashed into the side of the building.

TWO GOOD REASONS

BELLEVILLE, Ill.—"What's the hurry?" Motorcycle Policeman William Klotz asked a speeder he had stopped.

"I'm naturally excited," replied Driver Walter Ernst, "I just had twins."

Road Commission's Records To Be No. 1 Jones Headache

Highway Books Are Involved More So Than Conservation Setup

BATON ROUGE, May 11.—(Special)—One hundred and sixteen field men and seventy-one members of the office force on the department of state revenue have lost their jobs. They received letters today telling them their tenure will expire on May 15. The letters were signed by W. A. Cooper, who is head of the department. This is said to be the department referred to by Governor-Elect Sam H. Jones in his radio speech Thursday night in which he said he knew of one state department in which $250,000 per year could easily be saved. Salaries of the men discharged are said to aggregate this figure.

BATON ROUGE, May 11.—(Special)—In a contest for the doubtful distinction of leading all departments of the discredited state machines in the matter of corrupt and costly administration, the Louisiana Highway commission would easily outdistance all competitors. Not even the muchly publicized conservation commission could hope to displace it. When Sam H. Jones becomes governor on Tuesday next the highway commission will probably constitute his most serious problem. Well-authenticated reports here have it that the road department has simply been honeycombed with graft and favoritism.

A week or so ago, Vice-Chairman Jess Nugent made public a general report of the supervisor of public funds on the highway commission which disclosed some irregularities and examples of mismanagement. Reference was made in this general report to a special report of the supervisor that had been made to Governor Earl K. Long on March 8 last. But, the special report was not given out, nor were its contents disclosed. Vice-Chairman Nugent must have held back the report, for it is known to have been in his possession, and it did not reach the public.

According to what appears to be a reliable report, Governor-Elect Jones made some reference to it in his radio speech Thursday when he said that in one deal the highway commission got but 56 per cent of what it was entitled to, whereas political parties got the other 44. An authority who claims to have seen and studied the special report, of which there are several copies extant, declares that the supervisor of public funds revealed in detail a system of corruption in the purchase of highway materials that cost the state many thousands of dollars and enriched members of the state legislature and favored politicians. According to this authority, the supervisor uncovered a long series of crimes that will keep the courts busy when they start probing them.

The supervisor himself declined to discuss the special report, or even the possibility of a report, when approached by The Monroe World representative. Since it is the business of the supervisor only to submit reports and not to make them public, he referred the newspaper representative to those officials to whom the special report would be sent in due and orderly legal course. However, since the report was not made public by the highway commission at the time it gave out the general report of the supervisor, it was clearly useless to plumb this source.

Generally, the supervisor and his staff are reported to have found that those who sold paving materials to the commission were not permitted to deal directly with that body at all. They were forced to transact business through state senators and representatives or favored local politicians. And to each of these political agents, the seller was forced to pay heavy sums commission.

Practically all of the corruption uncovered in the highway body, began and ended with the administration of Richard W. Leche. At least, according to The World informant, the special report of the supervisor so revealed. It is claimed that the supervisor discovered that in 1936, 1937 and 1938 one contractor paid $30,000 in commissions to members of the legislature and other political favorites. In the same period, a gravel company is said to have paid out $50,000 in the same manner. These "commissions," of course, all went into the purchase price. There was no such thing as competitive bidding. Contracts for purchases were awarded without bids—often by telephone. In many cases the parties collecting the commissions delivered in person the purchasing orders of the commission. In one case, it is said, an order for large purchases was not signed until several months after the materials had been delivered.

Political pressure from the outside appears to have absolutely dominated the purchase department of the road body, as a result of which the public interest suffered, the state lost many thousands of dollars and outsiders and employes of the highway commission benefited. In the particular case to which Governor-Elect Jones referred in his radio talk it is claimed that the chief beneficiaries were a state senator, a state representative and a politically influential business man. Between them they are said to have gotten 41.95 per cent of the purchase price. But, there was a highway employe involved, too. He got 1.12 per cent.

It is reported that the facts revealed by this report were disclosed to Governor Earl K. Long on March 8. He discovered from its contents that someone paid commissions on all purchases of the highway commission. But, he made no known attempt to recover the money illegally diverted or to punish the parties guilty of this wholesale corruption. However, what Governor Long did not attempt, Governor Jones is sure to accomplish. There's a bad time in store for those who profited by this wholesale system of corrupt highway purchases. This does not apply to the men who were held up, but to those who held them up.

which would have been the inevitable result of a second primary.

"I desire also at this time to extend to Mr. Rodriguez my congratulations and best wishes for the success of his coming term of office, and my assurance of cooperation with him and the other commissioners in every possible way for the welfare of Monroe."

The official vote in last Tuesday's primary promulgated Saturday by the Democratic Executive committee coincided almost exactly with the unofficial returns tabulated in the news room of the News-Star—World.

Exactly the same as the official vote on nine of the 11 candidates for the three principal positions, the News-Star—World tabulations gave W. C. Bridges six too many votes and T. C. Mahr one too few. Both were candidates for commissioner of streets and parks against C. Ruff Tidwell who won easily in the first primary.

The official vote as released by executive committee secretary Henry Haas, follows:

For mayor: H. H. Benoit 3,148; R. D. Downes 1,271; E. C. Slagle 1,749; E. M. Steen 352.

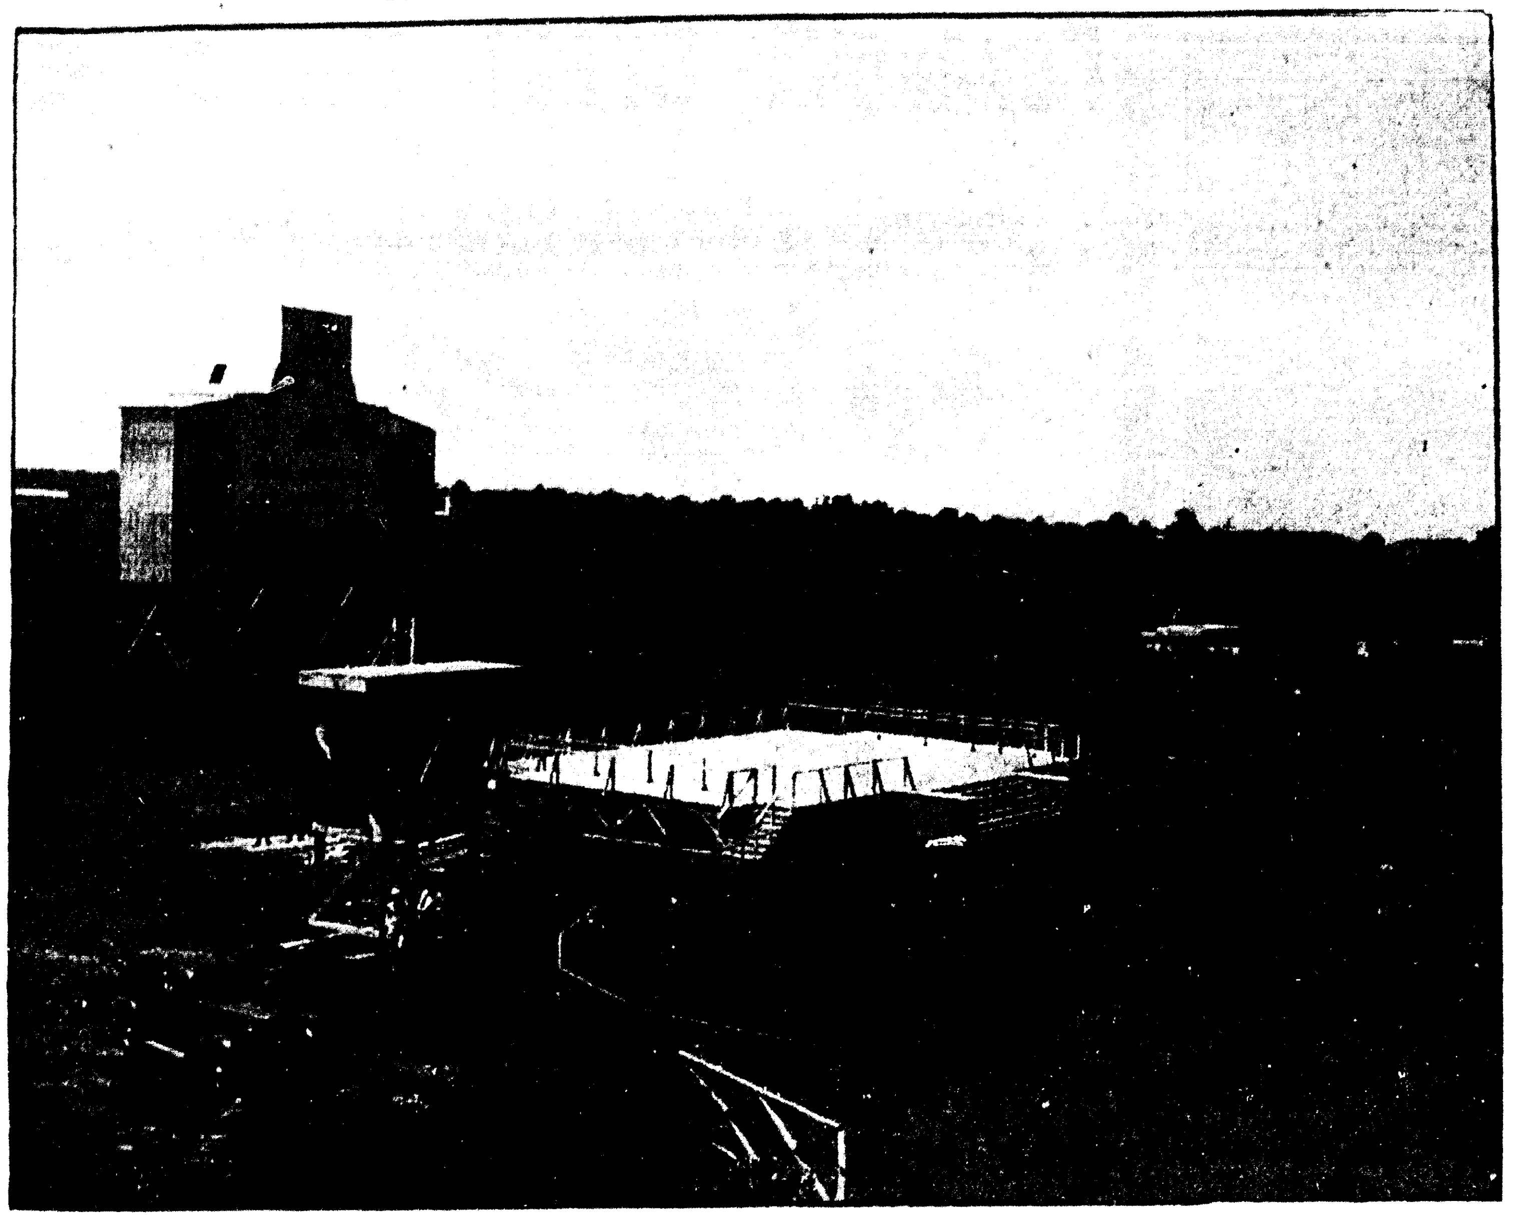
For commissioner of finance and utilities: D. A. Breard 1,295; W. D. H. Rodriguez 2,963; Bob Ed Tucker 2,258.

For commissioner of streets and parks: W. C. Bridges 505; T. C. Mahr 685; L. V. Tarver 1,829; C. R. Tidwell 3,485.

For school board (four highest nominated): Harold Breard 3,176, R. L. Davis 4,325; Harold Dixon 3,439; M. W. Haas 2,631; Sam Ruben 2,700; Warren F. Taylor 3,862; Mrs. Daisy Terzia 3,527.

For city Democratic committee (six highest nominatedd): Roy Q. Cole 4,451; F. H. Herrington 2,316; George Fink 3,574; F. H. Fitzpatrick 3,257; Henry Haas 3,396; H. O. Jones 3,339; F. L. Lagrone 1,762; T. L. Morris 4,604; J. R. Petagnal, 1,774; C. H. Reid 3,593; Edward Strong 3,742.

WHERE JONES WILL BE INAUGURATED



Now being completed in the open end of the horseshoe of the Louisiana State university stadium is the inaugural platform on which Sam H. Jones will be inaugurated Tuesday as the 49th governor of Louisiana. At either end of the inaugural platform are shown towers on which huge loudspeakers will be placed to carry the voices of the speakers to the 125,000 expected to assemble for the inaugural ceremonies.

JONES WILL TAKE OFFICE TUESDAY

eliminate and merge the state's 180-odd boards and commissions into a score or so.

Busy at work on state problems for weeks in temporary headquarters at a hotel, Jones found it increasingly apparent that, after Huey Long was shot and killed at the statehouse in 1935, his political heirs grossly squandered and even overspent the state's $75,000,000 annual revenues—yielded from almost every known source and a sum triple the tax bill when "Longism" began.

Although the machine built roads, bridges, hospitals and magnanimously extended such benefits as free school books, it piled on taxpayers a host of new taxes—on chain stores, liquor, oil, gas, payrolls, insurance premiums, incomes and sales.

The impression extends daily deeper into Louisiana bayou and hill sections that these "soak the rich" taxes made "every man a king" only insofar as he was given an opportunity to share the heavier tax load and watch "big shot" politicians get rich.

A really minor cog in the repudiated Long machine has his beautiful mansion for sale here now at a bargain, $23,000.

Wanton expenditures running steeply into millions extended far beyond graft. State budgets allowed lump, round-figured appropriations for departments, greatly in excess of what was necessary so "deadheads" or do-nothings could be retained on payrolls to swell the machine's voting power.

Lavish spending went even further under Huey's heirs. The new administration finds the dying regime carried out a great public works program but neglected to provide for its costly maintenance.

In addition to operating the state without the $6,000,000-a-year sales tax, a controversial levy Jones is pledged to abolish, the new chief executive must provide maintenance funds for $10,000,000 worth of new college buildings, the $13,000,000 New Orleans Charity hospital and four other new charity hospitals around the state.

Schools have run up a huge deficit. There is nothing left for building roads. Nearly every department and agency is broke. The state's cash obligations exceed $4,000,000 and its bonded debt, as high as the constitution allows, tops $160,000,000.

Few believe Jones can emerge from this gloomy financial picture without necessarily imposing new taxes. At best the task is a big job, especially in the light of his campaign pledges which he firmly promises will be kept.

By drastically trimming payrolls, insisting on minimum expenditures, keeping a thorough check on all disbursements, abolishing useless functions and merging similar agencies—all plans included in the new administration's program—savings will be enormous. None have any real idea how much they will be.

A legislature vastly different from the ousted machine's "rubber stamp" assembly is pledged to work for Jones on revamping the government. Most members have never served before as lawmakers, many being young attorneys practicing only a short time.

Whereas Huey Long and his followers openly boasted they bought legislators like "sacks of potatoes," and gleefully watched their orders followed explicitly and quickly, the assembly convening Monday will be free to act independently. The new administration encourages it to examine and discuss every proposal with care.

For weeks now Jones has had "brain-trusters" drafted from business and legal circles working on his program, planning means for placing the state on an efficient operating basis. One important task involves rewriting the laws governing the loose election machinery.

The incoming chief executive indicates some of his program may not be ready for the legislature immediately because of the manifold problems at hand.

Some bills probably will be introduced Monday when the assembly convenes, completes its organization and formally promulgates general election returns for governor and lieutenant-governor. Under the usual procedure, the body then will appoint a committee to represent it at the inauguration and adjourn until Wednesday.

The inaugural program gets under way early Tuesday morning when the giant parade begins wending along a gaily-decorated, four-mile route from the skyscraper capitol to the university stadium.

Near the stadium Jones will leave his open automobile, in which he will ride with his family, and review the parade from a bunting-wrapped stand with an accompanying staff of aides.

After the great crowd fills the concrete stands and packs the playing field, the throng will be led in mass singing of familiar and popular songs.

Just before Jones is sworn in by Chief Justice Charles A. O'Niell of the state supreme court, the crowd will sing "The Star Spangled Banner." Afterward the program will end with "Auld Lang Syne."

A huge barbecue feast will be ready for the huge gathering outside the stadium after the ceremonies. From then on band concerts and public dancing will prevail on the campus and at the capital until long after dusk.

Less than a year ago a different ceremony took place in the same stadium.

In caps and gowns, Dr. James Monroe Smith, the university's president, and Governor Richard W. Leche, escorted Frank Murphy, then United States attorney general, and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, to the field for L. S. U. graduation exercises.

Now Dr. Smith is in the state penitentiary under a long sentence for forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. Leche, whose resignation when the scandals began breaking elevated Governor Long to the executive chair, stands charged on many counts in both state and federal courts.

SPECIALS FROM MONROE

Both the Missouri Pacific and Illinois Central railroads will operate special trains between Monroe and Baton Rouge for the inauguration.

The Missouri Pacific special will leave Monroe at 4:30 a.m. May 14 and arrive at Baton Rouge at 10 a.m. Pullmans will leave Monroe at 10:30 p.m. May 13. Both will return the night of the 14th.

The Illinois Central will leave Monroe at 1:30 a.m. May 14 and arrive in Baton Rouge at 7 a.m. It will leave Baton Rouge at 11:30 p.m. and will arrive in Monroe at 5 o'clock the next morning.

Both specials, which are offering reduced rates, will pick up passengers at station along the route.

ROGGE WON'T ATTEND

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general who has headed federal prosecution of many Louisiana public figures, will not be able to see the new governor take office because he must prepare for the trial of a former governor.

Members of the committee arranging Sam Jones' inauguration as governor next Tuesday said today Rogge had informed them he would have to stay in Washington to clear up matters there because he wished to be free by May 20 to prepare for prosecution of former Governor Richard W. Leche and others in Alexandria May 27.

man troops captured a strong fort in front of the town.)

For the rest, strict government censorship was clamped down on all military information. This applied to operations on the front, beyond the meager word of contact made with the enemy, as well as to the movement of the Allied reinforcements.

RECAPTURE TOWN
By J. Reilly O'Sullivan

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—(AP)—Netherlands borders troops were reported officially Saturday night to have recaptured one town from the main German invading forces in a four-hour counterattack and to have killed every soldier in a German armored train.

In the interior, the Dutch high command said, the Germans dropped more parachute troops and they, for the most part, were destroyed.

But with German bombs killing at least a score of persons in the first air raid on Amsterdam, the country's largest city, the defending army and police ran into new troubles.

Germans in civilian garb tried in vain to capture police headquarters at The Hague and sniped at soldiers and policemen from the rooms of houses.

While first-line Dutch troops, for the most part, were falling back according to plan from the eastern frontier after laying waste to means of approach, the high command acknowledged the Germans had "crossed a river"—either the Ijssel, east of Arnhem, or the Maas, farther south.

The front-line defenders, however, had accomplished their main purpose: gaining time for complete flooding of the main water line defenses in the middle Netherlands.

Moreover, one border fort was sturdily holding out against the Germans.

The town that was recaptured by the Dutch was identified in Allied advices as Mill, 10 miles inside the frontier and about the same distance southeast of Nijmegen. It is on a main, cross-country railway line.

The same advices identified the fort which is holding out as Pennerden, at Velp, east of Arnhem. (Hover, French military advices reported Arnhem, in east central Netherlands, about 12 miles from the border, had been captured by the Germans.)

Although Netherlands troops, aided by British planes and the Dutch river fleet, were reported earlier in the day to have wiped out resistance of parachute troops at Rotterdam and Dordrecht island, tonight's communique indicated the airport at Waalhaven, south of Rotterdam, still was in German hands.

At a cost of more than 1,000 lives, the Dutch army and navy were declared to have wiped out the Germans landed by seaplane and parachute in the southern part of the great seaport city of Rotterdam and on Dordrecht island, to the southeast.

If the Germans had been able to hold these western Holland bases, they would have been in superb condition to strike across the narrow neck of the North sea at England.

An estimated 20 persons were killed and many injured when a long German bomber, flying over the crowded streets of mid-Amsterdam at 11 a.m. (4:40 a.m., central standard time), dropped bombs which struck only a few blocks from the great, gray royal palace on the Dam, central Amsterdam square.

While the armies of the interior hunted out the German parachute platoons, many of them in Dutch uniform, the front-line defenders on the east fought bitterly in their flood-flanked outposts on the Maas and Ijssel rivers to stem the main German armies at least until the main water line, cutting Holland in two, can be fully flooded from the Zuider Zee south and west.

The sluices were opened early Friday, when the invasion began, but the process takes upwards of 36 hours.

Destruction of bridges on the two rivers in the eastern Netherlands, plus the strategic flooding begun months ago in the "first water line" between the Neder Rijn and the Waal, aided the front-line defenders.

More British troops and French mechanized forces, too, were landed at North sea ports and rushed to the central network of fortifications and flood defenses in the Amersoort area.

Almost at the very hour of the Amsterdam bombing, Queen Wilhelmina was sending a message to King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy, imploring him to use his influence, presumably on Hitler through Benito Mussolini, to help save civilian populations "from the calamities of war, and that principles of humanity may be observed by all belligerent powers without exception."

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said Saturday in a message to Leopold III, king of the Belgians, that he and the people of the United States hoped that "policies which seek to dominate peaceful and independent peoples through force and military aggression may be arrested."

Mayor H. M. Williams, West Monroe, said, "This is a most worthy cause and deserves our wholehearted support. Citizens of West Monroe are urged to participate."

"The drone of airplane motors, the bursting of bombs, the impact of shrapnel, the rattle of machine gun fire find their echo in the cries of the wounded and dying, the lamentation of widows and orphans," Chairman Miller stated. "In the dread silence that follows in the wake of war, destruction, destitution, suffering and disease take toll of the health, lives and morale of people.

"We in Ouachita parish have been fortunate. But we cannot stand by in complete isolation and watch innocent men, women and children suffer. We must share with these victims of warfare. ARMY MANEUVERS WILL BE STUDIED

ing served in France with first division artillery. Representative Case was a marine and holds a reserve commission as captain in the Marine corps.

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 11.—(AP)—The first exercise of the army's great war games ended at 11 a.m., central standard time, Saturday after defending "Blue" forces had hurled back invading "Reds" with a dawn counter-attack that destroyed the enemy north flank.

The weary soldiers, who have had little rest and irregular meals for the past few days, will relax until Tuesday while umpires give their critique of the conduct of the mock war by the officers thus far.

Forces will be readjusted for the second exercise, which is expected to see the Blues pushing their counter-attack vigorously.

Today's Blue thrust saved the defenders' headquarters, Alexandria, La., from the capture which last night had seemed imminent. The Reds withdrew without blowing up bridgeheads near the city, on Red river.

Reinforcements from the First division and Seventh Cavalry brigade, mechanized, gave the Blues their power.

The cavalry moved down from Monroe, La., guarded by 19 pursuit ships from the Blue air field at McComb, Miss. It swung in behind the Red north flank as far as Many, La., 20 miles from the Sabine river, the border between the mythical warring countries.

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 11.—(AP)—Lieutenant-General Stanley D. Embick, commander of the United States Third army, was "killed" today by an overzealous sentry in the mammoth war games, but refused to be dead and continued on his way after a very unmilitary argument with the soldier.

The sentry, a member of the Blue forces, mistook the lieutenant-general's flag of red, with three white stars, for a banner of the invading "Red" army. The general, as head of all the forces engaged, is on neither side.

When the soldier ordered the general's automobile to stop, the general told his aide to drive on. The sentry then fired several blanks at the general, which, by all rules of sham warfare, should have killed him.

"You're shot. You're out," shouted the sentry.

"I'm the general," asserted Embick. "I've got to pass."

"You can't. I've got orders. Nobody with red showing can get through," and he pointed to the general's flag.

Embick explained the meaning of the flag. But the soldier was persistent.

"You might be a Red general," he insisted. "You're shot."

"I'm general over all these forces," Embick said.

"Not to me," declared the sentry.

After a little more of this Gilbert and Sullivan drama, the sentry allowed the lieutenant-general to pass, still doubtful over whether or not he had been lax in his duty to his mythical country.

BANDS TO PLAY ON MOTHER'S DAY

Program Is Announced For Neville High, Grammar Schools

The Neville High and city system grammar school bands will play a special Mother's day program at 5 p.m. Sunday at the high school.

C. S. Gaushell, director of the Neville band, announced the program as follows:

"In Lilac Time," march, by Englemann; "Scenes From the Sierras," by Bennett; DeLuca's "Beautiful Colorado," featuring a saxophone solo by Theo Terzia; Suppe's "Jolly Robbers" overture; "Sylvia," featuring a cornet solo by Ralph Irving, and Bela's "Lustpiel" overture.

The city grade school bands combined will play a selected march; Buchtel's "Judy's Dream" and a tone poem, "Seeds of Cadmus," by Johnson.

The Mother's day concert is also the city schools' contribution to National Music week.

Road Commission's Records To Be No. 1 Jones Headache

Highway Books Are Involved More So Than Conservation Setup

BATON ROUGE, May 11.—(Special)—One hundred and sixteen field men and seventy-one members of the office force on the department of state revenue have lost their jobs. They received letters today telling them their tenure will expire on May 15. The letters were signed by W. A. Cooper, who is head of the department. This is said to be the department referred to by Governor-Elect Sam H. Jones in his radio speech Thursday night in which he said he knew of one state department in which $250,000 per year could easily be saved. Salaries of the men discharged are said to aggregate this figure.

BATON ROUGE, May 11.—(Special)—In a contest for the doubtful distinction of leading all departments of the discredited state machines in the matter of corrupt and costly administration, the Louisiana Highway commission would easily outdistance all competitors. Not even the muchly publicized conservation commission could hope to displace it. When Sam H. Jones becomes governor on Tuesday next the highway commission will probably constitute his most serious problem. Well-authenticated reports here have it that the road department has simply been honeycombed with graft and favoritism.

A week or so ago, Vice-Chairman Jess Nugent made public a general report of the supervisor of public funds on the highway commission which disclosed some irregularities and examples of mismanagement. Reference was made in this general report to a special report of the supervisor that had been made to Governor Earl K. Long on March 8 last. But, the special report was not given out, nor were its contents disclosed. Vice-Chairman Nugent must have held back the report, for it is known to have been in his possession, and it did not reach the public.

According to what appears to be a reliable report, Governor-Elect Jones made some reference to it in his radio speech Thursday when he said that in one deal the highway commission got but 56 per cent of what it was entitled to, whereas political parties got the other 44. An authority who claims to have seen and studied the special report, of which there are several copies extant, declares that the supervisor of public funds revealed in detail a system of corruption in the purchase of highway materials that cost the state many thousands of dollars and enriched members of the state legislature and favored politicians. According to this authority, the supervisor uncovered a long series of crimes that will keep the courts busy when they start probing them.

The supervisor himself declined to discuss the special report, or even the possibility of a report, when approached by The Monroe World representative. Since it is the business of the supervisor only to submit reports and not to make them public, he referred the newspaper representative to those officials to whom the special report would be sent in due and orderly legal course. However, since the report was not made public by the highway commission at the time it gave out the general report of the supervisor, it was clearly useless to plumb this source.

Generally, the supervisor and his staff are reported to have found that those who sold paving materials to the commission were not permitted to deal directly with that body at all. They were forced to transact business through state senators and representatives or favored local politicians. And to each of these political agents, the seller was forced to pay heavy sums commission.

Practically all of the corruption uncovered in the highway body, began and ended with the administration of Richard W. Leche. At least, according to The World informant, the special report of the supervisor so revealed. It is claimed that the supervisor discovered that in 1936, 1937 and 1938 one contractor paid $80,000 in commissions to members of the legislature and other political favorites. In the same period, a gravel company is said to have paid out $50,000 in the same manner. These "commissions," of course, all went into the purchase price. There was no such thing as competitive bidding. Contracts for purchases were awarded without bids—often by telephone. In many cases the parties collecting the commissions delivered in person the purchasing orders of the commission. In one case, it is said, an order for large purchases was not signed until several months after the materials had been delivered.

Political pressure from the outside appears to have absolutely dominated the purchase department of the road body, as a result of which the public interest suffered, the state lost many thousands of dollars and outsiders and employes of the highway commission benefited. In the particular case to which Governor-Elect Jones referred in his radio talk it is claimed that the chief beneficiaries were a state senator, a state representative and a politically influential business man. Between them they are said to have gotten 41.95 per cent of the purchase price. But, there was a highway employe involved, too. He got 1.12 per cent.

It is reported that the facts revealed by this report were disclosed to Governor Earl K. Long on March 8. He discovered from its contents that someone paid commissions on all purchases of the highway commission. But, he made no known attempt to recover the money illegally diverted or to punish the parties guilty of this wholesale corruption. However, what Governor Long did not attempt, Governor Jones is sure to accomplish. There's a bad time in store for those who profited by this wholesale system of corrupt highway purchases. This does not apply to the men who were held up, but to those who held them up.

which would have been the inevitable result of a second primary.

"I desire also at this time to extend to Mr. Rodriguez my congratulations and best wishes for the success of his coming term of office, and my assurance of cooperation with him and the other commissioners in every possible way for the welfare of Monroe."

The official vote in last Tuesday's primary promulgated Saturday by the Democratic Executive committee coincided almost exactly with the unofficial returns tabulated in the news room of the News-Star—World.

Exactly the same as the official vote on nine of the 11 candidates for the three principal positions, the News-Star—World tabulations gave W. C. Bridges six too many votes and T. C. Mahr one too few. Both were candidates for commissioner of streets and parks against C. Ruff Tidwell who won easily in the first primary.

The official vote as released by executive committee secretary Henry Haas, follows:

For mayor: H. H. Benoit 3,148; R. D. Downes 1,271; E. C. Slagle 1,749; E. M. Steen 352.

For commissioner of finance and utilities: D. A. Breard 1,295; W. D. H. Rodriguez 2,963; Bob Ed Tucker 2,258.

For commissioner of streets and parks: W. C. Bridges 505; T. C. Mahr 685; L. V. Tarver 1,829; C. R. Tidwell 3,485.

For school board (four highest nominated): Harold Breard 3,176, R. L. Davis 4,325; Harold Dixon 3,439; M. W. Haas 2,631; Sam Ruben 2,700; Warren F. Taylor 3,862; Mrs. Daisy Terzia 3,527.

For city Democratic committee (six highest nominatedd): Roy Q. Cole 4,451; F. H. Herrington 2,316; George Fink 3,574; F. H. Fitzpatrick 3,257; Henry Haas 3,396; H. O. Jones 3,339; F. L. Lagrone 1,762; T. L. Morris 4,604; J. R. Petagnal, 1,774; C. H. Reid 3,593; Edward Strong 3,742.

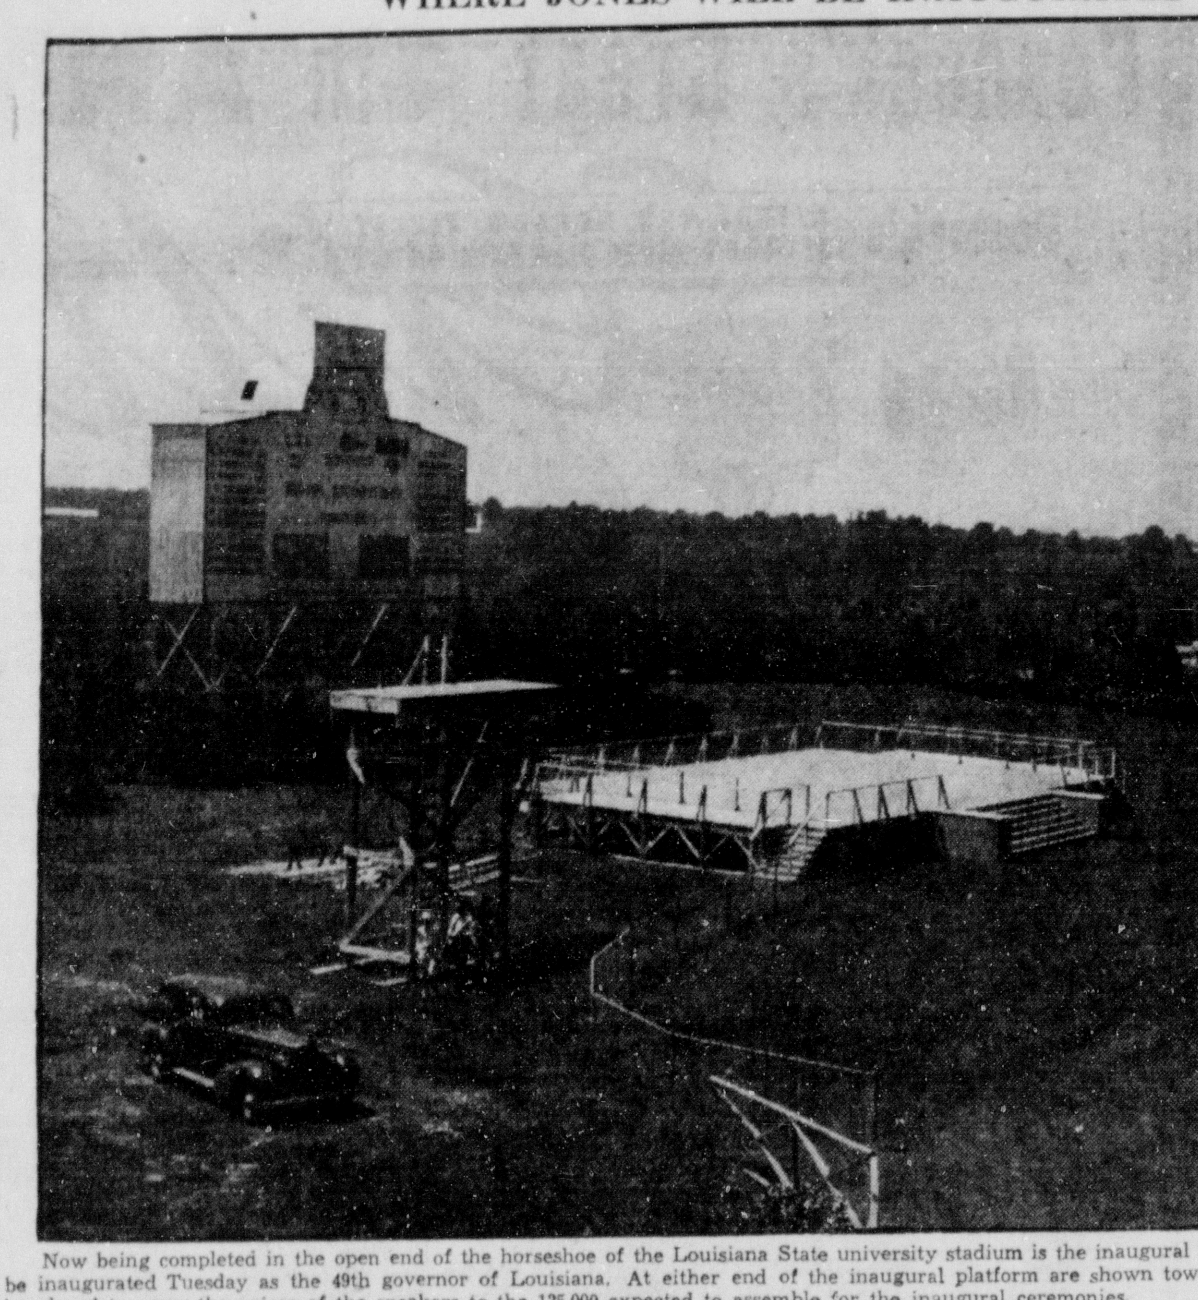
WHERE JONES WILL BE INAUGURATED



Now being completed in the open end of the horseshoe of the Louisiana State university stadium is the inaugural platform on which Sam H. Jones will be inaugurated Tuesday as the 49th governor of Louisiana. At either end of the inaugural platform are shown towers on which huge loudspeakers will be placed to carry the voices of the speakers to the 125,000 expected to assemble for the inaugural ceremonies.

JONES WILL TAKE OFFICE TUESDAY

eliminate and merge the state's 180-odd boards and commissions into a score or so.

Busy at work on state problems for weeks in temporary headquarters at a hotel, Jones found it increasingly apparent that, after Huey Long was shot and killed at the statehouse in 1935, his political heirs grossly squandered and even overspent the state's $75,000,000 annual revenues—yielded from almost every known source and a sum triple the tax bill when "Longism" began.

SPECIALS FROM MONROE

Both the Missouri Pacific and Illinois Central railroads will operate special trains between Monroe and Baton Rouge for the inauguration.

The Missouri Pacific special will leave Monroe at 4:30 a.m. May 14 and arrive at Baton Rouge at 10 a.m. Pullmans will leave Monroe at 10:30 p.m. May 13. Both will return the night of the 14th.

The Illinois Central will leave Monroe at 1:30 a.m. May 14 and arrive in Baton Rouge at 7 a.m. It will leave Baton Rouge at 11:30 p.m. and will arrive in Monroe at 5 o'clock the next morning.

Both specials, which are offering reduced rates, will pick up passengers at station along the route.

Although the machine built roads, bridges, hospitals and magnanimously extended such benefits as free school books, it piled on taxpayers a host of new taxes—on chain stores, liquor, oil, gas, payrolls, insurance premiums, incomes and sales.

The impression extends daily deeper into Louisiana bayou and hill sections that these "soak the rich" taxes made "every man a king" only insofar as he was given an opportunity to share the heavier tax load and watch "big shot" politicians get rich.

A really minor cog in the repudiated Long machine has his beautiful mansion for sale here now at a bargain, $23,000.

Wanton expenditures running steeply into millions extended far beyond graft. State budgets allowed lump, round-figured appropriations for departments, greatly in excess of what was necessary so "deadheads" or do-nothings could be retained on payrolls to swell the machine's voting power.

Lavish spending went even further under Huey's heirs. The new administration finds the dying regime carried out a great public works program but neglected to provide for its costly maintenance.

In addition to operating the state without the $6,000,000-a-year sales tax, a controversial levy Jones is pledged to abolish, the new chief executive must provide maintenance funds for $10,000,000 worth of new college buildings, the $13,000,000 New Orleans Charity hospital and four other new charity hospitals around the state.

Schools have run up a huge deficit. There is nothing left for building roads. Nearly every department and agency is broke. The state's cash obligations exceed $4,000,000 and its bonded debt, as high as the constitution allows, tops $160,000,000.

Few believe Jones can emerge from this gloomy financial picture without necessarily imposing new taxes. At best the task is a big job, especially in the light of his campaign pledges which he firmly promises will be kept.

By drastically trimming payrolls, insisting on minimum expenditures, keeping a thorough check on all disbursements, abolishing useless functions and merging similar agencies—all plans included in the new administration's program—savings will be enormous. None have any real idea how much they will be.

A legislature vastly different from the ousted machine's "rubber stamp" assembly is pledged to work for Jones on revamping the government. Most members have never served before as lawmakers, many being young attorneys practicing only a short time.

Whereas Huey Long and his followers openly boasted they bought legislators like "sacks of potatoes," and gleefully watched their orders followed explicitly and quickly, the assembly convening Monday will be free to act independently. The new administration encourages it to examine and discuss every proposal with care.

For weeks now Jones has had "brain-trusters" drafted from business and legal circles working on his program, planning means for placing the state on an efficient operating basis. One important task involves rewriting the laws governing the loose election machinery.

The incoming chief executive indicates some of his program may not be ready for the legislature immediately because of the manifold problems at hand.

Some bills probably will be introduced Monday when the assembly convenes, completes its organization and formally promulgates general election returns for governor and lieutenant-governor. Under the usual procedure, the body then will appoint a committee to represent it at the inauguration and adjourn until Wednesday.

The inaugural program gets under way early Tuesday morning when the giant parade begins wending along a gaily-decorated, four-mile route from the skyscraper capitol to the university stadium.

Near the stadium Jones will leave his open automobile, in which he will ride with his family, and review the parade from a bunting-wrapped stand with an accompanying staff of aides.

After the great crowd fills the concrete stands and packs the playing field, the throng will be led in mass singing of familiar and popular songs.

Just before Jones is sworn in by Chief Justice Charles A. O'Niell of the state supreme court, the crowd will sing "The Star Spangled Banner." Afterward the program will end with "Auld Lang Syne."

A huge barbecue feast will be ready for the huge gathering outside the stadium after the ceremonies. From then on band concerts and public dancing will prevail on the campus and at the capital until long after dusk.

Less than a year ago a different ceremony took place in the same stadium.

In caps and gowns, Dr. James Monroe Smith, the university's president, and Governor Richard W. Leche, escorted Frank Murphy, then United States attorney general, and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, to the field for L. S. U. graduation exercises.

Now Dr. Smith is in the state penitentiary under a long sentence for forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. Leche, whose resignation when the scandals began breaking elevated Governor Long to the executive chair, stands charged on many counts in both state and federal courts.

ROGGE WON'T ATTEND

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general who has headed federal prosecution of many Louisiana public figures, will not be able to see the new governor take office because he must prepare for the trial of a former governor.

Members of the committee arranging Sam Jones' inauguration as governor next Tuesday said today Rogge had informed them he would have to stay in Washington to clear up matters there because he wished to be free by May 20 to prepare for prosecution of former Governor Richard W. Leche and others in Alexandria May 27.

AMERICANS ADVISED TO STAY IN NATION

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—(AP)—Americans in the Netherlands were advised by United States Minister George A. Gordon Saturday night to "stay put" as he deemed it inadvisable to attempt to cross any Dutch frontiers.

A total of 757 persons have some claim on American citizenship but half of these have such close ties in this country they would not try to leave. Of the remainder, about a half would have difficulty getting passports validated because their papers are not in order.

For the rest, strict government censorship was clamped down on all military information. This applied to operations on the front, beyond the meager word of contact made with the enemy, as well as to the movement of the Allied reinforcements.

RECAPTURE TOWN

By J. Reilly O'Sullivan

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—(AP)—Netherlands borders troops were reported officially Saturday night to have recaptured one town from the main German invading forces in a four-hour counterattack and to have killed every soldier in a German armored train.

In the interior, the Dutch high command said, the Germans dropped more parachute troops and they, for the most part, were destroyed.

But with German bombs killing at least a score of persons in the first air raid on Amsterdam, the country's largest city, the defending army and police ran into new troubles.

Germans in civilian garb tried in vain to capture police headquarters at The Hague and sniped at soldiers and policemen from the rooms of houses.

While first-line Dutch troops, for the most part, were falling back according to plan from the eastern frontier after laying waste to means of approach, the high command acknowledged the Germans had "crossed a river"—either the Ijssel, east of Arnhem, or the Maas, farther south.

The front-line defenders, however, had accomplished their main purpose: gaining time for complete flooding of the main water line defenses in the middle Netherlands.

Moreover, one border fort was sturdily holding out against the Germans.

The town that was recaptured by the Dutch was identified in Allied advices as Mill, 10 miles inside the frontier and about the same distance southeast of Nijmegen. It is on a main, cross-country railway line.

The same advices identified the fort which is holding out as Pennerden, at Velp, east of Arnhem. (Hover, French military advices reported Arnhem, in east central Netherlands, about 12 miles from the border, had been captured by the Germans.)

Although Netherlands troops, aided by British planes and the Dutch river fleet, were reported earlier in the day to have wiped out resistance of parachute troops at Rotterdam and Dordrecht island, tonight's communique indicated the airport at Waalhaven, south of Rotterdam, still was in German hands.

At a cost of more than 1,000 lives, the Dutch army and navy were delared to have wiped out the Germans landed by seaplane and parachute in the southern part of the great seaport city of Rotterdam and on Dordrecht island, to the southeast.

If the Germans had been able to hold these western Holland bases, they would have been in superb condition to strike across the narrow neck of the North sea at England.

An estimated 20 persons were killed and many injured when a long German bomber, flying over the crowded streets of mid-Amsterdam at 11 a.m. (4:40 a.m., central standard time), dropped bombs which struck only a few blocks from the great, gray royal palace on the Dam, central Amsterdam square.

While the armies of the interior hunted out the German parachute platoons, many of them in Dutch uniform, the front-line defenders on the east fought bitterly in their flood-flanked outposts on the Maas and Ijssel rivers to stem the main German armies at least until the main water line, cutting Holland in two, can be fully flooded from the Zuider Zee south and west.

The sluices were opened early Friday, when the invasion began, but the process takes upwards of 36 hours.

Destruction of bridges on the two rivers in the eastern Netherlands, plus the strategic flooding begun months ago in the "first water line" between the Neder Rijn and the Waal, aided the front-line defenders.

More British troops and French mechanized forces, too, were landed at North sea ports and rushed to the central network of fortifications and flood defenses in the Amersoort area.

Almost at the very hour of the Amsterdam bombing, Queen Wilhelmina was sending a message to King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy, imploring him to use his influence, presumably on Hitler through Benito Mussolini, to help save civilian populations "from the calamities of war, and that principles of humanity may be observed by all belligerent powers without exception."

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said Saturday in a message to Leopold III, king of the Belgians, that he and the people of the United States hoped that "policies which seek to dominate peaceful and independent peoples through force and military aggression may be arrested."

WAR FUND DRIVE OPENS THURSDAY

Harvey H. Benoit said, "I not only endorse but will gladly sponsor this campaign and do all in my power in its behalf, and I hereby urge the citizens of Monroe to cooperate."

Mayor H. M. Williams, West Monroe, said, "This is a most worthy cause and deserves our wholehearted support. Citizens of West Monroe are urged to participate."

"The drone of airplane motors, the bursting of bombs, the impact of shrapnel, the rattle of machine gun fire find their echo in the cries of the wounded and dying, the lamentation of widows and orphans," Chairman Miller stated. "In the dread silence that follows in the wake of war, destruction, destitution, suffering and disease take toll of the health, lives and morale of people.

"We in Ouachita parish have been fortunate. But we cannot stand by in complete isolation and watch innocent men, women and children suffer. We must share with these victims of warfare. As our hearts bleed for them, we also extend the good Samaritan hand of humanitarianism in this campaign to help alleviate their condition. The challenge is to you. Respond as a loyal American to this call from your American Red Cross."

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 11.—(AP)—The first exercise of the army's great war games ended at 11 a.m., central standard time, Saturday after defending "Blue" forces had hurled back invading "Reds" with a dawn counter-attack that destroyed the enemy north flank.

The weary soldiers, who have had little rest and irregular meals for the past few days, will relax until Tuesday while umpires give their critique of the conduct of the mock war by the officers thus far.

Forces will be readjusted for the second exercise, which is expected to see the Blues pushing their counter-attack vigorously.

Today's Blue thrust saved the defenders' headquarters, Alexandria, La., from the capture which last night had seemed imminent. The Reds withdrew without blowing up bridgeheads near the city, on Red river.

Reinforcements from the First division and Seventh Cavalry brigade, mechanized, gave the Blues their power.

The cavalry moved down from Monroe, La., guarded by 19 pursuit ships from the Blue air field at McComb, Miss. It swung in behind the Red north flank as far as Many, La., 20 miles from the Sabine river, the border between the mythical warring countries.

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., May 11.—(AP)—Lieutenant-General Stanley D. Embick, commander of the United States Third army, was "killed" today by an overzealous sentry in the mammoth war games, but refused to be dead and continued on his way after a very unmilitary argument with the soldier.

The sentry, a member of the Blue forces, mistook the lieutenant-general's flag of red, with three white stars, for a banner of the invading "Red" army. The general, as head of all the forces engaged, is on neither side.

When the soldier ordered the general's automobile to stop, the general told his aide to drive on. The sentry then fired several blanks at the general, which, by all rules of sham warfare, should have killed him.

"You're shot. You're out," shouted the sentry.

"I'm the general," asserted Embick. "I've got to pass."

"You can't. I've got orders. Nobody with red showing can get through," and he pointed to the general's flag.

Embick explained the meaning of the flag. But the soldier was persistent.

"You might be a Red general," he insisted. "You're shot."

"I'm general over all these forces," Embick said.

"Not to me," declared the sentry.

After a little more of this Gilbert and Sullivan drama, the sentry allowed the lieutenant-general to pass, still doubtful over whether or not he had been lax in his duty to his mythical country.

BANDS TO PLAY ON MOTHER'S DAY

Program Is Announced For Neville High, Grammar Schools

The Neville High and city system grammar school bands will play a special Mother's day program at 5 p.m. Sunday at the high school.

C. S. Gaushell, director of the Neville band, announced the program as follows:

"In Lilac Time," march, by Englemann; "Scenes From the Sierras," by Bennett; DeLuca's "Beautiful Colorado," featuring a saxophone solo by Theo Terzia; Suppe's "Jolly Robbers" overture; "Sylvia," featuring a cornet solo by Ralph Irving, and Bela's "Lustpiel" overture.

The city grade school bands combined will play a selected march; Buchtel's "Judy's Dream" and a tone poem, "Seeds of Cadmus," by Johnson.

The Mother's day concert is also the city schools' contribution to National Music week.

HUGE CELEBRATION FOR INAUGURATION

Barbecued Beef Leaves In Two Carloads For Capital

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(Special)—The inauguration of Sam Houston Jones as governor of Louisiana on Tuesday will be a national event. Every newsreel organization in the United States; every well-known concern dealing in news photography; practically all of the national pictorial magazines, and American broadcasting units have arranged to have representatives here to reproduce, illustrate or report the passing of the Long-Maestri-Leche machine and the restoration of home rule to the state.

No state inauguration in the south has attracted any thing like the attention being given the swearing in of Governor Jones. Estimates of the expected crowd are constantly increasing since the inaugural committee, headed by Newt Ogden, Baton Rouge, is daily being advised of the expected coming of additional groups.

Saturday morning two carloads of barbecued beef left Fort Worth for Baton Rouge, with a special railroad representative in charge. This great supply will be augmented by beef barbecued here in pits close to the L. S. U. stadium, where the inauguration will take place. This will be the first inauguration since Democratic rule was restored to Louisiana, in 1877, not staged at the state capitol.

The first Democratic governors after the War Between the States were inducted into office at the old statehouse, Royal street, in New Orleans. When the capital was moved back to Baton Rouge all governors were sworn in on the north steps of the old capitol. Governors Oscar K. Allen and Richard W. Leche took the oath on the south steps of the new statehouse.

Arrangements for distribution of the barbecued beef and lemonade after the inauguration at the stadium were completed today. Inaugural Chairman Ogden said that 1,250 L. S. U. cadets will be pressed into service in the distribution, and the schedule calls for serving of between 120,000 and 130,000 people in 84 minutes. Barbecue stands will be near entrances to the stadium and the food will be passed to those applying for it neatly wrapped in tissue paper. Separate stands will supply lemonade.

"With anything like good weather," said Mr. Ogden, "the largest crowd that ever assembled at a southern point for any purpose will be in Baton Rouge Tuesday."

With Governor Jones on the executive stand at the stadium when he takes the oath at noon Tuesday will be about 140 specially invited guests from every section of Louisiana. Riding in the parade with him will be only the immediate members of his family; the clerics taking part in the inaugural ceremonies; Chief Justice Charles A. O'Neill, who is to administer the oath; former Governor James A. Noe and the elected state officials.

The inaugural parade will start promptly at 9 o'clock, moving south towards the stadium. Those who witness it downtown may ride free Illinois Central shuttle trains to the stadium, use city buses or travel in their own cars down either the Highland or City Park roads to the stadium.

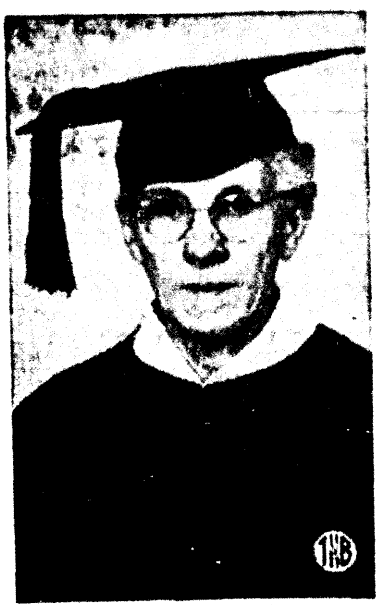
Chairman Ogden promises that these roads will be kept open to general traffic and that there will be ample parking space where they terminate at the L. S. U. campus.

As there are only 80,000 seats in the stadium it is expected they will be filled long before the parade reaches the inaugural stand. The parade will use the river road.

Plans for one function arranged for Tuesday had to be hastily changed today when Governor Earl K. Long let it be known that he intended to occupy the mansion and governor's office until 5 minutes after noon on inauguration day. A number of the ladies of Baton Rouge with the consent and approval of Mrs. Sam H. Jones, had planned a public reception for visitors at the mansion from 3 to 5 o'clock. They expected to get possession of the mansion Tuesday morning and prepare it for the reception. A committee on decorations had been appointed and the names of those comprising it published.

Tech Student, 57, Studies 27 Years To Earn Degree

AFTER 27 YEARS



Mrs. Bessie O'Neal Williamson, 57, above, of Vienna, Lincoln parish, who began working on her degree at Louisiana Tech 27 years ago, will graduate from the college May 28.

RUSTON, La., May 11.—(Special)—After 27 years of perseverance, Mrs. Bessie O'Neal Williamson, 57, of Vienna, Lincoln parish, will be awarded for her patience and energy by receiving a degree from Louisiana Tech at the commencement exercises on May 28.

Since starting to work on her degree at Tech in the summer of 1913, Mrs. Williamson has aided in the rearing of two sons, Robert and Virgil, and has taught various schools in Lincoln parish.

Completing nine grades at the Sibley school in this parish, Mrs. Williamson attended the old Chautauqua school, north of Ruston, in 1903-04, having been taught there by J. B. Aswell and W. B. Hale, both deceased. The following year, she was enrolled at the Louisiana State Normal college at Natchitoches and in 1906 attended the summer term of a normal school at Arcadia. Since enrolling at Tech in 1913 to get her teacher's certificate renewed, Mrs. Williamson has attended only two regular fall terms, the remainder of her credits having been earned at times when she had opportunity to prepare her lessons. She has earned 59 college hours in the last three years.

During the time she was obtaining her college education Mrs. Williamson never received a demerit, never received a "pink slip" indicating scholastic deficiency, never "cut" a class and never was tardy. Some of her summer classes began at 7 a.m. and she used of drive in a buggy from Vienna to Ruston and get to class on time.

Mrs. Williamson began teaching at Mineral Springs, Lincoln parish, in 1902. She was paid $30 a month and she paid $5 a month for board. She paid part of her board bill by milking the landlady's cow, and she did her own laundry, she said.

Mrs. Williamson also has taught at Hopewell, Union Grove and Unionville, as well as Vienna. Though she has taught for 16 years, she never missed a day on account of illness.

Soon after she began teaching, in 1907, she married one of her former pupils, J. H. Williamson, who had taken a business course and had reentered school to review some work he needed in his business. To this day Mr. Williamson frequently refers to his wife as "Miss Bessie."

Soon after her first son was born, Mrs. Williamson left the baby with a neighbor every day and drove in a buggy seven miles to the school where she taught. When her second son was four years old, he was taken to school with his mother and his older brother. Frequently she has prepared her lessons while rocking her baby, churning or attending to other duties.

Besides educating herself, Mrs. Williamson has seen to it that both of her sons have had the same opportunities. Virgil is a former student of Tech and Robert is attending the college this semester.

During the time she taught and went to school, Mrs. Williamson did her own housework. She is a member of the Pesbyterian church, but has taught Sunday school in the Vienna Baptist church for 27 years. She also belongs to the Vienna Community club.

To the Public:

I wish to thank the people of Monroe for the splendid vote which I received in the primary last Tuesday. I also wish to express my appreciation for the many thoughtful expressions of congratulation and pledges of cooperation.

The campaign gave me an opportunity to gather much first hand information as to desires and needs of our people and I wish to extend a cordial welcome to every one interested in the City's affairs to call on me at the city hall and give me the benefit of your advice and constructive criticism.

I again want to assure every one, whether you voted for me or not, of my appreciation of the confidence which has been placed in me. You may depend upon me to exert every effort in carrying out your wishes and in giving you an honest, impartial and progressive administration.

WORLD'S FAIR OPENED IN COUNTY ATMOSPHERE

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The "biggest small town in the world" reopened its world's fair today in a "folsky" county fair atmosphere which routed formality and dignity and installed fun and high jinks as the order of the day.

The opening, at which visitors were greeted by huge signs which shouted, "Hello, folks," the keynote of the whole inaugual program was in sharp contrast to the pomp and ceremony of last year's opening day.

By 6 p.m., eastern daylight time, 159,500 persons had invaded the colorful grounds.

WORLD'S FAIR OPENED IN COUNTY ATMOSPHERE

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The "biggest small town in the world" reopened its world's fair today in a "folsky" county fair atmosphere which routed formality and dignity and installed fun and high jinks as the order of the day.

The opening, at which visitors were greeted by huge signs which shouted, "Hello, folks," the keynote of the whole inaugual program was in sharp contrast to the pomp and ceremony of last year's opening day.

By 6 p.m., eastern daylight time, 159,500 persons had invaded the colorful grounds.

L. S. U. STUDENTS GIVEN FLYING SCHOOL AWARDS

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(AP)—Eleven additional Louisiana State university flying school students received private pilot licenses today bringing to 20 the number licensed in the school.

Those licensed today were Jules M. Miller, Frank B. Chapman, Bailey N. Henderson, and Henry P. Repak, all of New Orleans; William S. Stewart, Bogalusa; Winston Rogers, St. Petersburg, Fla., Charles Woodrow Reese, Monticello, Ark.; James E. Ward, Overton, Tex.; Heston Daniel, Pineville; Charles Rountree, Gilbert, and Russell Fairbanks, Sicily Island.

CAPITAL TO FACE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Busy Inauguration Plans Include Policing Over Wide Area

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(AP)—Plans for policing Louisiana's capital on busy inauguration Tuesday were announced today by Colonel Roy A. Hill, cadet commandant at Louisiana State university.

Some 500 uniformed officers will be on hand to direct traffic and maintain order among the 125,000 celebrating the swearing-in of the new state chief executive.

Colonel Hill said 164 New Orleans police had been assigned here for duty together with 200 state police and squads of sheriff's deputies, city police and firemen.

Downtown Baton Rouge will be restricted with only official cars allowed in the area. Inaugural visitors will be directed to parade assembly points while through traffic will be routed around the city.

Inaugural visitors with automobiles will be given stickers assigning them parking facilities on the university campus. Colonel Hill said ample parking space had been reserved.

Special traffic rules announced by state police for inauguration day follow:

All passenger vehicles, excluding buses and trucks, traveling west to Baton Rouge will stay on the paved highway which leads directly into Port Allen, where double lines leading to the ferry will be permitted.

All trucks whose destination is New Orleans and not having business in Baton Rouge will be routed over the graveled highway through Port Allen and will follow the west bank of the river to New Orleans.

All trucks whose destination is Baton Rouge and which intend crossing the ferry will be parked and required to remain parked until the traffic congestion has been relieved at the ferry.

All regular passenger-carrying buses and all school buses carrying passengers to Baton Rouge are requested to come on the gravel into Port Allen where traffic officers will direct them to the ferry.

All westbound traffic leaving Port Allen will be directed out of Port Allen via gravel road which will bring them back onto the main paved highway.

All trucks traveling from Baton Rouge to New Orleans between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 a.m. Tuesday will be detoured via Hammond, Ponchatoula and Laplace.

All trucks coming out of New Orleans during the same hours will be detoured at Laplace, to Ponchatoula, Hammond and to Baton Rouge.

Should any trucks arrive en route to Baton Rouge from Hammond while traffic is still heavy on the New Orleans-Baton Rouge airline these trucks will be required to park and remain so until traffic congestion has been relieved.

Motoring guests coming to Baton Rouge not participating in the parade may take advantage of the several short cuts to L. S. U. stadium by watching for signs so directing them.

RELIEF FUND CABLED

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The Red Cross cabled $100,000 to Belgium and the same amount to The Netherlands today for relief of the military and civilian wounded. The Red Cross also announced it had ordered 100 ambulances for use in the war zones.

POLICE BOAT FINDS FOUR LOST IN BOAT

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—Rescue of four youths clinging to an overturned sailboat amid heavy waves on Lake Pontchartrain was reported today.

A police patrol boat, searching for them when they had not returned four hours after leaving west end for a sail, rescued Neville Parker, 15, and Edward Bagley, Richard Muniot and Herbert Williams, all 14.

SOX MAKE BREAKS USEFUL, BEAT BATHERS 9-6

ALTHOUGH OUTHIT, LOCALS TRIUMPH; 2 CONTESTS TODAY

Floyd Speer Credited With Victory; Six Pitchers In Game

BATHERS' WALKS, ERRORS ARE USED TO ADVANTAGE

Four-Game Series To End Today At Casino Park Enclosure

Monroe's White Sox broke their losing streak last night by trimming the Hot Springs Bathers, 9 to 6. The Sox were outhit, 12 to 9, but took full advantage of Hot Springs walks and errors. Each team used three pitchers, with Floyd Speer getting credit for the victory.

The four-game series will end today with a double-header at Casino park. The first game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The White Sox started the fireworks early, scoring four runs in the first inning and routing Wildman "Red" Coyne after three batters had faced him. Joe Eagar walked and so did Bob Burt. Dale Englehorn singled to left, scoring Eagar and finishing Coyne. Frase, a lefthander, took the mound for the Bathers. Doug Taitt sacrificed Burt and Englehorn up a base. Pete Medak fanned but Leo Ostenberg singled to center, scoring Burt and Englehorn. With Bobby Schang up, Frase uncorked a wild pitch, Ostenberg going to second. Schang then doubled to left, scoring Ostenberg with the fourth run of the inning.

The Bathers came right back in the second, scoring their first tally. Roy Wilson singled to center and Duncan also got a single, Wilson going to third. Brockelman forced Duncan at second but Wilson scored on the play.

Monroe tallied again in their half of the same inning. With one out, Eagar was hit by a pitched ball and promptly scored when Burt doubled to the right field fence.

Hot Springs got their second run in the third when, with two out, Hudson was safe on Medak's error and McCullom doubled, scoring him.

The Sox kept up the parade in the last of the fourth, when a double by Manager Taitt produced a run. With two out, Burt and Englehorn beat out slow infield taps and Taitt doubled against the right field fence, scoring Burt. Englehorn also attempted to score but a perfect peg to the plate by Roy Wilson nipped him at the pan.

That was all of the scoring until the first of the seventh but the Bathers came to life with a bang in that frame, scoring four runs and chasing Jim Brister to the showers. Floyd Speer was the relieving hurler. The Hot Springs tallies came after two were out. Hudson beat out an infield tap to

Bimelech Wins Preakness Going Away; Gallahadion 3rd

BRADLEY'S CHAMP SCORES HANDILY IN 50TH RUNNING

Mioland Follows Victor; 55,000 Witness Race At Pimlico

KENTUCKY DERBY WINNER GAME AFTER BAD START

Mile And Three-Sixteenths Is Covered In Time Of 1:58 3/5

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, BALTIMORE, Md., May 11.—(AP)—Colonel E. R. Bradley's Bimelech won the 50th running of the Preakness stakes today by three lengths. C. S. Howard's Mioland was second and Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Gallahadion was third.

Bimelech, defeated in the Kentucky Derby a week ago by Gallahadion, took the lead shortly after the break today and was never headed. Mioland came fast in the last half mile to take the place position by a length and a quarter. Gallahadion, off to a bad start, came gamely toward the end to easily take the third slot by two lengths.

Carrying 126 pounds, Bimelech covered the mile and three sixteenths in 1:58 3-5, nearly two seconds off the track record.

Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was fourth, trailed by W. L. Brann's Pictor, Millsdale Stable's Andy K., Mrs. Tony Pelleteri's Sun Pharos, Howard S. Clark's Royal Man and Arnold Hanger's Dit in that order.

An estimated 55,000 was on hand to see the race. Bimelech, odds-on favorite, returned $3.80 for each $2 win ticket, $3.10 for place and $2.60 for show. Mioland was $6.90 and $4 for place and show and Gallahadion returned $4 for show.

L. S. U., VANDERBILT TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Umstaedter, Jacoby Victors For State Aggregation In Games

SEWANEE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Vanderbilt's Joe Davis and Louisiana State's doubles team of Billy Umstaedter and Bernard Jacoby today captured the Southeastern conference tennis championships.

Davis, a junior in the university, retained the singles championship by defeating Umstaedter, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. Playing a steady game in which he consistently nicked the baselines, Davis had the better of his rival in almost every type of stroke.

The young champion emerged from the five rounds of play with straight-set victories, Jacoby having been his victim in the semi-finals, 6-4, 6-1, while Umstaedter won from Russell Bobbitt of Georgia Tech, 6-2, 4-6, 12-10.

Umstaedter got a measure of revenge in the doubles when he teamed with Jacoby to defeat Davis and Brown of Vanderbilt, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Louisiana State won the conference team trophy, awarded on a basis of points for placing men after the second round in each division. The university won 19 points, Vanderbilt was second with 12, Tulane third with 7 and Georgia Tech fourth with six.

L. C. Kirkland of L. S. U. defeated a teammate, Walter Ayres, to win the singles title in the consolation tournament for Nos. 3 and 4 team members. The scores, 6-1, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

RIGGS, HARE DEFEATED AT INVITATIONAL MEET

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Upsets of the two top-seeded stars marked the semi-final round of the Tennessee Valley invitation tennis tournament today.

Bobby Riggs, defending champion, nation's top-ranking amateur and seeded No. 1 in the T. V. I. meet, went down before the steady stroking Archie Henderson, 23-year-old Chapel Hill, N. C., star, score 1-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

Big Charles Hare, southpaw blaster and England's No. 1 amateur who was seeded second in the T. V. I., was turned back by Billy Talbert, Cincinnati, score 1-6, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, 6-0.

SCENES AT CONFERENCE TRACK MEET IN RUSTON

Pictured above are scenes and personalities figuring in the first Louisiana Intercollegiate conference track meet at Louisiana Tech Saturday afternoon. Upper left: Carroll Baggett of Southwestern Louisiana institute, winning the mile in the varsity division at a time of 4 minutes 21.8 seconds. Baggett broke the S. I. A. A. record of 4 minutes 26.2 seconds, which he set in 1939. Upper right: Athletic Director Joe Aillet of Louisiana Tech, host to the visiting colleges and chairman of the games committee. Center: Start of the 440-yard dash, in front of a tent which sheltered the score-keepers, announcer and press representatives. Lower left: R. L. LOUISIANA TECH MEET STARS SLI

First Interscholastic Track Contests Of State Are Featured

RUSTON, La., May 11.—(Special)—Southwestern Louisiana institute's track team ran away with the varsity honors at the first Louisiana Intercollegiate conference track meet at Louisiana Tech this afternoon, and the Louisiana State Normal freshman cinder artists swamped their competitors in the first-year class.

Points scored in the varsity meet were: Southwestern 94, Normal 46½, and Louisiana Tech 21½. The freshman results gave Normal 82½ points, Southwestern 52, and Louisiana Tech 6½.

Representatives of only those three colleges participated in the meet. Centenary did not send entries because of the conflict of baseball, it was reported here, and Louisiana college stayed away because of a "lack of suitable material."

Friday night the newly formed Louisiana Intercollegiate conference voted unanimously to accept the membership of Southeastern Louisiana college of Hammond, whose application was presented by Head Coach Lloyd Stovall. The conference officials adopted a regulation whereby each college member "must play at least three football games within the conference" in order to figure in championship consideration. The new member, Southeastern, this year has scheduled only Normal and Southwestern in the new circuit.

FENSKE CRACKS RECORD IN COTTON TRACK MEET

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Bespectacled Chuck Fenske, University of Wisconsin distance ace, surged into a brilliant finish sprint tonight to win the invitational Crump mile in the Cotton Carnival track meet in four minutes, eight and three-tenths seconds for a new meet record.

Fenske, in bettering the previous mark of 4:11.4 set in 1938 by Archie San Romani, became the first miler to win the event twice. He was first last year.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE WILL OPEN TODAY

Cotton Boll Circuit Starts; Game Slated At Casino Wednesday Night

This afternoon the Cotton Boll semi-pro baseball league opens its season with games at Northeast Center, Gilbert, Clarks, and Mt. Vernon. The league is made up of eight strong teams, with emphasis placed on amateur players.

The Keystone Decorators will engage the West Monroe team at Northeast Center. The Keystone team is managed by Ed Poleman, a former pro ball player, in the Michigan-Ontario league. West Monroe is headed by Herman Ingram.

The Brown Paper Mill team, known as the Green Parrots, will take on the Gilbert team at Gilbert. Parker Wink is the manager of the Green Parrots, while David Chase is at the helm of the Gilbert team.

The Mangham club will combat Clarks at Clarks, with W. E. Hixson at the helm. Clarks is managed by H. H. Smith.

The fourth game will be between the Monroe Pirates and Mt. Vernon at Mt. Vernon. Bob Harmon, ex-major leaguer, is the manager of the Monroe Pirates. Warren Webb is the pilot of the Mt. Vernon team.

Games will be played every Sunday and Wednesday. Wednesday night at 8 p.m. the Keystone club will open their home season in a game with the Gilbert team at Casino park. Admission will be 25 cents and 10 cents. Ladies will be admitted free to the game if accompanied by one paid admission. Game time for all games is 3 p.m., but for the game at Northeast Center, which is set for 4 p.m., and the one at Casino park.

Wednesday's schedule: Clarks at Brown Paper Mill park vs. Green Parrots; Mt. Vernon at Mangham; Gilbert vs. Keystone Decorators at Casino park; and West Monroe and the Pirates at Lida Benton school.

Sunday, May 19, the schedule is: Green Parrots vs. Mangham at Mangham; Clarks at Gilbert; West Monroe at Mt. Vernon; Keystone Decorators vs. the Monroe Pirates at Lida Benton diamond.

This is an effort by a group of teams to further semi-pro ball in this territory. The same men who worked to organize this league were instrumental in forming the Ouachita Valley league and the Big Six. The teams are well balanced and the season should see a fine brand of baseball.

POCKET IN ONE

DENVER—(AP)—First accidental trick shot of Denver's golfing season: Mrs. Fred Binner whacked a trapped ball at the Wellshire course with a niblick. The pellet smacked the bank, bounced 10 feet in the air and came down—in a pocket of Mrs. Binner's sweater.

BIG SIX LEAGUE TO START TODAY

Chatham, Jonesboro, Bernice, Ansley And Marion Form Loop

The Big Six league, fast northwest Louisiana amateur baseball circuit, will open its 1940 schedule today, it was announced last night by P. G. Grambling, Ruston, president of the league.

The league will include five teams, Jonesboro, Chatham, Ansley, Bernice and Marion. Jonesboro is the newest member of the circuit, having replaced Huttig. "Sonny" Maroney, high coach, is the Jonesboro manager.

Opening games today will find Jonesboro at Chatham and Ansley at Marion. Bernice, of course, will be idle against league competition.

Several important changes have been made in the league rules this season, President Grambling announced. Each team must play at least two high school players for the full nine innings of each game. With the exception of high school performers, all players must be obtained from a radius of 15 miles of the team represented. High school players may be obtained anywhere.

President Grambling said the five teams appear evenly matched and predicted another successful season for the league.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Hunt and Whitaker's Bees slugged out a 19-to-8 victory over the Southern Bell Telephone softballers in the only game played last Thursday night. SOX MAKE BREAKS USEFUL, BEAT BATHERS 9-6

ALTHOUGH OUTHIT, LOCALS TRIUMPH; 2 CONTESTS TODAY

Floyd Speer Credited With Victory; Six Pitchers In Game

Four-Game Series To End Today At Casino Park Enclosure

Monroe's White Sox broke their losing streak last night by trimming the Hot Springs Bathers, 9 to 6. The Sox were outhit, 12 to 9, but took full advantage of Hot Springs walks and errors. Each team used three pitchers, with Floyd Speer getting credit for the victory.

The four-game series will end today with a double-header at Casino park. The first game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The White Sox started the fireworks early, scoring four runs in the first inning and routing Wildman "Red" Coyne after three batters had faced him. Joe Eagar walked and so did Bob Burt. Dale Englehorn singled to left, scoring Eagar and finishing Coyne. Frase, a lefthander, took the mound for the Bathers. Doug Taitt sacrificed Burt and Englehorn up a base. Pete Medak fanned but Leo Ostenberg singled to center, scoring Burt and Englehorn. With Bobby Schang up, Frase uncorked a wild pitch, Ostenberg going to second. Schang then doubled to left, scoring Ostenberg with the fourth run of the inning.

The Bathers came right back in the second, scoring their first tally. Roy Wilson singled to center and Duncan also got a single, Wilson going to third. Brockelman forced Duncan at second but Wilson scored on the play.

Monroe tallied again in their half of the same inning. With one out, Eagar was hit by a pitched ball and promptly scored when Burt doubled to the right field fence.

Hot Springs got their second run in the third when, with two out, Hudson was safe on Medak's error and McCullom doubled, scoring him.

The Sox kept up the parade in the last of the fourth, when a double by Manager Taitt produced a run. With two out, Burt and Englehorn beat out slow infield taps and Taitt doubled against the right field fence, scoring Burt. Englehorn also attempted to score but a perfect peg to the plate by Roy Wilson nipped him at the pan.

That was all of the scoring until the first of the seventh but the Bathers came to life with a bang in that frame, scoring four runs and chasing Jim Brister to the showers. Floyd Speer was the relieving hurler. The Hot Springs tallies came after two were out. Hudson beat out an infield tap to

Bimelech Wins Preakness Going Away; Gallahadion 3rd

Mioland Follows Victor; 55,000 Witness Race At Pimlico

KENTUCKY DERBY WINNER GAME AFTER BAD START

Mile And Three-Sixteenths Is Covered In Time Of 1:58 3/5

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, BALTIMORE, Md., May 11.—(AP)—Colonel E. R. Bradley's Bimelech won the 50th running of the Preakness stakes today by three lengths. C. S. Howard's Mioland was second and Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Gallahadion was third.

Bimelech, defeated in the Kentucky Derby a week ago by Gallahadion, took the lead shortly after the break today and was never headed. Mioland came fast in the last half mile to take the place position by a length and a quarter. Gallahadion, off to a bad start, came gamely toward the end to easily take the third slot by two lengths.

Carrying 126 pounds, Bimelech covered the mile and three sixteenths in 1:58 3-5, nearly two seconds off the track record.

Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was fourth, trailed by W. L. Brann's Pictor, Millsdale Stable's Andy K.; Mrs. Tony Pelleteri's Sun Pharos, Howard S. Clark's Royal Man and Arnold Hanger's Dit in that order.

An estimated 55,000 was on hand to see the race. Bimelech, odds-on favorite, returned $3.80 for each $2 win ticket, $3.10 for place and $2.60 for show. Mioland was $6.90 and $4 for place and show and Gallahadion returned $4 for show.

L. S. U., VANDERBILT TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Umstaedter, Jacoby Victors For State Aggregation In Games

SEWANEE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Vanderbilt's Joe Davis and Louisiana State's doubles team of Billy Umstaedter and Bernard Jacoby today captured the Southeastern conference tennis championships.

Davis, a junior in the university, retained the singles championship by defeating Umstaedter, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. Playing a steady game in which he consistently nicked the baselines, Davis had the better of his rival in almost every type of stroke.

The young champion emerged from the five rounds of play with straight-set victories, Jacoby having been his victim in the semi-finals, 6-4, 6-1, while Umstaedter won from Russell Bobbitt of Georgia Tech, 6-2, 4-6, 12-10.

Umstaedter got a measure of revenge in the doubles when he teamed with Jacoby to defeat Davis and Brown of Vanderbilt, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Louisiana State won the conference team trophy, awarded on a basis of points for placing men after the second round in each division. The university won 19 points, Vanderbilt was second with 12, Tulane third with 7 and Georgia Tech fourth with six.

L. C. Kirkland of L. S. U. defeated a teammate, Walter Ayres, to win the singles title in the consolation tournament for Nos. 3 and 4 team members. The scores, 6-1, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

RIGGS, HARE DEFEATED AT INVITATIONAL MEET

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Upsets of the two top-seeded stars marked the semi-final round of the Tennessee Valley invitation tennis tournament today.

Bobby Riggs, defending champion, nation's top-ranking amateur and seeded No. 1 in the T. V. I. meet, went down before the steady stroking Archie Henderson, 23-year-old Chapel Hill, N. C., star, score 1-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

Big Charles Hare, southpaw blaster and England's No. 1 amateur who was seeded second in the T. V. I., was turned back by Billy Talbert, Cincinnati, score 1-6, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, 6-0.

First Interscholastic Track Contests Of State Are Featured

RUSTON, La., May 11.—(Special)—Southwestern Louisiana institute's track team ran away with the varsity honors at the first Louisiana Intercollegiate conference track meet at Louisiana Tech this afternoon, and the Louisiana State Normal freshman cinder artists swamped their competitors in the first-year class.

Points scored in the varsity meet were: Southwestern 94, Normal 46½, and Louisiana Tech 21½. The freshman results gave Normal 82½ points, Southwestern 52, and Louisiana Tech 6½.

Representatives of only those three colleges participated in the meet. Centenary did not send entries because of the conflict of baseball, it was reported here, and Louisiana college stayed away because of a "lack of suitable material."

Friday night the newly formed Louisiana Intercollegiate conference voted unanimously to accept the membership of Southeastern Louisiana college of Hammond, whose application was presented by Head Coach Lloyd Stovall. The conference officials adopted a regulation whereby each college member "must play at least three football games within the conference" in order to figure in championship consideration. The new member, Southeastern, this year has scheduled only Normal and Southwestern in the new circuit.

FENSKE CRACKS RECORD IN COTTON TRACK MEET

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Bespectacled Chuck Fenske, University of Wisconsin distance ace, surged into a brilliant finish sprint tonight to win the invitational Crump mile in the Cotton Carnival track meet in four minutes, eight and three-tenths seconds for a new meet record.

Fenske, in bettering the previous mark of 4:11.4 set in 1938 by Archie San Romani, became the first miler to win the event twice. He was first last year.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE WILL OPEN TODAY

Cotton Boll Circuit Starts; Game Slated At Casino Wednesday Night

This afternoon the Cotton Boll semi-pro baseball league opens its season with games at Northeast Center, Gilbert, Clarks, and Mt. Vernon. The league is made up of eight strong teams, with emphasis placed on amateur players.

The Keystone Decorators will engage the West Monroe team at Northeast Center. The Keystone team is managed by Ed Poleman, a former pro ball player, in the Michigan-Ontario league. West Monroe is headed by Herman Ingram.

The Brown Paper Mill team, known as the Green Parrots, will take on the Gilbert team at Gilbert. Parker Wink is the manager of the Green Parrots, while David Chase is at the helm of the Gilbert team.

The Mangham club will combat Clarks at Clarks, with W. E. Hixson at the helm. Clarks is managed by H. H. Smith.

The fourth game will be between the Monroe Pirates and Mt. Vernon at Mt. Vernon. Bob Harmon, ex-major leaguer, is the manager of the Monroe Pirates. Warren Webb is the pilot of the Mt. Vernon team.

Games will be played every Sunday and Wednesday. Wednesday night at 8 p.m. the Keystone club will open their home season in a game with the Gilbert team at Casino park. Admission will be 25 cents and 10 cents. Ladies will be admitted free to the game if accompanied by one paid admission. Game time for all games is 3 p.m., but for the game at Northeast Center, which is set for 4 p.m., and the one at Casino park.

Wednesday's schedule: Clarks at Brown Paper Mill park vs. Green Parrots; Mt. Vernon at Mangham; Gilbert vs. Keystone Decorators at Casino park; and West Monroe and the Pirates at Lida Benton school.

Sunday, May 19, the schedule is: Green Parrots vs. Mangham at Mangham; Clarks at Gilbert; West Monroe at Mt. Vernon; Keystone Decorators vs. the Monroe Pirates at Lida Benton diamond.

This is an effort by a group of teams to further semi-pro ball in this territory. The same men who worked to organize this league were instrumental in forming the Ouachita Valley league and the Big Six. The teams are well balanced and the season should see a fine brand of baseball.

Junior Thompson Scores His Fourth Victory, Drives In Three Runs

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds are back where they left off last year—in first place in the National league.

After trailing Brooklyn since the start of the season, the champion Reds spurted out in front today by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals with a devastating 17-hit attack, 12 to 5, while the Dodgers were losing at home to Philadelphia, 5 to 4.

Junior Thompson had an easy time turning in his fourth victory against one defeat, holding the Cardinals to eight hits and helping his own cause by driving in three runs.

For two innings, the Reds and the Cards put on a ball game. Successive singles by Ernie Lombardi, Harry Craft and Mike McCormick produced a Red run in the second inning, but Johnny Mize immediately tied the score with his sixth home run of the year.

Then came the deluge—a 6-run storm by the Reds in the third inning.

GIANTS VICTORS, 10-2

BOSTON, May 11.—(AP)—Bill Lohrman held the Boston Bees to five hits today while the victory-hungry New York Giants clubbed four Boston hurlers for 13 hits and an easy 10-2 victory.

Lou Fette, veteran Bee hurler, wasn't very successful in his season's debut, being chased in the first inning when he allowed three runs on three hits and an error. George Barnicle, Bill Swift and Al Piechota who was more successful than his predecessors, holding the New Yorkers hitless for the final three innings, followed on the mound.

RUSSELL WINS FOR CUBS

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Glen Russell's sixth inning double with the bases loaded gave the Chicago Cubs a 7 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh today in the second game of their series.

The Pirates moved into a 5-1 lead in the fifth when they knocked Claude Passeau out of the box. Vance Page, his successor, however, throttled the Bucs with only one hit for the remainder of the game.

PHILLIES DOWN DODGERS

BROOKLYN, May 11.—(AP)—Taking full advantage of Kirby Higbe's two-hit relief pitching, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 for the first Philadelphia victory scored in Ebbets field since 1938.

The winners scored all their runs in the second inning, knocking Luke Hamlin off the mound. A home run by Chuck Klein started the Phils off in that frame.

YANKEES' LOSSES NOW 8 STRAIGHT; MURPHY VICTIM

Henrich's Homer In Vain As Babgy Stops Foes To Standstill

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pushed over two runs in the 11th inning today to hand the Yankees their 8th straight loss.

"Fireman" Johnny Murphy, the fourth Yank pitcher to mount the mound, was the victim of the belated uprising. Jim Tabor opened with a double, went to third on a sacrifice and scored on Pinch Hitter Leo Nonnenkamp's fly. They got the clincher on Lou Finney's double and Doc Cramer's single.

Tommy Henrich poled his second homer in the last of the 11th to cut the Sox margin to one run, but then Jim Bagby, who was the fourth Sox pitcher to see action, handcuffed the next three batsmen to end the game.

MARKSMAN AT CASINO PARK

One of the oldest trick shot artists in the world and a champion at that, David Dudlah, above, a native Texan but now of Memphis, Tenn., will put on a slingshot exhibition here Tuesday night at Casino park as a feature of the final game of the Monroe White Sox' home stand.

Dudlah says that slingshot shooting is a childhood hobby, and he makes his slingshot just like any kid does, out of inner tubes, a forked limb, a piece of leather from an old shoe and pieces of string.

His wife, who is known in public life as Mardell Davis, is the real hero of the stunt, however. She holds light bulbs in her teeth, places them on her head and holds other articles in her hand which he hits with his slingshot, a pistol or rifle. Some of his outstanding shots are throwing navy beans in the air and breaking them with his slingshot, and shooting a light bulb out of his wife's mouth while looking backwards into a mirror, and throwing up a potato, peeling it the first time and then splitting it the next.

MARK 'GEHRINGER DAY'

DETROIT, May 11.—(AP)—Detroit and Michigan celebrated "Gehringer Day" today in honor of the 37th birthday of the Detroit Tiger second baseman but the Chicago White Sox wouldn't cooperate and took a 1 to 0 decision after a bitter pitching duel.

Jack Knott, of the Sox, and Tommy Bridges, of the Tigers, the rival moundsmen, allowed only two singles each, but the victors managed to bunch their blows for the game's only run in the third inning.

True to baseball tradition Gehringer went hitless in four times at bat. Before the game he was presented gifts from teammates and admirers and a check of an undisclosed sum from Owner Walter O. Briggs, of

Wrestler Who Trained On Bulldogging Cattle, Signed

Local Promoter Has Novel Card For This Week

Promoter Gus Kallio announced Saturday that he had signed Chin Lee, from San Francisco, and Duke Ruppenthal for a return match on his next Thursday night's show. Notice the date of his weekly shows has been changed to Thursday's instead of Tuesday's.

Kallio also announced that he had secured Jack Purdin, ex-bull-dogger, for his semi-final melee and would select the best grappler to be had for his opponent.

Purdin, who hails from Tombstone, Ariz., has spent most of his life herding steers and working the general ways of the cowboy. He learned to wrestle by throwing big cattle in order to brand them and wiry little calves too. This kind of work is no child's play and in all probability has made Purdin a rough, tough, and strong gentleman of the mat. Put that experience along with his years in wrestling and you should have one of the most colorful wrestlers ever to appear in a Monroe arena.

His home, Tombstone, which used to be the wildest town west of the Pecos, was known far and wide as the town where life was cheapest and shortest. Especially were the sheriffs short lived. The roaring citizens thought nothing of having three or four sheriffs in one day. In fact, up to twenty years ago, the town was considered to be a place to steer clear of, except when bent on business of shooting men and Indians.

Chin Lee lost a close decision to the Duke last time they met and will be out to avenge himself in this encounter. The Duke won the acolade as the most popular wrestler on the show in the contest to determine the winner of the watch, donated by Ray's Jewelry Store. The fans again will be given an opportunity to vote their preference.

CARDINALS NEED TWO MORE 'M' MEN

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—If the Cardinals had a catcher and a third baseman whose names began with "M," they could put a full team of m-men on the field.

Joe Medwick, Terry Moore and Pepper Martin would be in the outfield, Johnny Mize at first, Stuart Martin at second, Martin Marion at shortstop and Bill McGee would be the pitcher.

In 1939, the Turner Valley oil fields in Alberta, Canada, produced 7,500,000 barrels of crude.

SOUTHERN

NASHVILLE GOES WILD

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—The big booming heard in the Southern association today was the Nashville Vols' half of the eighth inning when they wiped out a three-run deficit and went on to whip the Birmingham Barons 12 to 10. That [illegible] ing their 18th victory in 22 starts.

Score by innings:

Birmingham	413 011 000	—	10	14	1
Nashville	002 041 050x	—	12	14	2

Gehrmann, Hendricks, Hawley, Johnson and Owens; Meers, Adams, [illegible] and George.

ERRORS BEAT PELS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Three Knoxville pitchers limited New Orleans to six safeties today but the Pelicans contributed to their 6 to 2 downfall with five costly errors.

Pete Mallory hurled masterful ball for the Smokies until the sixth when he dished up successive home run balls to Earl Browne and [illegible] Gillenwater. John Konoff replaced him and set the Birds in order until the ninth, loading the bases on walks before giving way to Paul Smith who retired the side without further damage.

Score by innings:

New Orleans	000 002 000	—	2	6	5
Knoxville	100 011 12x	—	6	[illegible]	1

Fralick, Hart and Gleason; Mallory, Konoff, Smith and Falcon.

CHICKS TAKE CRACKERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—"Sheriff" John Gaddy kept the Atlanta Crackers strictly in line today letting them down with but three hits while the Memphis Chicks plastered the visitors with a 3 to 1 defeat.

The Crackers combined two of their three hits—doubles by Dewey Williams and Manager Paul Richards—to score their lone run in the seventh inning.

Score by innings:

Atlanta	000 000 100	—	1	3	0
Memphis	102 000 00x	—	3	8	0

VOLS ARE TOUGH, GETTING MORE SO

'Stop Nashville' Cry Seems To Have No Effect In Southern

ATLANTA, May 11.—(AP)—The "Stop Nashville" [illegible] of the Southern association [illegible] today in the league's latest batting averages, which show the [illegible] Vols are tough and getting tougher.

Tall Mike Dejan of Chattanooga clung to the percentage lead with a .444 pace and Birmingham's Charles Aleno was runnerup at .420 but Mickey [illegible] Rocco stole the play in the [illegible] for the week ending Wednesday afternoon.

The [illegible] first sacker for Nashville banged out four more home runs to take a [illegible] lead in this department with a total of nine to a mere four for Dejan and Knoxville's Dutch Meyer. He also tightened his runs batted in leadership by running his total to 35, well ahead of the [illegible] chalked up by teammate Charley George. Just for good measure he was ahead in runs, 25, and total bases, 67, and his .403 average stood third.

Incidentally a check shows that [illegible] phenomenal home run pace—one every other game—can not be charged to his small home park, since only two of his round-trippers came there, the other seven in five other parks.

Just to make the Vol dominance more pronounced the averages showed three other Nashvillians completing the top six in the bat parade. The injured [illegible] Hockett stood fourth with .397, George fifth at .375 and [illegible] Dugas sixth at .372.

Surprisingly, the league leaders did not top the team batting list standing second with .309 while Birmingham was No. 1 with an amazing .313. The Vols were best in field, however, with an average of .971 while Birmingham was runnerup with [illegible].

The Birmingham-Nashville combination also shared in the pitching ranks with the Barons' Henry Johnson and Vol "Boots" Poffenberger tied for the top with four wins and no losses.

GAME PROTECTION IS AIM OF AMENDMENT

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—Louisiana sportsmen will ask the forthcoming legislature to propose a constitutional amendment creating an efficient, non-political wild life commission with powers to control the conservation and restoration of Louisiana birds, fish and game.

A proposed measure for such a body has been written by Fred J. McCormac, chairman of the board of the Louisiana Sportsmen's league, who explained its features last night at an open forum of the league's New Orleans branch.

CLARKS BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY SUNDAY

CLARKS, La., May 11.—(Special)—The Clarks Lumberjacks baseball team, a member of the newly organized Cotton Belt league, will play Mangham here Sunday in the opening game of the season. The game will be called for 3 p.m.

There are eight teams in this loop. They are Clarks, Mangham, Gilbert, Brown Paper Mill, Baldy Webb's West Monroeiders, The Keystoners of Monroe, Bob Harmon's Monroe Pirates, Mt. Vernon and the West Monroe Independents.

REDS GRAB NATIONAL LEAD WITH SLUGGING

UNLOOSE 17 HITS, DEFEAT CARDINALS TO PACE DODGERS

Junior Thompson Scores His Fourth Victory, Drives In Three Runs

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds are back where they left off last year—in first place in the National league.

After trailing Brooklyn since the start of the season, the champion Reds spurted out in front today by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals with a devastating 17-hit attack, 12 to 5, while the Dodgers were losing at home to Philadelphia, 5 to 4.

Junior Thompson had an easy time turning in his fourth victory against one defeat, holding the Cardinals to eight hits and helping his own cause by driving in three runs.

For two innings, the Reds and the Cards put on a ball game. Successive singles by Ernie Lombardi, Harry Craft and Mike McCormick produced a Red run in the second inning, but Johnny Mize immediately tied the score with his sixth home run of the year.

Then came the deluge—a 6-run storm by the Reds in the third inning.

GIANTS VICTORS, 10-2

BOSTON, May 11.—(AP)—Bill Lohrman held the Boston Bees to five hits today while the victory-hungry New York Giants clubbed four Boston hurlers for 13 hits and an easy 10-2. victory.

Lou Fette, veteran Bee hurler, wasn't very successful in his season's debut, being chased in the first inning when he allowed three runs on three hits and an error. George Barnicle, Bill Swift and Al Piechota who was more successful than his predecessors, holding the New Yorkers hitless for the final three innings, followed on the mound.

RUSSELL WINS FOR CUBS

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Glen Russell's sixth inning double with the bases loaded gave the Chicago Cubs a 7 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh today in the second game of their series.

The Pirates moved into a 5-1 lead in the fifth when they knocked Claude Passeau out of the box. Vance Page, his successor, however, throttled the Bucs with only one hit for the remainder of the game.

PHILLIES DOWN DODGERS

BROOKLYN, May 11.—(AP)—Taking full advantage of Kirby Higbe's two-hit relief pitching, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 for the first Philadelphia victory scored in Ebbets field since 1938.

The winners scored all their runs in the second inning, knocking Luke Hamlin off the mound. A home run by Chuck Klein started the Phils off in that frame.

Boston Red Sox Hold Margin With 11th Inning Bat Spree

YANKEES' LOSSES NOW 8 STRAIGHT; MURPHY VICTIM

Henrich's Homer In Vain As Babgy Stops Foes To Standstill

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pushed over two runs in the 11th inning today to hand the Yankees their 8th straight loss.

"Fireman" Johnny Murphy, the fourth Yank pitcher to mount the mound, was the victim of the belated uprising. Jim Tabor opened with a double, went to third on a sacrifice and scored on Pinch Hitter Leo Nonnenkamp's fly. They got the clincher on Lou Finney's double and Doc Cramer's single.

Tommy Henrich poled his second homer in the last of the 11th to cut the Sox margin to one run, but then Jim Bagby, who was the fourth Sox pitcher to see action, handcuffed the next three batsmen to end the game.

MARKSMAN AT CASINO PARK

One of the oddest trick shot artists in the world, and a champion at that, David Dudlah, above, a native Texan but now of Memphis, Tenn., will put on a slingshot exhibition here Tuesday night at Casino park as a feature of the final game of the Monroe White Sox' home stand.

Dudlah says that slingshot shooting is a childhood hobby, and he makes his slingshot just like any kid does, out of inner tubes, a forked limb, a piece of leather from an old shoe and pieces of string.

His wife, who is known in public life as Maydell Davis, is the real hero of the stunt, however. She holds light bulbs in her teeth, places them on her head and holds other articles in her hand which he hits with his slingshot, a pistol or rifle. Some of his outstanding shots are throwing navy beans in the air and breaking them with his slingshot, and shooting a light bulb out of his wife's mouth while looking backwards into a mirror, and throwing up a potato, peeling it the first time and then splitting it the next.

INDIANS, HEMSLEY WIN

CLEVELAND, May 11.—(AP)—With the bases loaded, Rollie Hemsley connected for a ninth-inning single today to give Cleveland a 1 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The hit ended a pitching duel between Emil Bildilli, southpaw who recently held the New York Yankees to two blows, and Cleveland's Johnny Allen. Each allowed but five hits.

MARK 'GEHRINGER DAY'

DETROIT, May 11.—(AP)—Detroit and Michigan celebrated "Gehringer Day" today in honor of the 37th birthday of the Detroit Tiger second baseman but the Chicago White Sox wouldn't cooperate and took a 1 to 0 decision after a bitter pitching duel.

Jack Knott, of the Sox, and Tommy Bridges, of the Tigers, the rival moundsmen, allowed only two singles each, but the victors managed to bunch their blows for the game's only run in the third inning.

True to baseball tradition Gehringer went hitless in four times at bat. Before the game he was presented gifts from teammates and admirers and a check of an undisclosed sum from Owner Walter O. Briggs, of

Wrestler Who Trained On Bulldogging Cattle, Signed

Local Promoter Has Novel Card For This Week

Promoter Gus Kallio announced Saturday that he had signed Chin Lee, from San Francisco, and Duke Ruppenthal for a return match on his next Thursday night's show. Notice the date of his weekly shows has been changed to Thursday's instead of Tuesday's.

Kallio also announced that he had secured Jack Purdin, ex-bull-dogger, for his semi-final melee and would select the best grappler to be had for his opponent.

Purdin, who hails from Tombstone, Ariz., has spent most of his life herding steers and working the general ways of the cowboy. He learned to wrestle by throwing big cattle in order to brand them and wiry little calves too. This kind of work is no child's play and in all probability has made Purdin a rough, tough, and strong gentleman of the mat. Put that experience along with his years in wrestling and you should have one of the most colorful wrestlers ever to appear in a Monroe arena.

His home, Tombstone, which used to be the wildest town west of the Pecos, was known far and wide as the town where life was cheapest and shortest. Especially were the sheriffs short lived. The roaring citizens thought nothing of having three or four sheriffs in one day. In fact, up to twenty years ago, the town was considered to be a place to steer clear of, except when bent on business of shooting men and Indians.

Chin Lee lost a close decision to the Duke last time they met and will be out to avenge himself in this encounter. The Duke won the acolade as the most popular wrestler on the show in the contest to determine the winner of the watch, donated by Ray's Jewelry Store. The fans again will be given an opportunity to vote their preference.

CARDINALS NEED TWO MORE 'M' MEN

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—If the Cardinals had a catcher and a third baseman whose names began with "M," they could put a full team of m-men on the field.

Joe Medwick, Terry Moore and Pepper Martin would be in the outfield, Johnny Mize at first, Stuart Martin at second, Martin Marion at shortstop and Bill McGee would be the pitcher.

SOUTHERN

NASHVILLE GOES WILD

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—The big booming heard in the Southern association today was the Nashville Vols' half of the eighth inning when they wiped out a three-run deficit and went on to whip the Birmingham Barons 17 to 10, thus annexing their 18th victory in 22 starts.

ERRORS BEAT PELS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Three Knoxville pitchers limited New Orleans to six safeties today but the Pelicans contributed to their 6 to 2 downfall with five costly errors.

Pete Mallory hurled masterful ball for the Smokies until the sixth when he dished up successive home run balls to Earl Browne and Claude Gillenwater. John Koneff replaced him and set the Birds in order until the ninth, loading the bases on walks before giving way to Paul Smith who retired the side without further damage.

CHICKS TAKE CRACKERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—"Sheriff" John Gaddy kept the Atlanta Crackers strictly in line today, letting them down with but three hits while the Memphis Chicks plastered the visitors with a 3 to 1 defeat.

The Crackers combined two of their three hits—doubles by Dewey Williams and Manager Paul Richards—to score their lone run in the seventh inning.

GAME PROTECTION IS AIM OF AMENDMENT

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—Louisiana sportsmen will ask the forthcoming legislature to propose a constitutional amendment creating an efficient, non-political wild life commission with powers to control the conservation and restoration of Louisiana birds, fish and game.

A proposed measure for such a body has been written by Fred J. McCormac, chairman of the board of the Louisiana Sportsmen's league, who explained its features last night at an open forum of the league's New Orleans branch.

VOLS ARE TOUGH, GETTING MORE SO

'Stop Nashville' Cry Seems To Have No Effect In Southern

ATLANTA, May 11.—(AP)—The "stop Nashville" bloc of the Southern association found scant comfort today in the league's latest batting averages, which show the vicious Vols are tough and getting tougher.

Tall Mike Dejan of Chattanooga clung to the percentage lead with a .444 pace and Birmingham's Charles Aleno was runnerup at .420 but Mickey "Socco" Rocco stole the play in the hardwood show for the week ending Wednesday afternoon.

The "surprise" first sacker for Nashville banged out four more home runs to take a firm lead in this department with a total of nine to a mere four for Dejan and Knoxville's Dutch Meyer. He also tightened his runs-batted-in leadership by running his total to 25, well ahead of the 19 chalked up by teammate Charley George. Just for good measure he was ahead in runs, 25, and total bases, 67, and his .403 average stood third.

Incidentally, a check shows that "Socco's" phenomenal home run pace—one every other game—can not be charged to his small home park, since only two of his roundtrippers came there, the other seven in five other parks.

Just to make the Vol dominance more pronounced, the averages showed three other Nashvillians completing the "big six" in the bat parade. The injured Orris Hockett stood fourth with .397, George fifth at .375 and Gus Dugas sixth at .372.

Surprisingly, the league leaders did not top the team batting list standing second with .299 while Birmingham was No. 1 with an amazing .313. The Vols were beat in field, however, with an average of .971 while Birmingham was runnerup with .971.

The Birmingham-Nashville combination also obtained in the pitching ranks with the Barons' Hengy Johnson and Vol "Boots" Poffenberger tied for the top with four wins and no losses.

short and McCullom singled to right, sending Hudson to third. Zadowski got a single when his fly dropped safely back of second, and Hudson scored. Wilson tripled down the right field foul line, and McCullom and Zadowski came trotting home. Speer took over on the hill for the White Sox and Duncan greeted him with a hard-hit grounder that Medak succeeded in knocking down but he was unable to retire Duncan at first, and Wilson scored, tying the score. Brockelman skied to Englehorn to end the agony.

The White Sox came right back and regained the lead with a three-run spree to make it 9-6 for the home side. Englehorn was safe on Hudson's error at second then went to second on a passed ball. Taitt grounded out, sending Englehorn to third. Medak drew a pass and then Ostenberg rapped a double to the left field fence, scoring Englehorn. Schang was passed purposely, filling the bases, but the strategy failed to work when Frase walked Hackney, forcing Medak home. Price, the new second string catcher, batted for Speer, and also drew a pass, and Ostenberg walked in for the third run of the frame. Eagar and Burt flied out to end it.

Kelton Maxfield took the mound for the Sox at the start of the eighth and subdued the Bathers the rest of the way. Conn, a righthander, took over for the Arkansans in the eighth after Frase went out for a pinch hitter. Conn likewise escaped without a run, although he walked Taitt in the last of the eighth and the skipper reached third on a delayed steal of second and Catcher Jordan's throw into center field.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Bobby Feller asked Oscar Vitt "Why don't you let me work more?" . . . Gosh, I used to pitch every day back in Iowa." . . . Who in the congregation knew that Joe DiMaggio began his professional career as a shortstop? . . . Jack Dempsey and Joe Engel have been huddling here. . . . Nobody knows why, but everybody knows that Engel has ambitions to crash the big time as a promoter. . . . Dempsey has been going around the country blasting the toe hold Mike Jacobs has on boxing here and it is not impossible he has been discussing teaming up with Engel in some sort of a promotion. . . . If you ask us, the Giants have the wrong team playing in Jersey City.

Today's guest star:

Victor O. Jones, Boston Evening Globe: "The Dodgers may or may not be daffy, but there are more ex-Brooklyn players managing in the minors than the graduates of any other club. . . . Last time I counted there were 15 in all."

Cecil Isbell, Clark Hinkle and Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers are being schooled by a big Menasha, Wis., paper concern for executive positions. . . . Oscar Vitt says he never laughed so loud in his life as when he saw Joe McCarthy fidgeting around on the Yankee bench. . . . Benny McCoy has loosened up all of a sudden and is going like the dickens around second for the Athletics. . . . Once more Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois has turned down all offers to teach in summer football schools. . . . Estelle Lawson Page, the Dixie golfing ace, will skip the Women's National on the coast this year—too much of a trip for one week of golf.

Today's tall story:

Max Macon of the Brooks remembers a day in the Three-I league when he struck out and scored before another pitch could be made. . . . He got to first when the catcher missed the third strike, to second when the throw was over the first baseman's head, and all the way home when the pitcher, trying to pick him off second, heaved into center field.

How about that story that Frankie Frisch and Bob Klinger punched it out in the locker room after a recent Pirate defeat? . . . An editorial in the Greensboro (N. C.) Daily News on the importance of baseball, has been reprinted by the Cincinnati Reds and mailed all over the country. . . . Greg Rice went back to the old home town—Missoula, Mont.—today to run as an added attraction to the state high school track meet. . . . Incidentally, George M. Varnell of the Seattle Times, will referee the meet for the 25th consecutive year. . . . Another metropolitan area golf club—Leewood—tossed a testimonial dinner for Babe Ruth tonight.

Wood family picnic:

The Wood family held an outing at Yale Thursday. . . . Coach Smoky Joe's squeeze play strategy in the tenth gave Yale a 5-4 win over Colgate. . . . Eldest son, Joe, Jr., pitched all the way for Yale and did a neat job. . . . Second son, Steve, hurled for Colgate and held Yale to two hits until the seventh. . . . Then he went to the showers when—you guessed it—brother Joe singled with the bases loaded. . . . A good time was had by all—except Steve.

One-minute interview:

Oscar Haussermann, president of a Boston Knife and Fork club: "We are all behind the Red Sox and hope that at the end of the season the other seven clubs are in the same position."

MONROE RESIDENT WILL APPEAL CASE

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 11.—(AP)—Federal District Judge Heartsill Ragon Saturday granted W. A. Myatt, Monroe, La., and E. A. Tyrone, Texarkana, convicted of falsifying records of Southwestern Distilled Products, Inc., to conceal dealings with customers in dry states, five days in which to make $2,500 bond each, pending their appeals.

The judge denied a petition for bond by three other men convicted in the same case. Myatt and Tyrone, who drew the lightest sentences in the falsification case, both already are under $10,000 bond in a separate liquor conspiracy case.

Refusing George Dixon, James Cole and Harvey H. Hess in their petition for bail, Judge Ragon said he could not help considering the "enormity of the offense." The five men, convicted last week, drew prison terms ranging from 15 months to eight years and fines ranging from $500 to $21,750.

Britain's coal mining industry yields about 260,000,000 tons annually.

COME ON IN, BOYS, THE FIGHTING'S FINE

This is what Walker Cooper, Columbus catcher, started at Kansas City by taking a punch at Jerry Priddy, Kansas City infielder, in their American association baseball game. Cooper was banished after the fight. Manager Bill Meyer (?) of the Kansas City Blues is sitting down. Manager Burt Shotton of Columbus is in background waving arms at the umpire and Frenchy Bordagary of the Blues (left) provides the comedy relief with arms outstretched.

AVERAGE COTTON PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, May 11—(AP)—The average price of middling 15-16 inch cotton at 10 designated southern spot markets today was 13 higher at 10.22; average for the past 30 market days was 10.59; middling 7-8 inch average was 10.04.

New York

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Cotton futures recovered 9 to 14 points of Friday's heavy losses in a moderately active session today.

Belief that the market's technical situation was improved by the recent liquidation encouraged trade support, Wall Street covering and buying by local professionals and New Orleans.

Hesitant early due to further foreign selling, prices ran up quickly as pressure dried up.

Futues closed 9-14 higher.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Demand for stocks of companies with war profit potentialities lifted these 1 to 3 points at the best in today's market, but many issues continued without much support.

Steels and aircrafts were the principal gainers, touching top marks in the first hour when dealings were moderately active. A little selling later chipped down extreme advances and there were sufficient losers to make the close a bit uneven.

Transfers for the two hours were around 600,000 shares.

Wall Street nervousness over the latest German blitzkrieg seemed to have waned somewhat, and the excited selling of yesterday was absent.

Renewed strength of the hard metal and aviation stocks was attributed partly to the belief that, with the intensification of the European conflict, the allies will be compelled to jump into American markets with heavier purchases of military materials.

Foreign bonds steadied. The British "free" pound sterling and French franc rallied briskly after dropping to new historical lows Friday. Support for these currencies followed reports of strong resistance to the Nazi invasion of the low countries.

Fears of more foreign offerings of American securities remained a cloud on the speculative horizon, although commission houses with overseas connections were unable to find much liquidation in the preceding session. Common stock holdings of the Netherlands were estimated at some $480,000,000 and those of Belgium at about $45,000,000.

ALTHOUGH OUTHIT, LOCALS TRIUMPH

short and McCullom singled to right, sending Hudson to third. Zadowski got a single when his fly dropped safely back of second, and Hudson scored. Wilson tripled down the right field foul line, and McCullom and Zadowski came trotting home. Speer took over on the hill for the White Sox and Duncan greeted him with a hard-hit grounder that Medak succeeded in knocking down but he was unable to retire Duncan at first, and Wilson scored, tying the score. Brockelman skied to Englehorn to end the agony.

The White Sox came right back and regained the lead with a three-run spree to make it 9-6 for the home side. Englehorn was safe on Hudson's error at second then went to second on a passed ball. Taitt grounded out, sending Englehorn to third. Medak drew a pass and then Ostenberg rapped a double to the left field fence, scoring Englehorn. Schang was passed purposely, filling the bases, but the strategy failed to work when Frase walked Hackney, forcing Medak home. Price, the new second string catcher, batted for Speer, and also drew a pass, and Ostenberg walked in for the third run of the frame. Eagar and Burt flied out to end it.

Kelton Maxfield took the mound for the Sox at the start of the eighth and subdued the Bathers the rest of the way. Conn, a righthander, took over for the Arkansans in the eighth after Frase went out for a pinch hitter. Conn likewise escaped without a run, although he walked Taitt in the last of the eighth and the skipper reached third on a delayed steal of second and Catcher Jordan's throw into center field.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Bobby Feller asked Oscar Vitt: "Why don't you let me work more? . . . Gosh, I used to pitch every day back in Iowa." . . . Who in the congregation knew that Joe DiMaggio began his professional career as a shortstop? . . . Jack Dempsey and Joe Engel have been huddling here. . . . Nobody knows why, but everybody knows that Engel has ambitions to crash the big time as a promoter. . . . Dempsey has been going around the country blasting the toe hold Mike Jacobs has on boxing here and it is not impossible he has been discussing teaming up with Engel in some sort of a promotion. . . . If you ask us, the Giants have the wrong team playing in Jersey City.

Today's guest star:

Victor O. Jones, Boston Evening Globe: "The Dodgers may or may not be daffy, but there are more ex-Brooklyn players managing in the minors than the graduates of any other club. . . . Last time I counted there were 15 in all."

Cecil Isbell, Clark Hinkle and Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers are being schooled by a big Menasha, Wis., paper concern for executive positions. . . . Oscar Vitt says he never laughed so loud in his life as when he saw Joe McCarthy fidgeting around on the Yankee bench. . . . Benny McCoy has loosened up all of a sudden and is going like the dickens around second for the Athletics. . . . Once more Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois has turned down all offers to teach in summer football schools. . . . Estelle Lawson Page, the Dixie golfing ace, will skip the Women's National on the coast this year—too much of a trip for one week of golf.

Today's tall story:

Max Macon of the Brooks remembers a day in the Three-I league when he struck out and scored before another pitch could be made. . . . He got to first when the catcher missed the third strike, to second when the throw was over the first baseman's head, and all the way home when the pitcher, trying to pick him off second, heaved into center field.

How about that story that Frankie Frisch and Bob Klinger punched it out in the locker room after a recent Pirate defeat? . . . An editorial in the Greensboro (N. C.) Daily News on the importance of baseball, has been reprinted by the Cincinnati Reds and mailed all over the country. . . . Greg Rice went back to the old home town—Missoula, Mont.—today to run as an added attraction to the state high school track meet. . . . Incidentally, George M. Varnell of the Seattle Times, will referee the meet for the 25th consecutive year. . . . Another metropolitan area golf club—Leewood—tossed a testimonial dinner for Babe Ruth tonight.

Wood family picnic:

The Wood family held an outing at Yale Thursday. . . . Coach Smoky Joe's squeeze play strategy in the tenth gave Yale a 5-4 win over Colgate. . . . Eldest son, Joe, Jr., pitched all the way for Yale and did a neat job. . . . Second son, Steve, hurled for Colgate and held Yale to two hits until the seventh. . . . Then he went to the showers when—you guessed it—brother Joe singled with the bases loaded. . . . A good time was had by all—except Steve.

One-minute interview:

Oscar Haussermann, president of a Boston Knife and Fork club: "We are all behind the Red Sox and hope that at the end of the season the other seven clubs are in the same position."

MONROE RESIDENT WILL APPEAL CASE

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 11.—(AP)—Federal District Judge Heartsill Ragon Saturday granted W. A. Myatt, Monroe, La., and E. A. Tyrone, Texarkana, convicted of falsifying records of Southwestern Distilled Products, Inc., to conceal dealings with customers in dry states, five days in which to make $2,500 bond each, pending their appeals.

The judge denied a petition for bond by three other men convicted in the same case. Myatt and Tyrone, who drew the lightest sentences in the falsification case, both already are under $10,000 bond in a separate liquor conspiracy case.

Refusing George Dixon, James Cole and Harvey H. Hess in their petition for bail, Judge Ragon said he could not help considering the "enormity of the offense." The five men, convicted last week, drew prison terms ranging from 15 months to eight years and fines ranging from $500 to $21,750.

Britain's coal mining industry yields about 260,000,000 tons annually.

New York

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Cotton futures recovered 9 to 14 points of Friday's heavy losses in a moderately active session today.

Belief that the market's technical situation was improved by the recent liquidation encouraged trade support, Wall Street covering and buying by local professionals and New Orleans.

Hesitant early due to further foreign selling, prices ran up quickly as pressure dried up.

Futues closed 9-14 higher.

Twenty-nine persons, including seven Hollanders cancelled passage, officials of the line said.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Demand for stocks of companies with war profit potentialities lifted these 1 to 3 points at the best in today's market, but many issues continued without much support.

Steels and aircrafts were the principal gainers, touching top marks in the first hour when dealings were moderately active. A little selling later chipped down extreme advances and there were sufficient losers to make the close a bit uneven.

Transfers for the two hours were around 600,000 shares.

Wall Street nervousness over the latest German blitzkrieg seemed to have waned somewhat, and the excited selling of yesterday was absent.

Renewed strength of the hard metal and aviation stocks was attributed partly to the belief that, with the intensification of the European conflict, the allies will be compelled to jump into American markets with heavier purchases of military materials.

Foreign bonds steadied. The British "free" pound sterling and French franc rallied briskly after dropping to new historical lows Friday. Support for these currencies followed reports of strong resistance to the Nazi invasion of the low countries.

Fears of more foreign offerings of American securities remained a cloud on the speculative horizon, although commission houses with overseas connections were unable to find much liquidation in the preceding session. Common stock holdings of the Netherlands were estimated at some $480,000,000 and those of Belgium at about $45,000,000.

RESOLUTION
MRS. E. B. HARPER

Whereas, God in His unerring wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our beloved co-worker and friend, Mrs. E. B. Harper, and

Whereas, by her sterling character, her interest in the community life and her untiring efforts, she has endeared herself to this club, her friends and the community at large,

Whereas, her passing has caused a great loss to the Altrurian Book club,

We, the members of the Altrurian Book club do, hereby, extend to the family and loved ones our heartfelt sympathy.

Be it resolved that a copy of this tribute of love and respect be sent to the bereaved family, and to the daily papers, and also be written in the minutes of our club.

THE ALTRURIAN BOOK CLUB
Mrs. R. B. Henry, President
Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. G. W. Welch,
Resolution Committee.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us at the sudden death of our beloved husband and father, Robert Lafayette Caldwell. Special thanks to Rev. G. W. Wall and the Riser Funeral Home of Columbia for the beautiful services rendered. Many thanks for the lovely floral offerings. All have our deepest and everlasting gratitude.

MRS. R. L. CALDWELL

MRS. E. S. HARPER

Whereas, God in His unerring wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our beloved co-worker and friend, Mrs. E. S. Harper, and

Whereas, by her sterling character, her interest in the community life and her untiring efforts, she has endeared herself to this club, her friends and the community at large,

Whereas, her passing has caused a great loss to the Altrurian Book club,

We, the members of the Altrurian Book club do, hereby, extend to the family and loved ones our heartfelt sympathy.

Be it resolved that a copy of this tribute of love and respect be sent to the bereaved family, and to the daily papers, and also be written in the minutes of our club.

THE ALTRURIAN BOOK CLUB
Mrs. R. B. Henry, President.
Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. G. W. Welch,
Resolution Committee.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us at the sudden death of our beloved husband and father, Robert Lafayette Caldwell. Special thanks to Rev. G. W. Wall and the Riser Funeral Home of Columbia for the beautiful services rendered. Many thanks for the lovely floral offerings. All have our deepest and everlasting gratitude.

MRS. R. L. CALDWELL

LINCOLN PARISH LIBRARY VOTE SET

Tax Must Support Literary Institute If Wanted

RUSTON, May 11.—(Special)—Property taxpayers of Lincoln parish will vote a special tax election May 21 on a two-mill tax to run five years for the support of the parish library.

The library, established by the Louisiana Library commission in February, 1939 as a demonstration, must be supported locally when the demonstration period ends the latter part of May.

The police jury called the tax election upon presentation of petitions signed by more than 25 per cent of the qualified property taxpayers in the parish.

Parishwide library service has been given by means of 10 branch libraries over the parish, a bookmobile service to rural people, and a headquarters library in Ruston directing the demonstration.

Citizens' groups of the parish, including the women's clubs and the Citizens' Library movement, are making a concerted effort to obtain passage of the tax.

Leading residents of the parish have expressed their approval of passage of the tax in signed statements and letters to the local newspaper.

TWO NEW PRODUCERS ADDED TO OLLA FIELD

CLARKS, May 11.—(Special)—Two producers have been added to the Olla field this week, making five producing wells in the field.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 12 was brought in on Friday morning flowing 15 barrels per hour through a 7-32 inch choke, casing pressure 790 pounds, and tubing pressure 360 pounds. This is considered the best well to date in this field.

H. L. Hunt's Goodpine No. 3 came in on Wednesday night flowing about 15 barrels per hour through a 17-64 inch choke.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 10 is being tested, but so far production has not been obtained from this well.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 15 was spudded in this week.

Other wells in the testing stage are H. L. Hunt and Arkansas Fuel Oil company's Goodpine No. 2, Arkansas Fuel Oil company's Goodpine A-1, and H. L. Hunt's Goodpine No. 4.

The ribs and jawbones of whales were used as the main "timbers" in the dwellings of ancient Eskimos.

Monroe Citizens Thanked For Cooperating With Army

Police Chief Seeks To Gain Further Aid In Emergency

Citing the fact that the citizens of Monroe have been more than patient during traffic snarls due to the movement of the Blue army troops through the city, while engaged in the extensive war games in this area, Chief of Police Frank Reitzell, yesterday, personally thanked the people for their cooperation.

Chief Reitzell added, that he thought it well "that the people of Monroe should get better acquainted with the movements of troops, which, owing to the conditions in Europe, might necessitate their moving for a more serious cause." "Should the United States ever be involved in actual war, the citizens would be called upon to make even greater sacrifices of inconveniences to expedite their reaching their destination in the quickest possible time."

Some of the troops will return to the city after finishing the war games, and the same cooperation is desired and will be expected, it was said.

COTTON RAIL RATE ADJUSTED BY I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission said today it had authorized substantial reductions in railroad freight rates on cotton from the southwest gulf ports and mills in the south.

Southwestern railroads sponsored the reductions in an effort to meet increasing truck competition, officials said.

The new reductions apply on shipments from Arkansas, southern Missouri, southern Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Memphis, Tenn., and Natchez, Miss., to New Orleans and Lake Charles, La., and Texas ports to the west.

LINCOLN PARISH LIBRARY VOTE SET

Tax Must Support Literary Institute If Wanted

RUSTON, May 11.—(Special)—Property taxpayers of Lincoln parish will vote a special tax election May 21 on a two-mill tax to run five years for the support of the parish library.

The library, established by the Louisiana Library commission in February, 1939, as a demonstration, must be supported locally when the demonstration period ends the latter part of May.

The police jury called the tax election upon presentation of petitions signed by more than 25 per cent of the qualified property taxpayers in the parish.

Parishwide library service has been given by means of 10 branch libraries over the parish, a bookmobile service to rural people, and a headquarters library in Ruston directing the demonstration.

Citizens' groups of the parish, including the women's clubs and the Citizens' Library movement, are making a concerted effort to obtain passage of the tax.

Leading residents of the parish have expressed their approval of passage of the tax in signed statements and letters to the local newspaper.

TWO NEW PRODUCERS ADDED TO OLLA FIELD

CLARKS, May 11.—(Special)—Two producers have been added to the Olla field this week, making five producing wells in this field.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 12 was brought in on Friday morning flowing 15 barrels per hour through a 7-32 inch choke, casing pressure 790 pounds, and tubing pressure 360 pounds. This is considered the best well to date in this field.

H. L. Hunt's Goodpine No. 3 came in on Wednesday night flowing about 15 barrels per hour through a 17-64 inch choke.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 10 is being tested, but so far production has not been obtained from this well.

H. L. Hunt's Louisiana Central No. 15 was spudded in this week.

Other wells in the testing stage are H. L. Hunt and Arkansas Fuel Oil company's Goodpine No. 2, Arkansas Fuel Oil company's Goodpine A-1, and H. L. Hunt's Goodpine No. 4.

The ribs and jawbones of whales were used as the main "timbers" in the dwellings of ancient Eskimos.

Mother's Day Observed In Monroe Today With Special Services Planned

Sentimental Tributes To Be Paid Mothers

Many Family Gatherings To Be Held, Flowers And Unique Expressions Of Love Are Gifts

By Eve C. Bradford

TODAY IS Mother's day.

In may homes this morning mothers will arise to be greeted by a sweeter tenderness, a more reverent adoration, a deeper appreciation, than on any other day of the year. This is their special day, when a sentiment which may be submerged the rest of the year comes to the surface to Truly today "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." Sentimental tribute is paid by all those fortunate ones whose mothers are here to receive the tribute which is their due.

Men whose mothers are alive will wear a flower bright and those whose best friend is no longer here will wear a blossom white.

Innumerable family gatherings are taking place in Monroe homes today with mothers the honored guests. In all the churches of the Twin Cities today, as elsewhere in the nation, mothers and motherhood will receive special tribute in sermon and song. Floral gifts will be made to the oldest and youngest mother in the congregation in several churches.

The Salvation Army, which feeds and harbors homeless men—many of who knew little or nothing of a mother's love during their formative years—has arranged a special Mother's day program at headquarters on Wood street Sunday night. "Glorious Motherhood" will be the main topic of sermons preached in every church today.

One of the most touching "Mother" poems ever written comes to mind today:

She always leaned to watch for us,
anxious if we were late,
In the winter by the window, in the summer by the gate.
Her thoughts were all so full of us—
she never could forget!
And so I think that where she is, she must be waiting yet.

Ever since the first Mother's day, Dell Paine has composed a bit of verse and enclosed it with a gift for her mother. Last year's verse of lovely sentiment was quite worthy of publication. Wonder if this year's poem will be as lovely? The gifts she sends are appreciated, of course, but we venture to say those poems are cherished beyond measure by her mother. The written word never dies.

Fine Arts Club Plans Festival On Monday

Outstanding Program Arranged For Presentation At Frances Hotel; Public Is Invited

The Fine Arts club will bring to a close a most successful club year on Monday night with a music and art festival at the Frances hotel. The public is invited.

Mrs. Henry Mayo is general chairman of the program. Mrs. Everette Lawson is chairman of the music program and Mr. L. M. Norton will act as master of ceremonies. The program follows:

Voice—"Lullaby" from opera Jocelyn (Godard), Mrs. Paul Newman.

Piano duet—"Grand March" from Tannhauser, Mrs. C. C. Carroll and Miss Ladell Duke.

Violin—Selected, Mrs. Nell Grigsby.

Piano—"Rondo Gavotte" (Bach), Mrs. Dean Selig.

Vocal duet—"Sweethearts" from "Maytime" (Romberg), Mrs. Charles Gaushell and Mrs. Clyde Pedigo.

Clarinet—"Petite Ballad" (Akamenko), M. Harry Lemert.

Piano duet—"Two Guitars" (Russian Cypsy Folk Song), Mr. Leon Hammonds and Mr. Joe Craig.

Accompanists are Mrs. Everett Lawson, Mrs. Charles Gaushell and Mr. Leon Hammonds.

Creating additional interest on the evening's program will be the exhibit of several paintings from the brush of Roy Henderson and Mrs. Henry Mayo. Mr. Henderson will exhibit at this time the portrait in oils of Jacqueline and Joslyn James, attractive daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. James. This portrait, life size, is attracting considerable interest in art circles in this city due to the splendid likeness and the excellent composition.

Mrs. Mayo will have three oil paintings on display.

'The South' Is Theme Of A. A. U. W. Meeting

Talk By Miss Ivo Wilson On Trip To Headquarters Also Is Interesting Feature Of Meeting

The American Association of University Women met at the Y. W. C. A. with Dr. Julia Hunter, Miss Carrie Mae Stevenson, and Miss Dorothy George, hostesses. The reception rooms were decorated with beautiful magnolias from Dr. Hunter's plantation.

Mrs. C. C. Colvert, president, presided during the business session. Plans were discussed for a tea in honor of the graduates and mothers of the graduates of Northeast Junior college. Reports on the state A. A. U. W. convention which was held in Monroe last week were made by the committee chairmen.

Miss Ivo Wilson gave a few points of interest concerning her trip to the A. A. U. W. headquarters in Washington, D. C. Miss Wilson urged members of the association to use the library at headquarters when seeking valuable information.

The theme of the program was "The South—Cotton, Industry and Labor." Miss Clara Wood acted as chairman of the program. Miss Josephine Barrett evaluated "You Have Seen Their Faces," by Erskine Caldwell and Margaret Bourke-White. Miss Barrett stated that the book had been widely publicized for two reasons, the first of which is that it represents a new procedure in narrating—a combination of text written by a literary light, and illustrations furnished by a master of the candid camera, and it records the case for the share-cropper in such a way as to practically slap its readers in the face. Caldwell says that the south is to blame for two things—indifferent acceptance of conditions and shiftless extravagance of its resources, particularly its soil which has from the first been depleted and left to erode. Caldwell implies that the south perpetrated a feud and now perpetuates the quarrel by purposely insulating itself from the world in retaliation for defeat.

Miss Barrett stressed the final point in the book—that there should be a government commission composed of experts together with representatives of all the interests involved to make a study of tenant farming in the cotton country.

"Cotton in the South" was discussed by George Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Holland stated that the south had produced 65 per cent of the world's supply of cotton prior to the World war, but since has decreased that supply. We now produce 40 per cent of the world's cotton supply. The manufacture of synthetic fibers to take the place of real cotton has lost a valuable use for cotton. The best thing for us to do is to try to solve our own problems as best we can by practical, not theoretical, means. The report of the national resources committee on the south, which gives a great deal of information about the problems of the south, was recommended for all present to read.

After the program members were invited to the dining room where the tea table was presided over by the hostesses. Guests present were: Mrs. John Coon, Mrs. W. R. Hammond, Miss Josephine Barrett, Miss Clara Wood, Miss Dean McKoin, Miss Lucille Godwin, Miss Zelda Moss, Miss Dorothy George, Mrs. J. C. Currie, Miss Carrie Mae Stevenson, Dr. Julia Hunter, Mrs. C. C. Colvert, Miss Mary Hester, Miss Grace Mays, Mrs. George Holland, Miss Ivo Wilson and Mrs. W. C. Oliver.

Betrothal Of Miss Carolyn Merrill Stubbs To Dr. Clyde Lynch Announced

Wedding Is Prominent Event Of Next Month

Prominent Member Of Monroe's Younger Set To Marry Young New Orleans Physician

The wedding march that will lead to May and June altars is now under way in Monroe where engagement announcements and wedding dates are being named daily.

Of paramount social importance is the announcement made today by Mrs. Frank Palmer Stubbs of the betrothal of her daughter, Miss Carolyn Merrill Stubbs, to Dr. Robert Clyde Lynch, son of Mrs. R. Clyde Lynch and the late Dr. R. C. Lynch of New Orleans.

The wedding will be one of the most interesting events, socially, of June. It will take place in the gardens of the Stubbs ancestral home on Riverside drive.

Miss Stubbs, one of the loveliest members of Monroe's younger social set, is a graduate of the Neville High school and the Sophie Newcomb School of Music, New Orleans. She also studied music at Shorter college, Rome, Ga., and is now engaged in a special course of study at the Chicago Musical college. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Miss Stubbs was born and reared in Monroe where her paternal grandparents were pioneer citizens and extensive land owners. Her father, the late Colonel F. P. Stubbs, was a brilliant figure in army circles during the World war, having served overseas.

Dr. Lynch was a graduate of the Tulane school of medicine, class of 1938 and an undergraduate in 1935. He is a fellow at Mayo's clinic, Rochester, Minn., where he and his bride-to-be will reside for the next two years. Dr. Lynch is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternities.

An announcement claiming the interest of friends in this section of the state, follows: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robinson announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Evelyn Lorraine, to Mr. James Agaire Avant, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Avant, Sr., of Denham Springs. The wedding will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, June 1 in the First Methodist church of Baton Rouge.

Mr. Avant is a graduate of Marion Institute, Alabama, and of Louisiana State university. He is now a graduate student in the School of Public Welfare in Baton Rouge, L. S. U. He is an alumnus of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Miss Robinson is a graduate of L. S. U. and a member of the faculty of the Winnsboro High school.

P.-T. A. Carnival Is Big Success

The carnival sponsored by St. Matthew's P.-T. A. at the parochial school last week was well attended and a great success, financially.

The booths where iced drinks, candy and plate lunches were served, were well patronized. The side shows, always a feature of entertainment at these annual affairs, were enjoyed by young and old.

The amateur hour was held in the main auditorium and greatly enjoyed. First prize went to Paul Danna, with second prize to Fred Lane and third prize to Stanley Hodges.

Mrs. Charles Guerriero, president of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. wishes to express her thanks to all who assisted, and especially the high school boys and girls for the interest they manifested in their projects.

Eltye Burge To Wed Roy Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland Burge, of this city, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eltye Vaughan, to Roy J. Johnson, Jr., of Thomson, Ga. The marriage will be quietly solemnized in June.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High school. In 1938 she received her A. B. degree in music education from the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville where she was a member of the student council and Young Women's Christian association, and was prominent in musical and journalistic activities, being soloist with the Milledgeville college choir and editor of the college yearbook, the Spectrum. In her senior year she was elected to Who's Who Among American College and University Students. For the past two years she has been a member of the faculty of the Thomson High school.

Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Johnson of Thomson, Ga. He was graduated from the Thomson High school and Emory-at-Oxford, a junior college division of Emory university. He will be graduated from the Emory university school of medicine in June, 1940. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity and Theta Kappa Psi medical fraternity. In his junior year he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society. He is a member of Caduceus, national medical honorary society, and is president of the Emory chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary medical fraternity. Following his graduation he will serve as interne at the Georgia Baptist hospital in Atlanta.

University Women Guests At Brilliant Luncheon During Recent Convention

Dolls Of All Nations Decorate The Tables

Highlight Of Outstanding Event Is Address By Mrs. Herget On 'Stockholm—Nine Months Ago'

Dolls of every nation marched up and down the luncheon table arranged by members of the local branch of American Association of University Women complimentary to the delegates attending the state convention in this city.

Flags of all nations waved at intervals along the board alternated with plaques of bright red roses. The general effect was rather dramatic and caused considerable favorable comment from the guests.

The table reserved for the guests of honor, Mrs. William Lamb, Miss Martha C. [illegible], Mrs. B. L. Parkinson, Mrs. Mary Herget, Mrs. May Lee Denham, Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., Miss Carmen de Laureal and Miss Sue Hefley, was presided over by the local A. A. U. W. president, Mrs. C. C. Colvert.

Each course of the luncheon, beautifully served, was interspersed with charming vocal numbers presented by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. James C. Lauer, Jr. Mrs. Trousdale sang in splendid voice several folk songs in keeping with the European theme.

The highlight of the occasion was the address delivered by Mrs. Mary Herget on "Stockholm—Nine Months Ago." Mrs. Herget was a delegate to the International American Association of University Women's convention held in Stockholm. HOW MANY WOMEN
LOSE FAT
PROMPTLY--- SAFELY

And Gain the Increase in Physical Vigor, Youthfulness and Improvement in Health That So Often Comes With Excess Fat Reduction.

Here's the Plan that helps so many to reduce excess fat and brings into blossom the natural attractiveness and vivaciousness that most every woman possesses.

Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys. Cut down your calorie intake. Eat wisely and satisfyingly.

In 4 weeks get on the scales and just see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat and gained in that energy, improvement in health and more youthful feeling which reduction of excess fat so often brings. If not joyfully satisfied—money back.

Don't fail to get a jar of Kruschen today! The cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. Sold by leading drugstores thruout the world.—Adv.

ROSES BLOOM IN THE DAWKINS GARDENS . . .

Rambler roses, a solid mass of them, are now climbing over white trellises and pergolas in the gardens of the home of Judge and Mrs. Benjamin Dawkins on Island Drive. In the picture is seen just one section of the garden where informality of planting is featured. In the rear of the home is a charming patio under a giant oak tree where the family gathers on summer evenings. All flower beds and pathways are bordered with iris in the spring and later lavendar verbena takes its place.

Opera Club Hears Talk On Wagner

Mrs. C. R. Pedigo welcomed members of the Opera club in her home on Pargoud drive with Mrs. P. A. Colvin co-hostess. Many charming courtesies were extended during the coffee hour.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the club song "Louisiana" and was followed by the Collect.

A business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. Norman Coon. Plans were completed at this time for an open program to be held at Northeast Center of L. S. U. A musical tea with selections of some of the outstanding operas studied the past year will be the highlights of the afternoon entertainment.

Mrs. Charles Gaushell gave an interesting paper on "The Life of Richard Wagner." It was a continuation of the Wagnerian cycle and the fourth opera "Gotterdammerung" which completes the study of the Wagnerian cycle. Mrs. Gaushell told how on the hill top far from all human habitation, the sisters of Fate had gathered to intone the Mystic Song; and, as they sang and spun their golden thread of destiny, they mournfully recalled the former glory of the gods. And as they sang the golden thread snapped suddenly asunder—an evil omen—presaging the approaching doom of all Walhalla. And thus ended the story of the "Ring of the Nibelung."

Mrs. Norman Coon led the roundtable discussion. The following members were present: Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. C. S. Gaushell, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. E. J. Hinkle, Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Jr., Mrs. C. W. Oseland, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. E. R. Whitaker, Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. P. A. Colvin, Mrs. John C. Best and Mrs. C. R. Pedigo.

Catholic Ladies' Society Meets

The Catholic Ladies Altar society met in the home of Mrs. A. B. Bergevin for their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, Sr., who led in prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were accepted as read and a financial report was submitted.

Plans were made during this meeting for the annual picnic, May 13, for all boys who serve on the altar.

Due to the closing of schools this month, no benefit affairs were planned.

Mrs. C. Kessler brought the blocks and material for the quilt which the Altar society and St. Ann's circle are making. Those who are assisting are requested to contact Mrs. C. L. Kessler, telephone 1510-J.

During the social hour Mrs. A. B. Bergevin, assisted by Mrs. K. A. Forest and Mrs. D. A. Breard, served a delicious confectionary course.

The first Tuesday in June will be with Mrs. H. H. Reardon.

National Hospital Day To Be Observed Here

Members Of St. Francis Auxiliary, Assisted By Nurses And Doctors' Wives, Receive Guests

National Hospital Day is being observed today at St. Francis sanitarium where members of the St. Francis auxiliary, assisted by the nurses and wives of the doctors, will receive the public generally.

The serious side of life at St. Francis sanitarium will be thrust into the background today. Nurses in immaculate uniforms will put aside their dignity and escort the visiting public through the sanitarium, showing them the various phases of hospitalization. Hostesses will strive to inject an atmosphere of hospitality within the walls associated with sickness and tragedy.

National Hospital day brings to mind the name of Florence Nightingale, who years ago set the high standard which nurses of today strive to maintain.

The public accepts as their natural heritage the merciful service rendered in Monroe's hospitals. Very little thought is given, however, to the tragic filled hours when nurses and physicians hold nightly vigil. The silent hours when most of us get our best sleep, midnight to dawn, are often nights of tragedy for the white-clad figures who walk noiselessly down hospital corridors answering the summons of sufferers. In most cases the ambulance siren means an emergency care.

The service rendered by doctors and nurses is ours every hour of the day and night and so for one day in the whole year we show our deep appreciation by paying our respects to members of St. Francis auxiliary who arrange the details in connection with the observance of National Hospital day. Those who are the most deeply grateful to doctors and nurses for the care and attention given some loved one who has been a patient in the sanitarium, express their gratitude with gifts of flowers. As a result the corridors, the reception rooms and the wards are banked with gift flowers on this particular day.

There is one mother in particular in Monroe, Mrs. Alice McLeod, who has one of the most loving, the most considerate and certainly the most devoted daughters we know of. Mrs. McLeod is a semi-invalid, but her daughter, Alice Dawkins, makes life worthwhile. She is with her mother constantly, cheering her and bringing to her the things she would otherwise miss, due to invalidism. Alice, in addition to being a wonderful daughter, is a wonderful mother as well. The Dawkins menage is one of the most beautifully and efficiently managed in the city and one always finds there the genuine hospitality that makes a house a home.

By the way have you seen the rose arbor in the Dawkins' gardens? The crimson roses trailing over the white trellises created such a gorgeous picture we decided to transplant it to the society section for the benefit of those who didn't see Alice's garden last week. The picture, on the opposite page, gives one a general idea of the beauty of landscaping.

Quite the busiest mother in Monroe is Maud Stubbs. She is formally announcing the engagement of her lovely daughter, Carolyn, and that means hectic days ahead with plans for the June-time garden wedding already underway. In addition to a wedding there is something else equally as important taking place. Barry graduates in June from Yale university and, of course, he wants his sister and his mother to be on the sideline when he walks forward to receive his sheepskin. Any young man in fact with such a charming sister and youthful looking mother would be anxious to show them off to his classmates. Maud will join Carolyn in Chicago where she is studying music and together they will go to New Haven, Conn., for commencement.

If Carolyn was less attractive, less a thoroughbred and less the ideal southern girl, one might think it was her music that attracted young Dr. Lynch. She plays divinely and is daily improving her talent at the Chicago Musical college. It was Rudolph Ganze, world famous pianist, who praised in highest terms Carolyn's musicianship and urged her to carry on.

Although summer has come with a belated rush, gardeners weren't caught napping. Backs may creak, arms may ache, but the back-to-soil movement preceeds on schedule. It takes a dawn to dusk shift to do this in many families. Mother works in the morning, Junior after school and Dad in the early evening. The result is a flowery city where almost every home boasts a beautiful flower garden.

Irene and Stanley Reid have one of the most picturesque gardens in the city. Although Irene fills a man's size job, she finds time late in the evening and early in the morning to plan and supervise the planting and the cultivating of her flowers. There aren't any silver bells or cockle shells growing in her garden, but Canterbury bells bloom along the flower beds. Her garden is a series of beds where every flower of early summer is now blooming. The flowers of spring have given place to lemon lilies, hollyhocks, verbena, roses and beds of luxuriant ferns placed in the background against the high shrubbery. One section of the garden has been converted into an out-of-door living room with a barbecue pit in the offing. That means, of course, happy days ahead with dining out-of-doors a break in the daily routine.

If you visit Northeast Junior college today and enter the door leading to the faculty lounge you will be privileged to view the paintings exhibited by Roy Henderson, art instructor at the college. All his work is outstanding in beauty and technique but one canvas in particular, attracting the attention of all art lovers in the city, is the life size portarit of Jacqueline and Joselyn James, lovely young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. James. Mr. Henderson's virile, deeply sensitive portarits have been praised before but this portait is noted for its superb modeling and keen perception of character. There is no magic tonality in this canvas but there is an insight into character that proves the painter has imagination that enables him to project himself into the character of his sitters in order to reveal what he finds there.

In case you do not see this portrait at the college today you will again have an opportunity to see it Monday night when members of the Fine Arts club hold their open meeting in the Mirror room of the Frances hotel. Several other canvases from the brush of Mr. Henderson and several of Maud Mayo's canvases will be exhibited.

Literature Club Hears Review

Mrs. M. J. Carbone arranged in artistic manner a variety of garden flowers in immense crystal bowls and placed them at vantage points in the beautiful drawing room of her home on Pargoud boulevard, when she entertained members of the Current Literature club last week.

Mrs. Raymond John gave an excellent review of the novel "That Which Never Returns." It is the story of a sea captain, James Bendham, and tells of his voyage east as a boy to build up the great rubber plantations which supplied half of the world with rubber. It was then they pointed out a romantic career ranging from a boy's adventurous poverty to the fabulous wealth and success of a great capitalist.

Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, president, presided over the business session at which time the following officers were installed for the coming term: President, Mrs. J. M. Menefee; vice-president, Mrs. John Best, secretary, Mrs. J. E. Bryan; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Carbone, parliamentarian, Mrs. J. Leon Dennis; historian, Mrs. Raymond John; reporter, Mrs. G. B. Watkins.

At the conclusion of the program and business meeting a social interlude was enjoyed by the following: Mrs. R. L. Conway, Mrs. John Kramer, Mrs. R. F. Seiler, Mrs. J. E. Peters, Mrs. William Whitfield, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. John Naylor, Mrs. John Best, Mrs. J. M. Menefee, Mrs. G. B. Watkins, Mrs. J. Leon Dennis, Mrs. Earl Stovall, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Jordan Barton and Mrs. M. J. Carbonne. Guests for the afternoon, Mrs. D. D. Dudley and Mrs. W. M. McDonald.

Mrs. K. A. Forrest left Friday for Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, to join Mr. Forrest who is associated with the Albermarle Paper company. They will be joined later in the summer by their daughter, Miss Gladys, who is majoring in medical technology at L. P. I., having finished her course of study at Emory university in Atlanta, Ga.

Choudrant

Mrs. Fred Duggan was the charming hostess of a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mrs. Lamar Capps and Mrs. Lawrence Terry.

Games and contests were the diversion of the afternoon, after which delightful refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Mabel Pipes, Marjorie Tullos, Dixie Morris, Bernice Faulkner, O. W. Hogan, H. M. Bagly, R. L. Terry, Lawrence Terry, Marie Capps, Pauline Hammons, Aline Hammons, Lela Mae Hammons, and J. H. Frasier and Jewel Aswold, Misses Doris Durrett and Thesta Walker.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Choudrant Parent-Teacher association Tuesday the seventh grade took charge of the program. During the business session the following new officers were installed: President, Mrs. Allen O'Neal; vice-president, Mrs. Velma Bagwell; secretary, Mrs. Sara Duggan; and treasurer, Mrs. Marie Capps.

University Women Guests At Brilliant Luncheon During Recent Convention

Dolls Of All Nations Decorate The Tables

Highlight Of Outstanding Event Is Address By Mrs. Herget On 'Stockholm---Nine Months Ago'

Dolls of every nation marched up and down the luncheon table arranged by members of the local branch of American Association of University Women complimentary to the delegates attending the state convention in this city.

Flags of all nations waved at intervals along the board alternated with plaques of bright red roses. The general effect was rather dramatic and caused considerable favorable comment from the guests.

The table reserved for the guests of honor, Mrs. William Lamb, Miss Martha C. Enochs, Mrs. B. L. Parkinson, Mrs. Mary Herget, Mrs. May Lee Denham, Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., Miss Carmen de Laurel and Miss Sue Hefley, was presided over by the local A. A. U. W. president, Mrs. C. C. Colvert.

Each course of the luncheon, beautifully served, was interspersed with charming vocal numbers presented by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. James C. Liner, Jr., Mrs. Trousdale sang in splendid voice several folk songs in keeping with the European theme.

The highlight of the occasion was the address delivered by Mrs. Mary Herget on "Stockholm—Nine Months Ago." Mrs. Herget was a delegate to the International American Association of University Women's convention held in Stockholm. She gave a graphic account of her experiences traveling abroad and gave a delightful word picture of the convention.

There is one mother in particular in Monroe, Mrs. Alice McLeod, who has one of the most loving, the most considerate and certainly the most devoted daughters we know of. Mrs. McLeod is a semi-invalid, but her daughter, Alice Dawkins, makes life worthwhile. She is with her mother constantly, cheering her and bringing to her the things she would otherwise miss, due to invalidism. Alice, in addition to being a wonderful daughter, is a wonderful mother as well. The Dawkins menage is one of the most beautifully and efficiently managed in the city and one always finds there the genuine hospitality that makes a house a home.

By the way have you seen the rose arbor in the Dawkins' gardens? The crimson roses trailing over the white trellises created such a gorgeous picture we decided to transplant it to the society section for the benefit of those who didn't see Alice's garden last week. The picture, on the opposite page, gives one a general idea of the beauty of landscaping.

Quite the busiest mother in Monroe is Maud Stubbs. She is formally announcing the engagement of her lovely daughter, Carolyn, and that means hectic days ahead with plans for the June-time garden wedding already underway. In addition to a wedding there is something else equally as important taking place. Barry graduates in June from Yale university and, of course, he wants his sister and his mother to be on the sideline when he walks forward to receive his sheepskin. Any young man in fact with such a charming sister and youthful looking mother would be anxious to show them off to his classmates. Maud will join Carolyn in Chicago where she is studying music and together they will go to New Haven, Conn., for commencement.

If Carolyn was less attractive, less a thoroughbred and less the ideal southern girl, one might think it was her music that attracted young Dr. Lynch. She plays divinely and is daily improving her talent at the Chicago Musical college. It was Rudolph Ganze, world famous pianist, who praised in highest terms Carolyn's musicianship and urged her to carry on.

Although summer has come with a belated rush, gardeners weren't caught napping. Backs may creak, arms may ache, but the back-to-soil movement preceeds on schedule. It takes a dawn to dusk shift to do this in many families. Mother works in the morning, Junior after school and Dad in the early evening. The result is a flowery city where almost every home boasts a beautiful flower garden.

Irene and Stanley Reid have one of the most picturesque gardens in the city. Although Irene fills a man's size job, she finds time late in the evening and early in the morning to plan and supervise the planting and the cultivating of her flowers. There aren't any silver bells or cockle shells growing in her garden, but Canterbury bells bloom along the flower beds. Her garden is a series of beds where every flower of early summer is now blooming. The flowers of spring have given place to lemon lilies, hollyhocks, verbena, roses and beds of luxuriant ferns placed in the background against the high shrubbery. One section of the garden has been converted into an out-of-door living room with a barbecue pit in the offing. That means, of course, happy days ahead with dining out-of-doors a break in the daily routine.

If you visit Northeast Junior college today and enter the door leading to the faculty lounge you will be privileged to view the paintings exhibited by Roy Henderson, art instructor at the college. All his work is outstanding in beauty and technique but one canvas in particular, attracting the attention of all art lovers in the city, is the life size portarit of Jacqueline and Joselyn James, lovely young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. James. Mr. Henderson's virile, deeply sensitive portarits have been praised before but this portait is noted for its superb modeling and keen perception of character. There is no magic tonality in this canvas but there is an insight into character that proves the painter has imagination that enables him to project himself into the character of his sitters in order to reveal what he finds there.

In case you do not see this portrait at the college today you will again have an opportunity to see it Monday night when members of the Fine Arts club hold their open meeting in the Mirror room of the Frances hotel. Several other canvases from the brush of Mr. Henderson and several of Maud Mayo's canvases will be exhibited.

Literature Club Hears Review

Mrs. M. J. Carbone arranged in artistic manner a variety of garden flowers in immense crystal bowls and placed them at vantage points in the beautiful drawing room of her home on Pargoud boulevard, when she entertained members of the Current Literature club last week.

Mrs. Raymond John gave an excellent review of the novel "That Which Never Returns." It is the story of a sea captain, James Bendham, and tells of his voyage east as a boy to build up the great rubber plantations which supplied half of the world with rubber. It was then they pointed out a romantic career ranging from a boy's adventurous poverty to the fabulous wealth and success of a great capitalist.

Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, president, presided over the business session at which time the following officers were installed for the coming term: President, Mrs. J. M. Menefee; vice-president, Mrs. John Best; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Bryan; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Carbone; parlamentarian, Mrs. J. Leon Dennis; historian, Mrs. Raymond John; reporter, Mrs. G. B. Watkins.

At the conclusion of the program and business meeting a social interlude was enjoyed by the following: Mrs. R. L. Conway, Mrs. John Kramer, Mrs. R. F. Seiler, Mrs. J. E. Peters, Mrs. William Whitfield, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. John Naylor, Mrs. John Best, Mrs. J. M. Menefee, Mrs. G. B. Watkins, Mrs. J. Leon Dennis, Mrs. Earl Stovall, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Jordan Barton and Mrs. M. J. Carbonne. Guests for the afternoon, Mrs. D. D. Dudley and Mrs. W. M. McDonald.

Mrs. K. A. Forrest left Friday for Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, to join Mr. Forrest who is associated with the Albermarle Paper company. They will be joined later in the summer by their daughter, Miss Gladys, who is majoring in medical technology at L. P. I., having finished her course of study at Emory university in Atlanta, Ga.

Choudrant

Mrs. Fred Duggan was the charming hostess of a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mrs. Lamar Capps and Mrs. Lawrence Terry.

Games and contests were the diversion of the afternoon, after which delightful refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Mabel Pipes, Marjorie Tullos, Dixie Morris, Bernice Faulkner, O. W. Hogan, H. M. Bagly, R. L. Terry, Lawrence Terry, Marie Capps, Pauline Hammons, Aline Hammons, Lela Mae Hammons, and J. H. Frasier and Jewel Aswold, Misses Doris Durrett and Thesta Walker.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Choudrant Parent-Teacher association Tuesday the seventh grade took charge of the program. During the business session the following new officers were installed: President, Mrs. Allen O'Neal; vice-president, Mrs. Velma Bagwell; secretary, Mrs. Sara Duggan; and treasurer, Mrs. Marie Capps.

Science's Progress Aids Deafened

The development of the vacuum tube has in turn played a big part in many modern inventions and improvements.

One of the latest uses to which this adaptable item has been put is in bringing better and clearer hearing to the many thousands of deafened throughout the world.

The principle of using vacuum tubes in hearing aids is by no means new—they have been used for a great many years.

However, due to the size of the tubes, the aids they were used in were necessarily large and the "A" and "B" battery pack required to provide the necessary electrical energy were correspondingly large.

It is indeed welcome news to hear that the Dictograph Laboratories, manufacturers of the world famous Acousticon since 1902, have finally overcome these major scientific difficulties and are introducing through the local Acousticon institute this remarkable new achievement.

This newest of vacuum tube hearing aids is as tiny and compact as an average carbon type hearing air.

Its smartly streamlined transmitter-amplifier fits snugly into the palm of a lady's hand.

The volume, clarity and distance reception available through the use of this new Acousticon is indeed a scientific feat.

"The tiny therimonic tubes enclosed in this 'miniature acoustic amplifier' require a complicated watch-like precision in assembly but the results available will bring truly good hearing to the thousands of deafened heretofore unable to hear," explained Mr. V. Nesbitt, Acousticon distributor. Mr. Nesbitt will be at the Frances hotel Monday, May 13, to demonstrate the Acousticon and serve the many Acousticon users.

FACTS ABOUT THE TWIN CITIES

Monroe and West Monroe have developed within the past ten years into a very large jobbing center according to figures released yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce office. In 1930 there were forty-one jobbing concerns doing business in the Twin Cities with an annual turnover of $14,020,000.00. In spite of the depression the number of jobbers increased in 1935 to fifty-six with an annual business of $11,200,000.00. In 1937 there were seventy-one jobbers in the Twin Cities which did an annual business of $15,842,000.00.

The wholesale payroll in the Twin Cities in 1937 was $1,068,000.00 The seventy-one jobbers employed 862 employees in 1937. On a competitive basis the wholesale payroll in Ouachita Parish in 1937 of $1,068,000.00 was more than two-thirds as large as the combined agricultural income for the parish, which was $1,527,799.00.

The increase in the jobbing business of the Twin Cities has widened the scope of influence of the Twin Cities as a commercial center, Chamber of Commerce officials observed. This increase has been due to the competitive basis which the Twin Cities enjoy from a standpoint of basic rates and transportation costs. The fact that the Twin Cities are served so excellently by various bus transportation companies, railroads and waterways has made possible this phenominal expansion in the jobbing field.

The Chamber of Commerce pays tribute to the wholesale firms of the Twin Cities, which are providing such a tremendous payroll which contributes more than a million dollars annually in payroll to the economic life blood of Ouachita Parish.

Harry Schroeder Says Use Exmite To Kill Termites

Termite control has been so thoroughly demonstrated by the Monroe Exterminating company that many contracts which have been in effect for five or more years are being renewed.

The chemical so effectively used in this extermination is of a highly toxic nature, but is non-inflammable and non-explosive, thereby eliminating a hazard experienced with some chemicals.

Thorough periodical reinspections of treated properties are one phase of their contract.

The Monroe Exterminating company is licensed and bonded with the state horticultural commission and offers FHA loans for those who are interested in contracting in this manner.

"We treated your neighbor's house" is the slogan of the company which has more than 400 contracts now in force in Monroe and other towns in northeast Louisiana.

The company offers superior service at reasonable cost to the customer.

Call 2670 for a free inspection on your property or on any property that you might consider buying.

A thorough inspection of property to be purchased will prevent an investment of money in termite damage.

Harry Schroeder is supervisor of Monroe Exterminating company, the sure, safe exterminators.

Science's Progress Aids Deafened

The development of the vacuum tube has in turn played a big part in many modern inventions and improvements.

One of the latest uses to which this adaptable item has been put is in bringing better and clearer hearing to the many thousands of deafened throughout the world.

The principle of using vacuum tubes in hearing aids is by no means new—they have been used for a great many years.

However, due to the size of the tubes, the aids they were used in were necessarily large and the "A" and "B" battery pack required to provide the necessary electrical energy were correspondingly large.

It is indeed welcome news to hear that the Dictograph Laboratories, manufacturers of the world famous Acousticon since 1902, have finally overcome these major scientific difficulties and are introducing through the local Acousticon institute this remarkable new acihevement.

This newest of vacuum tube hearing aids is as tiny and compact as an average carbon type hearing air.

Its smartly streamlined transmitter-amplifier fits snugly into the palm of a lady's hand.

The volume, clarity and distance reception available through the use of this new Acousticon is indeed a scientific feat.

"The tiny therimonic tubes enclosed in this 'miniature acoustic amplifier' require a complicated watch-like precision in assembly but the results available will bring truly good hearing to the thousands of deafened heretofore unable to hear," explained Mr. V. Nesbitt, Acousticon distributor. Mr. Nesbitt will be at the Frances hotel Monday, May 13, to demonstrate the Acousticon and serve the many Acousticon users.

It is the small species of reptiles that depend on a quick strike with poison fangs to win their battles.

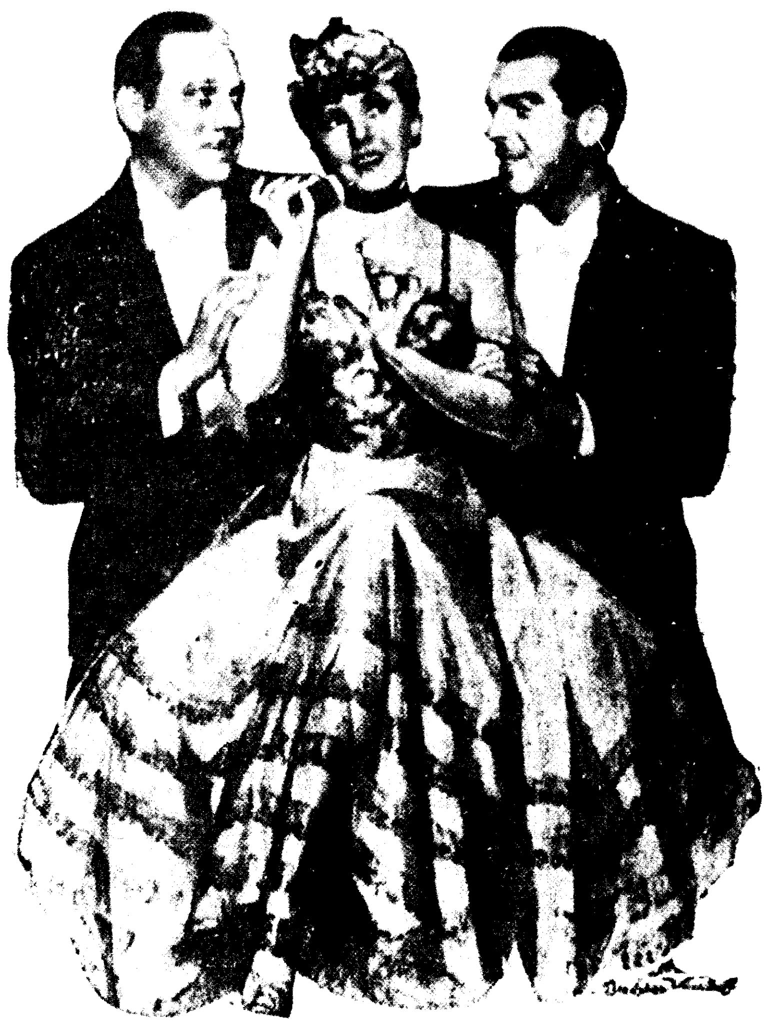
'Too Many Husbands' Opens Engagement At Paramount



Bradshaw Crandell, famous illustrator, captures, in the illustration above, the witty flavor of "Too Many Husbands," sensational new comedy which shows today, Monday and Tuesday at the Paramount theater with Jean Arthur, Melvyn Douglas and Fred MacMurray co-starred.

That United States marine with the educated fists is Wallace Ford who is co-featured with William Gargan in "Isle of Destiny," a thrilling adventure drama of the South seas showing Tuesday only at the Capitol theater with June Lang, Gilbert Roland and Katherine DeMille in support.

BIBLE CLASS WILL HOLD MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM

A special Mother's day program will be conducted by the Frank P. Stubbs memorial Bible class which meets at the Paramount theater at 9:45 a.m. today.

The speaker will be Rev. Charles L. King, Pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Houston, Tex., who has been conducting a series of evangelistic meetings at the Presbyterian church this week.

Special music has been arranged for the program and all men are urged to bring their wives.

McMurray, Arthur Top Great Cast

Melvyn Douglas Also Included In Outstanding Romantic Hit

MARRIAGE is supposed to be an institution and who, the gag runs, "wants to live in an institution?" Jean Athur certainly doesn't and, paradoxically, does!

Miss Arthur's ambiguous position is deftly presented in Columbia's "Too Many Husbands," which opens today at the Paramount theater with Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas also starred. The hilarious new comedy, which was produced and directed by Wesley Ruggles from an original stage success by W. Somerset Maugham, is said to describe a marital mix-up in unbelivably merry fashion.

Miss Arthur is seen as a young woman with two husbands. She is in love with both, is willing to live with either or both, but the law says she must get rid of one. What to do about it? What Miss Arthur does, according to advance reports (and the advance reports have been unanimous in their use of superlatives?), makes "Too Many Husbands" a thoroughly entertaining and completely "different" type of comedy.

Fred MacMurray is seen as Miss Arthur's first husband. His reckless irresponsibility has won her love, and she continues to love him even though he constantly dashes off on wild expiditions from which she is excluded. Her loneliness is intensified when his death at sea is reported and, for comfort, she turns to the consoling arms of Melvyn Douglas. They are married, and Miss Arthur discovers in Douglas the stability and conscientiousness lacking in her first romance. She is thoroughly in love with her husband, despite the manner in which he concentrates on business to her occasional exclusion, when—suddenly!—Fred returns!

From that moment until the final hectic fade-out, "Too Many Husbands" is said to be an uproarious, swiftly-paced comedy of a girl who must choose between two men, both of whom are her husbands! Critical raves from Hollywood report that high-spots of the new film include Jean's effort to tell Fred of her changed marital status, the battle between Fred and Melvyn in their boyish effort to prove to Jean just who is the better man, the scene in the guest room to which both husbands are forced to retire, and Jean's hilarious interpretation of the judge's decision, once the situation finally escapes from her hands.

In the cast, in addition to the star trio, are Harry Davenport, as Jean's understanding father; Melville Cooper, as a butler, and Dorothy Peterson.

DANGEROUS HOBBY

HELENA, Mont.—(AP)—Supervisor Lou C. Boedecker suggested the state highway patrolmen under him might find cartridge-making an interesting hobby.

They took to it so enthusiastically that the entire force now turns out all the ammunition needed "for target practice and for more serious purposes" Boedecker says.

The patrolmen studied methods of old-time marksmen who "built" their own cartridges, filling empty cases with lead, powder and wads.

'Fighting 69th' Opens At Capitol

Spectacular Film Tells Story Of Famous World War Division

"THE Fighting 69th," a new Warner Bros film starring James Cagney, George Brent and Pat O'Brien, will be the feature attraction today at the Capitol theater.

Headed by the three stars, the cast includes a long roster of well-known players such as Alan Hale, Jeffrey Lynn, Frank McHugh, Dennis Morgan, Dick Foran, William Lundigan, and Guinn "Big Boy" Williams. The original story by Norman Reilly Raine, Fred Niblo, Jr., and Dean Franklin is based partly on the exploits of the famous 165th New York infantry, better known as the Fighting 69th, the Irish Brigade, of which the late Father Francis Patrick Duffy was regimental chaplain. This is the role played by Pat O'Brien, whose priest role in "Angles With Dirty Faces" will long be remembered. Cagney is cast as a rebellious buck private, and George Brent as "Wild Bill" Donovan, colonel of the 69th. Alan Hale is the crusty top sergeant, and Jeffrey Lynn portrays the wartime poet, Joyce Kilmer.

The ups and downs of training camp life are vividly depicted in the film—the human interest drama of the adjustment of raw recruits from every walk of life to the discipline of life in the army. Cagney, as the tough guy who stubbornly resists falling into line with the military rules and regulations, provides the main thread of the story. In spite of the efforts of O'Brien, as the kindly and humane priest, and Brent, as the hard-bitten but understanding colonel, he refuses to conform until events place him in a position where there is a true test of his mettle, and he comes through with flying colors.

Critics who previewed the film in Hollywood have sent through advance reports, hailing it as the most exciting human interest entertainment in years, a good, rousing action drama with a leavening of broad comedy in the tradition of such films as "The Cock-Eyed World." Cagney and Alan Hale carry much of the comedy with a typical feud between a cocky private and a bullying top sergeant, which climaxes, incidentally, in one of the most rough and tumble fist bouts ever filmed.

William Keighley directed the production.

TECH SCHOLASTIC CLUBS ELECT OFFICERS FOR '41

RUSTON, La., May 11.—(Special)—Three scholastic clubs at Louisiana Tech have announced the recent election of officers for the 1940-41 session. They are Los Hispanofilos, honorary Spanish society, Sigma Tau Delta, national English fraternity, and the Tech Engineers' association.

New officers for Hispanofilos, honorary Spanish societs, are as follows: Frances McDonald, Shreveport, president; Syble Austin, El Dorado, Ark., vice-president; Mavie Roberts, Alexandria, secretary; Bob Fisher, Shreveport, treasurer, and Mortimer Raphael, Jonesboro, editor. Dr. F. O. Adams, Jr., head of the Spanish department at Tech, is sponsor of the group.

The Sigma Tau Delta English fraternity elected the following: Aldonza Sookul, Winnfield, president; R. G. Frasier, Ruston, vice-president; Lois Reed, Alexandria, secretary, and Harley Nethken, Ruston, sergeant-at-arms.

The Tech Engineers' association will be headed next year by the following: W. T. Wells, West Monroe, president; T. E. Hilton, Logansport, vice-president; B. K. Watson, Farmerville, treasurer, and Gordon Marsala, Athens, secretary.

AUXILIARY PLANS PROGRESS SERIES

Baby Show, Clinic Will Be Included; Begins On May 25

The ladies' auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans has scheduled a series of programs to be known as "A Festival of Progress," Mrs. Stella Courtney, president of the auxiliary announced Saturday.

The series will include a baby show, free baby clinic, beautiful baby review and a historical pageant entitled "The Spirit of America," Mrs. Courtney said.

Entries for the baby events are being made at 122 DeSiard street, where registration hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. No entry fees are charged and every baby registered will be given a thorough physical examination free, Mrs. Courtney stated.

Loving cups and other prizes will be awarded to the winning babies in four divisions: Health, handsome boys, pretty girls, and grand champion babies.

The presentation of the historical pageant has been set for May 25. Outstanding events in American history will be portrayed through the media of dances and musical tableaux, Mrs. Courtney said. A queen of progress will be chosen from the cast, together with ladies of her court. Young women chosen for the positions will receive gifts of jewelry. Rehearsals for the pageant are already under way.

Mayhap You'd Like Some Mayhaw Jelly--Here's How

With mayhaws practically cluttering up the countryside at this time of the year, some of the more ambitious housewives will probably want to make some jelly.

Now when grandma started out to make jelly in the good old days, sometimes it "jelled" and sometimes it didn't. And it was all because she didn't know about a necessary little article called pectin.

The agricultural extension division at Louisiana State university has published some very enlightening material on this bugaboo of jelly-makers and Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller, parish home demonstration agent, adds a personal touch or two. The combination is unbeatable.

Since this is mayhaw season let's take a lesson in making mayhaw jelly, not forgetting that pectin stuff. The function of pectin is to form a base for the sugar, the other solids and some water. If too much sugar is added, the pectin base is distended, and a syrupy, sticky product results. If too little sugar is used, the pectin base contracts and a tough, hard jelly results. Now do you see the trouble this pectin can cause?

The first step in making jelly is to first make a jelly stock. To make mayhaw jelly stock, wash and sort the mayhaws, barely cover with water, cook slowly in a covered vessel until tender, then strain, pour into sterilized jars, process for 20 minutes, seal and store until ready to make jelly.

After you've rested a while and feel like getting your jelly-making over with, open the jars of jelly stock and roll up your sleeves. But don't add any sugar yet. Let's settle this pectin business first. There are several ways to test jelly stock to determine the amount of pectin present, but we'll only study one or two.

Although pectin is soluble in water, it is unsoluble in alcohol, so alcohol may be used to determine the amount of pectin present. Into a glass or cup pour one tablespoon of alcohol (95 per cent pure). Into this pour gently one tablespoon of the jelly stock. Mix by moving gently from side to side. Let stand for one minute and pour slowly into a saucer. If the pectin has formed a solid unbroken mass, it will be safe to use measure for measure of sugar and juice. If it forms a good precipitate but is slightly broken, use only three-fourths cup of sugar to one cup of juice. But if the precipitate is quite broken, use only one-half cup of sugar to one cup of juice.

If you don't allow alcohol in your home, a fairly accurate test for pectin may be made with epsom salts. Mix one-half teaspoon sugar with one teaspoon of jelly stock, then add one-fourth teaspoon of epsom salts and stir until all is dissolved. Let stand for five minutes. If the mixture sets into jelly, the juice will jell readily and may be sweetened and boiled at once, cooking rapidly until it will flake from the edge of a spoon. In testing, if the epsom salts mixture fails to set in a solid sheet of jelly within five minutes, then the juice needs to be concentrated by boiling it before it is sweetened, or pectin may be added. If the mixture treated sets into a solid jelly, equal measures of sugar and fruit juice should be used in jelly-making. If the mixture is not solid, less sugar should be used.

Now you're ready to make the jelly. The standard recipe calls for (1) four cups of mayhaw jelly stock, and (2) three or four cups of sugar (don't forget that pectin test). Strain the jelly stock, bring to a boil, skim and add sugar. Cook rapidly at 222 degrees Fahrenheit until it flakes from the spoon.

Now all you have to do is pour the syrup into clean glasses, cover with tin covers until cool, then remove the covers, seal the glasses with paraffin, dry out the inside of the tin covers and replace on glasses.

"There's nothing to it, really," says Mrs. McQuiller.

REV. COX SEEKING POST IN CONGRESS

Veteran West Monroe Political Figure To Oppose Newt Mills

SEEKS POST IN CONGRESS

REV. F. L. COX

Rev. F. L. Cox, veteran political figure of West Monroe, announced yesterday that he would seek the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Fifth district in the campaign next fall. The post is now held by Newt V. Mills.

Rev. Cox was born in a log home in Virginia on October 24, 1875, and attended school three months in the winter in a log school house. His mother, 94 years old, is still living. His father fought at Winchester and Chancellorsville in the War Between the States, and then went west in 1893. Rev. Cox finished the 12th grade in the high school at Stanton, Neb., in 1895, and then accepted a small pastorate. He attended William Jewell college at Liberty, Mo., in 1898-1900, and then went to Ottawa university, Ottawa, Kan., in 1900, to remain until 1902.

He came to Jennings, La., where he was pastor of the Baptist church from May, 1902, to 1904, when he went to Arcadia. He then was principal of Mount Lebanon school from 1906 to 1913, and served as pastor at Gibsland and Simsboro. He volunteered in the World war at the age of 42 and graduated from the chaplain's training school in Louisville as a first lieutenant. He was chaplain at the Louisiana penitentiary in 1928-30 and was in the enforcement division of the department of conservation from 1930 to 1932, and was an inspector of the state board of health from 1932 to 1938.

Rev. Cox organized the Share-Our-Wealth societies in the Fifth district, with 32,000 members. He organized the first society ever formed in West Monroe and the second at Baucomville. He campaigned for Huey P. Long for every office and made speeches for Senator John Overton, John Fournet and campaigned through five primaries for Congressman Mills, as well as for James A. Noe, for whom he claims to have organized more Noe-For-Governor clubs than any other man. In all he says he has made more than two thousand speeches in the past 10 years.

"I believe that two years is enough for a congressman," Rev. Cox said. "I have only five voting-age relatives and will give jobs to my supporters.

"Something must be done for our old and poor people. World war veterans over 40 years of age with infirmatives should receive special consideration. Aid to farmers should be relegated from talk fests in congress to bona fide legislation for their relief. Adequate legislation to protect hard-working and honest people to hold their homes and farms, most of which are jeopardized by federal loans, must be formulated. I will seek to compensate thousands of World war veterans for war risk insurance which they had to drop after paying premiums for years."

Rev. Cox is a member of the Baptist church, the Masons, Odd Fellows and the Burnett Downs post of the American Legion.

HERE'S AN OPENING

INEZ, Ky.—(P)—Old Doc Speer has retired and persons suffering from a toothache are wondering what to do.

Dr. Speer—his full name is A. D. Speer—has been Martin county's only practicing dentist for the past 52 years. He'll still treat a patient in an emergency but prefers to spend his time on his farm.

Since Martin county is not a populous one, serving as its only practicing dentist was not a difficult task. But 52 years is a long time, Doc Speer thinks.

He recalls he was the only dentist for six counties in three states—Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia—when he opened his practice.

AUXILIARY PLANS PROGRESS SERIES

Baby Show, Clinic Will Be Included; Begins On May 25

The ladies' auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans has scheduled a series of programs to be known as "A Festival of Progress," Mrs. Stella Courtney, president of the auxiliary, announced Saturday.

The series will include a prize baby show, free baby clinic, beautiful baby review and a historical pageant entitled "The Spirit of America," Mrs. Courtney said.

Entries for the baby events are being made at 122 DeSiard street, where registration hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. No entry fees are charged and every baby registered will be given a thorough physical examination free, Mrs. Courtney stated.

Loving cups and other prizes will be awarded to the winning babies in four divisions: Health, handsome boys, pretty girls, and grand champion babies.

The presentation of the historical pageant has been set for May 25. Outstanding events in American history will be portrayed through the media of dances and musical tableaux, Mrs. Courtney said. A queen of progress will be chosen from the cast, together with ladies of her court. Young women chosen for the positions will receive gifts of jewelry. Rehearsals for the pageant are already under way.

Mayhap You'd Like Some Mayhaw Jelly--Here's How

With mayhaws practically cluttering up the countryside at this time of the year, some of the more ambitious housewives will probably want to make some jelly.

Now when grandma started out to make jelly in the good old days, sometimes it "jelled" and sometimes it didn't. And it was all because she didn't know about a necessary little article called pectin.

The agricultural extension division at Louisiana State university has published some very enlightening material on this bugaboo of jelly-makers and Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller, parish home demonstration agent, adds a personal touch or two. The combination is unbeatable.

Since this is mayhaw season let's take a lesson in making mayhaw jelly, not forgetting that pectin stuff. The function of pectin is to form a base for the sugar, the other solids and some water. If too much sugar is added, the pectin base is distended, and a syrupy, sticky product results. If too little sugar is used, the pectin base contracts and a tough, hard jelly results. Now do you see the trouble this pectin can cause?

The first step in making jelly is to first make a jelly stock. To make mayhaw jelly stock wash and sort the mayhaws, barely cover with water, cook slowly in a covered vessel until tender, then strain, pour into sterilized jars, process for 20 minutes, seal and store until ready to make jelly.

After you've rested a while and feel like getting your jelly-making over with, open the jars of jelly stock and roll up your sleeves. But don't add any sugar yet. Let's settle this pectin business first. There are several ways to test jelly stock to determine the amount of pectin present, but we'll only study one or two.

Although pectin is soluble in water, it is unsoluble in alcohol, so alcohol may be used to determine the amount of pectin present. Into a glass or cup pour one tablespoon of alcohol (95 per cent pure). Into this pour gently one tablespoon of the jelly stock. Mix by moving gently from side to side. Let stand for one minute and pour slowly into a saucer. If the pectin has formed a solid unbroken mass, it will be safe to use measure for measure of sugar and juice. If it forms a good precipitate but is slightly broken, use only three-fourths cup of sugar to one cup of juice. But if the precipitate is quite broken, use only one-half cup of sugar to one cup of juice.

If you don't allow alcohol in your home, a fairly accurate test for pectin may be made with epsom salts. Mix one-half teaspoon sugar with one teaspoon of jelly stock, then add one-fourth teaspoon of epsom salts and stir until all is dissolved. Let stand for five minutes. If the mixture sets into jelly, the juice will jell readily and may be sweetened and boiled at once, cooking rapidly until it will flake from the edge of a spoon. In testing, if the epsom salts mixture fails to set in a solid sheet of jelly within five minutes, then the juice needs to be concentrated by boiling it before it is sweetened, or pectin may be added. If the mixture treated sets into a solid jelly, equal measures of sugar and fruit juice should be used in jelly-making. If the mixture is not solid, less sugar should be used.

Now you're ready to make the jelly. The standard recipe calls for (1) four cups of mayhaw jelly stock, and (2) three or four cups of sugar (don't forget that pectin test). Strain the jelly stock, bring to a boil, skim and add sugar. Cook rapidly at 222 degrees Fahrenheit until it flakes from the spoon.

Now all you have to do is pour the syrup into clean glasses, cover with tin covers until cool, then remove the covers, seal the glasses with paraffin, dry out the inside of the tin covers and replace on glasses.

"There's nothing to it, really," says Mrs. McQuiller.

QUICK STAIN ACTION

After five minutes rub off with a soft cloth and apply furniture polish. This prompt treatment will save you lots of work and expense later on.

BUT I TELL YA I GOTTA GIT A COMPARTMUNT 'ER EVEN I'LL TAKE A LOWER BERTH ON TH' CHICAGO TRAIN.
I'M SORRY SIR NOT ONE LEFT. NOT EVEN AN UPPER. YOU'LL HAVE TO RIDE IN A DAY-COACH--PARDON ME A SECOND.
DING-A-LING!
HELLO--YES MR. GRUNTTE YES--WE'LL HOLD YOUR COMPARTMENT TILL EIGHT O'CLOCK. YOU CAN PICK IT UP THEN.
OH OH
LOOK BUSHKY--TAKE THIS DOUGH AN' GO TO TH' CENTRAL TICKET OFFICE AN' BZZZ BZZZ BZZZ.
OKAY KNOBBY--IT'S AS GOOD AS POIPATRATED.
BUT I'M MR. GRUNTTE AND I TELL YOU I DID NOT PICK UP MY RESERVATION.
THEN IT'S JUST A COINCIDENCE SIR. ANOTHER MR. GRUNTTE CAME HERE AND PICKED IT UP. IT'S JUST ONE OF THOSE THINGS.
SOUNDS MIGHTY QUEER---BUT I SUPPOSE IT'S POSSIBLE---WHAT WAS THE NUMBER OF MY RESERVATION?
IT WAS 'A' IN CAR 36.
HAW! HAW! I SHOULD SIT UP ALL NIGHT!! THERE WASN'T NOTHIN' CROOKED ABOUT IT. NO WONDER I'M TH' SUCCESS I AM. WAIT TILL I TELL JOE. HAW! HAW! HEE!
THE NEXT MORNING
OOOH--MY BACK
GUESS I'M SILLY FROM BEING AWAKE ALL NIGHT--BUT I NEVER HEARD OF ANOTHER GRUNTTE--HMMM---I WONDER--- OH--IT'S POSSIBLE---GUESS I'LL FORGET AND HAVE SOME BREAKFAST.
WHY KNOBBY WALSH. HOW ARE YOU? SIT DOWN AND HAVE BREAKFAST AT MY TABLE.
HULLO TED. THANKS. DON'T MIND IF I DO.
HA! HA!--AN' THIS GUY GRUNTTE--HOW HE MUST BE CUSSIN'. SILLY MONICKER GRUNTTE ANYHOW. HOW COULD TWO GUYS HAVE THAT NAME. HA! HA!
D'POHTAH WANTS T'KNOW IF D'BAGS IN "A" CAH 36 IS READY SUH. WE'LL BE IN CHICAGO IN TEN MINUTES.
NO--TELL 'IM I GOTTA PUT SOME PAPERS IN YET. I'LL BE RIGHT IN.
NEVER MIND MY ORDER. I'VE CHANGED MY MIND.
PARDON ME--I'D LOVE TO MEET YOU--I'M MR. GRUNTTE WE MUST BE RELATIVES--HEH! HEH!!

NOT QUITE BURIED, YOUNG MISTER SUN GOD! MY MEN AND I FOUND AN EXIT AND BROUGHT OUT PLENTY OF LOOT WITH US!
WHY DID YOU WAIT FOR US TO BOARD THE SHIP, YOU ROTTER?
SURELY, IT WASN'T YOUR KINDLY HEART THAT PROMPTED SUCH ACTION-
I'LL TELL YA WHY IN DUE TIME, CAPTAIN TOM MERRY-AND, IN THE MEANTIME, WATCH YOUR WORDS, OR I'LL SILENCE THAT INSOLENT TONGUE O' YOURS FOREVER!!!
I SCOUTED YOUR MOVEMENTS-AN' WHEN I WAS SATISFIED THAT YOU WERE SAFELY ON YOUR WAY TO THE SHIP, MY OWN MEN AND I SCOOTED ON AHEAD O' YA-THANKS TO YOUR EXCELLENT MAPS, PROFESSOR-YOU THIEF!
AND NOW, CAPTAIN TOM-THE REAL REASON WE WAITED FOR YA TO BOARD SHIP IS THIS-WE NEED YOUR VALUABLE SERVICES TO NAVIGATE THIS SCOW!!!
I'LL TAKE NO ORDERS FROM YOU NOR ANY OTHER CRIMINAL-I'M MASTER OF THIS VESSEL!
IF YA VALUE THE LIVES OF YOUR PRECIOUS PROFESSOR AN' THOSE TWO KIDS, YA'LL DO JUST AS I SAY!!!
HE MEANS BUSINESS, TOM! DON'T ANGER HIM FOR THE SAKE OF THE YOUNGSTERS!
VERY WELL, PROF. NESTOR-FOR THEIR SAKES, I'LL DO HIS BIDDING-
NOW YOU'RE TALKIN', CAPTAIN! ALL RIGHT-PICK UP YOUR DUFFLE-THE REST O' YA-YOU'RE GOIN' BELOW!!
HERE'S YOUR LITTLE HOME, FOLKS-IT'S NEAT BUT NOT GAUDY-MAKE YOURSELVES AT HOME, AN' REMEMBER YOUR HEALTH DEPENDS ON THE BEHAVIOR O' CAPTAIN TOM MERRY!
Y-YOU CAN'T KEEP US HERE LIKE RATS-THERE AREN'T EVEN ANY BUNKS TO SLEEP ON!
WELL!! AIN'T THAT TOO BAD! WHY DON'T YOU TRY TO THINK YOUR WAY OUT O' THIS, GREAT SOLTAN!?
YOU WAIT TILL MY UNCLE BIM GUMP HEARS ABOUT THIS!
BIM GUMP, THE BILLIONAIRE? DID YOU SAY BIM GUMP?
YES!! HE'LL FIX YOU!!
SH-H! CHESTER!
KEEP OUT O' THIS, YOU OLD GOAT! SO BIM GUMP IS YOUR UNCLE, EH, KID?
WELL-L-THAT GIVES ME IDEAS!

NOW DON'T START SQUAWKING, HONEYBUNCH. YES, I WAS PLAYING POKER AND YOU KNOW HOW IT IS. YOU LOSE ONE DAY AND WIN THE NEXT.
YAS, AND YOU NEVER WILL HAVE SENSE ENOUGH TO PLAY EVERY OTHER DAY.
LAST NIGHT, SUGAR, I ADMIT THE BOYS DID TAKE ME TO THE CLEANERS.
THAT'S ANCIENT HISTORY! I ALREADY HAPPEN TO KNOW YOU COULDN'T OF BEEN VERY DIRTY TO-NIGHT.
WELL- I DID BORROW ABOUT THREE OR FOUR DOLLARS OUT OF YOUR PIG BANK.
YOU DID?
POW!!
OH OH!
AND YOU LOST THAT?
FROM WHAT I OVERHEARD, OFFICER, IF THEY AIN'T A MURDER IN THERE MY EARS IS DOIN' ME DIRT!
WHERE?
WELL, I'LL BE A SONOVA GUN!
WILLIE, MY DEAR, YOU'RE WONDERFUL!
I THINK I AM, TOO. WINNING US $27.45 SUGAR!
I'LL BE RIGHT BACK.
